No. 145.—Notification.—In exercise of the power conferred on him by sections 99 and 78 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to make the following rules and to fix the undermentioned rates to be charged for water supplied from the Saran Canals during the kharif season of 1897-98.

A. D. MCARTHUR, Colonel, R.E.,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

IN Notification No. 110 of the 9th August 1880, issued under the provision of Act III of 1876, Government reserved to itself the rights of property in the water of the river channels known as the Daha, the Dhanai, the Gandaki and the Gangri, and their appendant tributaries, including the Rupan Chap Sota.

2. The revenue administration of the Saran Canals is vested in the Superintending Engineer of the Sone Circle. The Executive Engineer of the Gandak Division is, as Canal Officer under the Irrigation Act [III (B.C.) of 1876], charged with the proper maintenance and management of the canals, and with the control of the supply of water in them. All orders passed by him, or by the Subdivisional Canal Officer, are under the terms of that Act subject to correction on appeal to the Collector of Saran.

3. The following rules will be applicable to all irrigation effected from the Saran Canals in the kharif season of 1897-98.

4. Any person who wishes to make bunds in the canals must obtain the written permission of the Canal Subdivisional Officer before doing so.

5. Any person who constructs bunds in the canals, who interferes with the supply of water in them, or who takes water from them without the written permission of a duly authorised person, will render himself liable to the penalties defined in the Irrigation Act.

6. Any person who requires water from the channels of the Saran Canals must apply either to (a) the Patrol, (b) the Sectional Officer, or (c) the Subdivisional Canal Officer, who will take his signature on the Form A attached. If the application is approved, the Canal Subdivisional or Sectional Officer (all of whom are hereby empowered in that behalf) wil grant a permit for irrigation in Form B.

7. Any person who holds a permit in Form B will be allowed to take canal water for irrigation, and he will be charged for it at the rates detailed in the following schedule :—

Schedule of rates for irrigation.

	Rs. A. P.
For bhadoi or rice crops irrigated between the 1st June and 25th of October	1 8 0

These rates apply equally to irrigation by lift and flow.

8. Persons who take water from any of the river channels named in rule I, without a permit in Form B, and persons who waste the water, are liable to be charged water-rates, under sections 79 and 80 of the Irrigation Act, at rates which shall be fixed by the Subdivisional Canal Officer, but which shall not be greater than twice the rate which would have been payable for licensed irrigation.

9. All water-rates assessed under rule 7 will be due on the 15th of December.

Water-rates assessed under rule 8 will be due as soon as the demand statement has been prepared.

10. The demand statements for water-rates due will be sent to the Collector as soon as possible after the irrigation in any village is completed, and a parcha, showing the area and amount assessed against each cultivator, will be sent to the rate-payer as soon as possible.

11. Any claim for remission of water-rates under section 76 (b), or for compensation under section 76 (c) of the Irrigation Act, must be presented in writing to the Subdivisional Canal Officer at least twenty days before the crop is cut. The Subdivisional Canal Officer shall, after such enquiry as he may consider necessary, pass orders on the application. Any application for remission presented direct to the Collector must be forwarded for the orders of the Canal Officer.

12. Objections to the demand statements must be presented within thirty days of the date on which the parcha is issued by the Subdivisional Canal Officer. He will pass orders on such objections.

13. Any person who is not satisfied with an order passed by the Subdivisional Canal Officer may appeal to the Collector under section 91 of the Irrigation Act. Such appeal must be accompanied by a copy of the order appealed against, and it must be submitted to the Collector within thirty days of the date of the order.

14. Remission statements must be signed by the Divisional Canal Officer. Any statement so signed shall be sufficient authority for a refund by the Collector.

15. No guarantee can be given either as to the volume or duration of the supply or of the delivery of any quantity of water at any particular point of any canal.

16. The Canal Officer will regulate the water passing into, and along, any canal to the best of his ability to meet requirements. If there is any difficulty in supplying all the channels, the Canal Officer will endeavour to divide the available supply as fairly as possible. The Canal Officer shall have complete control of the distribution of water.

Article 4.—A steam ship, when towing another ship shall, in addition to her side lights, carry two bright white lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 3 feet apart, so as to distinguish her from other steam ships. Each of these lights shall be of the same construction and character, and shall be carried in the same position, as the white light which other steam ships are required to carry.

Article 5 (a).—A ship, whether a steam ship or a sailing ship, which from any accident is not under command, shall at night carry in the same position as the white light which steam ships are required to carry, and, if a steam ship, in place of that light, three red lights in globular lanterns, each not less than 10 inches in diameter, in a vertical line one over the other not less than three feet apart, and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night with a clear atmosphere at a distance of at least two miles; and shall by day carry in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart, in front of but not lower than her foremast head, three black balls or shapes, each two feet in diameter.

(b) A ship, whether a steam ship or sailing ship employed in laying or in picking up a telegraph cable, shall at night carry in the same position as the white light which steam ships are required to carry, and if a steam ship, in place of that light, three lights in globular lanterns each not less than 10 inches in diameter, in vertical line over one another, not less than 6 feet apart; the highest and lowest of these lights shall be red, and the middle light shall be white, and they shall be of such a character that the red lights shall be visible at the same distance as the white light. By day she shall carry in a vertical line one over the other not less than six feet apart, in front of but not lower than her foremast head, three shapes not less than two feet in diameter, of which the top and bottom shall be globular in shape and red in colour, and the middle one diamond in shape and white.

(c) The ships referred to in this Article, when not making any way through the water, shall not carry the side lights, but when making way shall carry them.

(d) The lights and shapes required to be shown by this Article are to be taken by other ships as signals that the ship showing them is not under command, and cannot therefore get out of the way. The signals to be made by ships in distress and requiring assistance are contained in Article 27.

Article 6.—A sailing ship under way or being towed shall carry the same lights as are provided by Article 3 for a steam ship under way, with the exception of the white light, which she shall never carry.

Article 7.—Whenever, as in the case of small vessels during bad weather, the green and red side lights cannot be fixed, these lights shall be kept on deck, on their respective sides of the vessel, ready for use; and shall, on the approach of or to other vessels, be exhibited on their respective sides in sufficient time to prevent collision, in such manner as to make them most visible, and so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side.

To make the use of these portable lights more certain and easy, the lanterns containing them shall each be painted outside with the colour of the light they respectively contain, and shall be provided with proper screens.

Article 8.—A ship, whether a steam ship or a sailing ship, when at anchor, shall carry, where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding 20 feet above the hull, a white light, in a globular lantern of not less than 8 inches in diameter, and so constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light visible all round the horizon, at a distance of at least one mile.

Article 9.—A pilot vessel, when engaged on her station on pilotage duty, shall not carry the light required for other vessels, but shall carry a white light at the masthead, visible all round the horizon, and shall also exhibit a flare-up light or flare-up lights at short intervals, which shall never exceed fifteen minutes.

A pilot vessel, when not engaged on her station on pilotage duty, shall carry lights similar to those of other ships.

Article 10.—Open boats and fishing vessels of less than 20 tons net registered tonnage, when under way and when not having their nets, trawls, dredges, or lines in the water, shall not be obliged to carry the coloured side lights; but every such boat and vessel shall in lieu thereof have ready at hand a lantern with a green glass on the one side, and a red glass on the other side, and on approaching to or being approached by another vessel such lantern shall be exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision, so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side.

The following portion of this Article applies only to fishing vessels and boats when in the sea off the coast of Europe lying north of Cape Finisterre:—

(a) All fishing vessels and fishing boats of 20 tons net registered tonnage, or upward, when under way and when not required by the following regulations in this Article to carry and show the lights therein named shall carry and show the same lights as other vessels under way.

(b) All vessels when engaged in fishing with drift nets shall exibit two white lights from any part of the vessel where they can be best seen. Such lights shall be placed so that the vertical distance between them shall be not less than 6 feet and not more than 10 feet; and so that the horizontal distance between them measured in a line with the keel of the vessel shall be not less than 5 feet and not more than 10 feet. The lower of these two lights shall be the more forward, and both of them shall be of such a character, and contained in lanterns of such construction as to show all round the horizon, on a dark night with a clear atmosphere, for a distance of not less than three miles.

(c) A vessel employed in line fishing with her lines out shall carry the same lights as a vessel when engaged in fishing with drift nets.

(d) If a vessel when fishing becomes stationary in consequence of her gear getting fast to a rock or other obstruction, she shall show the light and make the fog signal for a vessel at anchor.

(e) Fishing vessels and open boats may at any time use a flare-up in addition to the lights which they are by this Article required, to carry and show. All flare-up lights exhibited by a vessel when trawling dredging, or fishing with any kind of drag net shall be shown at the after part of the vessel, expecting that if the vessel is hanging by the stern to her trawl, dredge, or drag net, they shall be exhibited from the bow.

(f) Every fishing vessel and every open boat when at anchor between sunset and sunrise shall exhibit a white light visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least one mile.

(g) In fog, mist, or falling snow, a drift net vessel attached to her nets and a vessel when trawling, dredging or fishing with any kind of drag net, and a vessel employed in line fishing with her lines out, shall at intervals of not more than two minutes make a blast with her fog horn and ring her bell alternately.

Article 11. A ship which is being overtaken by another shall show from her stern to such last-mentioned ship a white light or a flare-up light.

Sound signals for fog, &c.

Article 12. A steam ship shall be provided with a steam whistle or other efficient steam sound signal, so placed that the sound may not be intercepted by any obstructions, and with an efficient fog horn to be sounded by a bellows or other mechanical means, and also with an efficient bell.* A sailing ship shall be provided with a similar fog horn and bell.

In fog, mist, or falling snow, whether by day or night, the signals described in this Article shall be used as follows; that is to say,—

(a) A steam ship under way shall make with her steam whistle, or other steam sound signal, at intervals of not more than two minutes, a prolonged blast.

(b) A sailing ship under way shall make with her fog horn, at intervals of not more than two minutes, when on the starboard tack one blast, when on the port tack two blasts in succession, and when with the wind abaft the beam three blasts in succession.

(c) A steam ship and a sailing ship, when not under way, shall at intervals of not more than two minutes ring the bell.

Speed of ships to be moderate in fog, &c.

Steering and Sailing Rules.

Article 14. When two sailing ships are approaching one another, so as to involve risk of collision, one of them shall keep out of the way of the other, as follows, viz.:—

(a) A ship which is running free shall keep out of the way of a ship which is close-hauled.

(b) A ship which is close-hauled on the port tack shall keep out of the way of a ship which is close-hauled on the starboard tack.

(c) When both are running free with the wind on different sides, the ship which has the wind on the port side shall keep out of the way of the other.

(d) When both are running free with the wind on the same side, the ship which is to windward shall keep out of the way of the ship which is to leeward.

(e) A ship which has the wind aft shall keep out of the way of the other ship.

Article 15. If two ships under steam are meeting end on, or nearly end on, so as to involve risk of collision, each shall alter her course to starboard, so that each may pass on the port side of the other.

This Article only applies to cases where ships are meeting end on, or nearly end on, in such a manner as to involve risk of collision, and does not apply to two ships which must, if both keep on their respective courses, pass clear of each other.

* In all cases where the Regulations require a bell to be used, a drum will be substituted on board Turkish vessels.

The only cases to which it does apply are, when each of the two ships is end on, or nearly end on, to the other; in other words, to cases in which, by day, each ship sees the masts of the other in a line, or nearly in a line with her own; and by night, to cases in which each ship is in such a position as to see both the side lights of the other.

It does not apply by day to cases in which a ship sees another ahead crossing her own course or by night to cases where the red light of one ship is opposed to the red light of the other or where the green light of one ship is opposed to the green light of the other, or where a red light without a green light, or a green light without a red light, is seen ahead, or where both green and red lights are seen anywhere but ahead.

Article 16. If two ships under steam are crossing so as to involve risk of collision, the ship which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way of the other.

Article 17. If two ships, one of which is a sailing ship and the other a steam ship, are proceeding in such directions as to involve risk of collision, the steam ship shall keep out of the way of the sailing ship.

Article 18. Every steam ship, when approaching another ship, so as to involve risk of collision, shall slacken her speed or stop and reverse, if necessary.

Article 19. In taking any course authorised or required by these regulations, a steam ship under way may indicate that course to any other ship which she has in sight by the following signals on her steam whistle, viz.—

One short blast to mean "I am directing my course to starboard."
Two short blasts to mean "I am directing my course to port."
Three short blasts to mean "I am going full speed astern."

The use of these signals is optional, but if they are used the course of the ship must be in accordance with the signal made.

Article 20. Notwithstanding anything contained in any preceding Article, every ship, whether a sailing ship or a steam ship, overtaking any other, shall keep out of the way of the overtaken ship.

Article 21. In narrow channels every steam ship shall, when it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of the fairway or mid-channel which lies on the starboard side of such ship.

Article 22. Where by the above rules one of two ships is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep her course.

Article 23. In obeying and construing these rules due regard shall be had to all dangers of navigation, and to any special circumstances which may render a departure from the above rules necessary in order to avoid immediate danger.

No ship under any circumstances to neglect proper precautions.

Article 24. Nothing in these rules shall exonerate any ship, or the owner, or master, or crew thereof, from the consequences of any neglect to carry lights or signals, or of any neglect to keep a proper look out, or of the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen, or by the special circumstances of the case.

Reservation of Rules for Harbours and Inland Navigation.

Article 25. Nothing in these rules shall interfere with the operation of a special rule, duly made by local authority, relative to the navigation of any harbour, river, or inland navigation.

Special lights for Squadrons and Convoys.

Article 26. Nothing in these rules shall interfere with the operation of any special rules made by the Government of any nation with respect to additional station and signal lights for two or more ships of war or for ships sailing under convoy.

Article 27. When a ship is in distress and requires assistance from other ships or from the shore, the following shall be the signals to be used or displayed by her, either together or separately, that is to say:

In the day time—

1. A gun fired at intervals of about a minute;
2. The International Code signal of distress indicated by N C;
3. The distant signal, consisting of a square flag, having either above or below it a ball, or anything resembling a ball.

At night—

1. A gun fired at intervals of about a minute;
2. Flames on the ship (as from a burning tar barrel, oil barrel, &c.);
3. Rockets or shells, throwing stars of any colour or description, fired one at a time, at short intervals.

AT THE COURT AT WINDSOR.

The 27th day of November 1896.

PRESENT:

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by Section 418 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, Her Majesty is empowered from time to time, on the joint recommendation of the Admiralty and the Board of Trade by Order in Council, to make regulations for preventing collisions at sea:

And whereas by Section 434 of the said Act Her Majesty is empowered from time to time by Order in Council to make rules as to signals of distress:

And whereas by an Order in Council dated the 11th day of August 1884, and expressed to be made in pursuance of the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862, and on the joint recommendation of the Admiralty and the Board of Trade, Her Majesty was pleased to direct that, on and after the first day of September 1884, the regulations contained in the Schedule thereto (being regulations for preventing collisions at sea and as to signals of distress) should be substituted for the regulations contained in the First Schedule to an Order in Council made under the same Act and on such joint recommendations as aforesaid and dated the 14th day of August 1879:

And whereas the Admiralty and the Board of Trade have jointly recommended to Her Majesty that the Regulations for preventing collisions at sea contained in the Schedule to the said Order in Council, dated the 11th day of August 1884, except the Article numbered 10 in such Regulations, should, on and after the 1st day of July 1897, be annulled, and that the Regulations for Preventing Collisions at Sea contained in Schedule I hereto annexed should, on and after the last-mentioned date, be substituted therefor, with the exception aforesaid and come into operation as regards British ships and boats:

And whereas it has been made to appear to Her Majesty that it is expedient that the Regulations or Rules as to signals of distress contained in the Schedule to the said Order in Council, dated the 11th day of August 1884, should, on and after the said first day of July 1897, be annulled, and that the rules as to signals of distress contained in Schedule II hereto annexed should, on and after the last-mentioned date, be substituted therefor and come into operation as regards British ships and boats:

And whereas the provisions of section one of the Rules Publication Act, 1893, have been complied with:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue of the power vested in Her by section 418 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, and on the joint recommendation of the Admiralty and the Board of Trade, and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to direct that, on and after the 1st day of July 1897, the Regulations for Preventing Collisions at Sea contained in the Schedule to the said Order in Council, dated the 11th day of August 1884, except the Article numbered 10 in such Regulations, shall be annulled, and the Regulations for Preventing Collisions at Sea contained in Schedule I hereto annexed shall be substituted therefor (with the exception aforesaid) and come into operation as regards British ships and boats:

And Her Majesty is further pleased, by virtue of the power vested in Her by section 434 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to direct that, on and after the 1st day of July 1897, the Regulations or Rules as to signals of distress contained in the Schedule to the said Order in Council dated the 11th day of August 1884, shall be annulled and the rules as to signals of distress contained in Schedule II hereto annexed shall be substituted therefor and come into operation as regards British ships and boats.

C. L. PEEL.

SCHEDULE I.

Preliminary.

These Rules shall be followed by all vessels upon the high seas and in all waters connected therewith, navigable by sea-going vessels.

In the following rules every steam vessel which is under sail and not under steam is to be considered a sailing vessel, and every vessel under steam, whether under sail or not, is to be considered a steam vessel.

The word "steam vessel" shall include any vessel propelled by machinery.

A vessel is "under way" within the meaning of these Rules, when she is not at anchor, or made fast to the shore or aground.

Rules concerning Lights, &c.

The word "visible" in these Rules, when applied to lights, shall mean visible on a dark night with clear atmosphere.

Article 1.—The Rules concerning lights shall be complied with in all weathers from sunset to sunrise and during such time no other lights which may be mistaken for the prescribed lights shall be exhibited.

Article 2.—A steam vessel when under way shall carry—

(a) On or in front of the foremast, or if a vessel without a foremast, then in the fore part of the vessel, at a height above the hull of not less than 20 feet, and if the breadth of the vessel exceeds 20 feet, then at a height above the hull not less than such breadth, so, however, that the light need not be carried at a greater height above the hull than 40 feet, a bright white light, so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light 10 points on each side of the vessel, viz., from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on either side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 5 miles.

(b) On the starboard side a green light so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on the starboard side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(c) On the port side a red light so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the port side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(d) The said green and red side-lights shall be fitted with inboard screens projecting at least 3 feet forward from the light, so as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

(e) A steam vessel when under way may carry an additional white light similar in construction to the light mentioned in subdivision (a). These two lights shall be so placed in line with the keel that one shall be at least 15 feet higher than the other, and in such a position with reference to each other that the lower light shall be forward of the upper one. The vertical distance between these lights shall be less than the horizontal distance.

Article 3.—A steam vessel when towing another vessel shall, in addition to her side-lights, carry two bright white lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart, and when towing more than one vessel shall carry an additional bright white light 6 feet above or below such lights, if the length of the tow, measuring from the stern of the towing vessel to the stern of the last vessel towed exceeds 600 feet. Each of these lights shall be of the same construction and character, and shall be carried in the same position as the white light mentioned in Article 2 (a), except the additional light, which may be carried at a height of not less than 14 feet above the hull.

Such steam vessel may carry a small white light abaft the funnel or aftermast for the vessel towed to steer by, but such light shall not be visible forward of the beam.

Article 4 (a).—A vessel which from any accident is not under command shall carry at the same height as the white light mentioned in Article 2 (a), where they can best be seen, and, if a steam vessel, in lieu of that light two red lights, in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart, and of such a character as to be visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least 2 miles, and shall by day carry in a vertical line one over the other not less than 6 feet apart, where they can best be seen, two black balls or shapes each 2 feet in diameter.

(b) A vessel employed in laying or in picking up a telegraph cable shall carry in the same position as the white light mentioned in Article 2 (a), and if a steam vessel, in lieu of that light, three lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart. The highest and lowest of these lights shall be red, and the middle light shall be white, and they shall be of such a character as to be visible all round the horizon, at a distance of at least 2 miles. By day she shall carry in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart, where they can best be seen, three shapes not less than 2 feet in diameter, of which the highest and lowest shall be globular in shape and red in colour, and the middle one diamond in shape and white.

(c) The vessels referred to in this Article, when not making way through the water, shall not carry the side lights, but when making way shall carry them.

(d) The lights and shapes required to be shown by this Article are to be taken by other vessels as signal that the vessel showing them is not under command and cannot therefore get out of the way.

These signals are not signals of vessels in distress and requiring assistance. Such signals are contained in Article 31.

Article 5.—A sailing vessel under way, and any vessel being towed, shall carry the same lights as are prescribed by Article 2 for a steam vessel under way, with the exception of the white lights mentioned therein which they shall never carry.

Article 6.—Whenever, as in the case of small vessels under way during bad weather, the green and red side-lights cannot be fixed, these lights shall be kept at hand lighted and ready for use; and shall, on the approach of or to other vessels, be exhibited on their respective sides in sufficient time to prevent collision, in such manner as to make them most visible, and so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side, nor, if practicable, more than 2 points abaft the beam on their respective sides.

To make the use of these portable lights more certain and easy, the lanterns containing them shall each be painted outside with the colour of the light they respectively contain, and shall be provided with proper screens.

Article 7.—Steam vessels of less than 40, and vessels under oars or sails of less than 20 tons gross tonnage, respectively, and rowing boats, when underway, shall not be obliged to carry the lights mentioned in Article 2 (a) (b) and (c), but if they do not carry them, they shall be provided with the following lights:—

1. Steam vessels of less than 40 tons shall carry:

(a) In the fore part of the vessel, or on or in front of the funnel where it can best be seen, and at a height above the gunwale of not less than 9 feet, a bright white light constructed and fixed as prescribed in Article 2 (a), and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(b) Green and red side-lights constructed and fixed as prescribed in Article 2 (b) and (c), and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 1 mile, or a combined lantern showing a green light and a red light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on their respective sides. Such lantern shall be carried not less than 3 feet below the white light.

2. Small steamboats, such as are carried by sea-going vessels, may carry the white light at a less height than 9 feet above the gunwale, but it shall be carried above the combined lantern, mentioned in subdivision 1 (b).

3. Vessels under oars or sails, of less than 20 tons, shall have ready at hand a lantern with a green glass on one side and a red glass on the other, which, on the approach of or two other vessels, shall be exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision, so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side.

4. Rowing boats, whether under oars, or sail, shall have ready at hand a lantern showing a white light, which shall be temporarily exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision.

The vessels referred to in this Article shall not be obliged to carry the lights prescribed by Article 4 (a) and Article 11, last paragraph.

Article 8.—Pilot vessels, when engaged on their station on pilotage duty shall not show the lights required for other vessels, but shall carry a white light at the masthead, visible all round the horizon, and shall also exhibit a flare-up light or flare-up lights at short intervals, which shall never exceed 15 minutes.

On the near approach of or to other vessels they shall have their side-lights lighted, ready for use, and shall flash or show them at short intervals, to indicate the direction in which they are heading, but the green light shall not be shown on the port side, nor the red light on the starboard side.

A pilot-vessel of such a class as to be obliged to go alongside of a vessel to put a pilot on board, may show the white light instead of carrying it at the masthead, and may, instead of the coloured lights above mentioned, have at hand ready for use a lantern with a green glass on the one side and a red glass on the other, to be used as prescribed above.

Pilot vessels, when not engaged on their station on pilotage duty, shall carry lights similar to those of other vessels of their tonnage.

*Article 9.

Article 10.—A vessel which is being overtaken by another shall show from her stern to such last-mentioned vessel a white light or a flare-up light.

The white light required to be shown by this Article may be fixed and carried in a lantern, but in such case the lantern shall be so constructed, fitted, and screened that it shall throw an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 12 points of the compass, viz., for 6 points from right aft on each side of the vessel, so as to be visible at a distance of at least 1 mile. Such light shall be carried as nearly as practicable on the same level as the side-lights.

Article 11.—A vessel under 150 feet in lenght, when at anchor, shall carry forward, where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding 20 feet above the hull, a white light in a lantern as constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least 1 mile.

A vessel of 150 feet or upwards in length, when at anchor, shall carry in the forward part of the vessel, at a height of not less than 20, and not exceeding 40 feet above the hull, one such light and at or near the stern of the vessel, and at such a height that it shall be not less than 15 feet lower than the forward light, another such light.

The length of a vessel shall be deemed to be the length appearing in her certificate of registry.

A vessel aground in or near a fairway shall carry the above light or lights and the two red lights prescribed by Article 4 (a).

Article 12.—Every vessel may, if necessary in order to attract attention, in addition to the lights which she is by these Rules required to carry, show a flare-up light or use any detonating signal that cannot be mistaken for a distress signal.

Article 13.—Nothing in these Rules shall interfere with the operation of any special rules made by the Government of any nation with respect to additional station and signal lights for two or more ships of war or for vessels sailing under convoy, or with the exhibition of recognition signals adopted by shipowners, which have been authorized by their respective Governments and duly registered and published.

* This Article will deal with regulations affecting fishing boats, and will be the subject of another Order, which will be submitted to Her Majesty for approval at a later date.

Article 14.—A steam vessel proceeding under sail only, but having her funnel up, shall carry in daytime, forward, where it can best be seen, one black ball or shape 2 feet in diameter.

Sound-signals for Fog, etc.

Article 15.—All signals prescribed by this Article for vessels under way shall be given :

1. By "steam vessels" on the whistle or siren.
2. By "sailing vessels and vessels towed" on the fog-horn.

The words "prolonged blast" used in this Article, shall mean a blast of from 4 to 6 seconds' duration.

A steam vessel shall be provided with an efficient whistle or siren, sounded by steam or some substitute for steam, so placed that the sound may not be intercepted by any obstruction, and with an efficient fog-horn, to be sounded by mechanical means, and also with an efficient bell.* A sailing vessel of 20 tons gross tonnage or upwards shall be provided with a similar fog-horn and bell.

In fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain storms, whether by day or night, the signals described in this Article shall be used as follows, viz. :—

(a) A steam vessel having way upon her, shall sound, at intervals of not more than 2 minutes, a prolonged blast.

(b) A steam vessel under way, but stopped and having no way upon her, shall sound at intervals of not more than 2 minutes, 2 prolonged blasts, with an interval of about 1 second between them.

(c) A sailing vessel under way shall sound, at intervals of not more than 1 minute, when on the starboard tack one blast, when on the port tack two blasts in succession, and when with the wind abaft the beam three blasts in succession.

(d) A vessel, when at anchor, shall, at intervals of not more than 1 minute, ring the bell rapidly for about 5 seconds.

(e) A vessel, when towing a vessel employed in laying or in picking up a telegraph cable, and a vessel under way, which is unable to get out of the way of an approaching vessel through being not under command, or unable to manœuvre as required by these Rules, shall, instead of the signals prescribed in sub-divisions (a) and (c) of the Article, at intervals of not more than 2 minutes, sound three blasts in succession, viz., one prolonged blast followed by two short blasts. A vessel towed may give this signal and she shall not give any other.

Sailing-vessels and boats of less than 20 tons gross tonnage shall not be obliged to give the above-mentioned signals, but if they do not, they shall make some other efficient sound-signal at intervals of not more than 1 minute.

Speed of Ships to be Moderate in Fog, etc.

Article 16.—Every vessel shall, in a fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain-storms, go at a moderate speed having careful regard to the existing circumstances and conditions.

A steam vessel hearing, apparently forward of her beam, the fog-signal of a vessel the position of which is not ascertained, shall, so far as the circumstances of the case admit, stop her engines, and then navigate with caution until danger of collision is over.

Steering and Sailing Rules.

Preliminary—Risk of Collision.

Risk of collision can, when circumstances permit, be ascertained by carefully watching the compass bearing of an approaching vessel. If the bearing does not appreciably change, such risk should be deemed to exist.

Article 17.—When two sailing vessels are approching one another, so as to involve risk of collision, one of them shall keep out of the way of the other, as follows, viz:—

(a) A vessel which is running free shall keep out of the way of a vessel which is close-hauled.

(b) A vessel which is close hauled on the port tack shall keep out of the way of a vessel which is close-hauled on the starboard tack.

(c) When both are running free, with the wind on different sides, the vessel which has the wind on the port side shall keep out of the way of the other.

(d) When both are running free, with the wind on the same side, the vessel which is to windward shall keep out of the way of the vessel which is to leeward.

(e) A vessel which has the wind aft shall keep out of the way of the other vessel.

Article 18.—When two steam vessels are meeting end on, or nearly end on, so as to involve risk of collision, each shall alter her course to starboard, so that each may pass on the port side of the other.

This Article only applies to cases where vessels are meeting end on, or nearly end on, in such a manner as to involve risk of collision, and does not apply to two vessels which must, if both keep on their respective courses, pass clear of each other.

* In all cases where the Rules require a bell to be used, a drum may be substituted on board Turkish vessels, or a gong where such articles are used on board sea-going vessels.

The only cases to which it does apply are when each of the two vessels is end on, or nearly end on, to the other; in other words to cases in which, by day, each vessel sees the masts of the other in a line, or nearly in a line, with her own; and, by night, to cases in which each vessel is in such a position as to see both the side-lights of the other.

It does not apply, by day, to cases in which a vessel sees another ahead crossing her own course; or by night to cases where the red light of one vessel is opposed to the red light of the other, or where the green light of one vessel is opposed to the green light of the other, or where a red light without a green light, or a green light without a red light, is seen ahead, or where both green and red lights are seen any where but ahead.

Article 19.—When two steam vessels are crossing, so as to involve risk of collision, the vessel which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way of the other.

Article 20.—When a steam vessel and a sailing vessel are proceeding in such directions as to involve risk of collision, the steam vessel shall keep out of the way of the sailing vessel.

Article 21.—Where by any of the Rules one of two vessels is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep her course and speed.

Note.—When, in consequence of thick weather or other causes, such vessel finds herself so close that collision cannot be avoided by the action of the giving-way vessel alone, she also shall take such action as will best aid to avert collision. (See articles 27 and 29.)

Article 22.—Every vessel which is directed by these Rules to keep out of the way of another vessel shall, if the circumstances of the case admit, avoid crossing ahead of the other.

Article 23.—Every steam vessel, which is directed by these Rules to keep out of the way of another vessel shall on approaching her, if necessary, slacken her speed or stop or reverse.

Article 24.—Notwithstanding anything contained in these Rules, every vessel, overtaking any other, shall keep out of the way of the overtaken vessel.

Every vessel coming up with another vessel from any direction more than two points abaft her beam, i.e., in such a position, with reference to the vessel which she is overtaking, that at night she would be unable to see either of that vessel's side-lights, shall be deemed to be an overtaking vessel; and no subsequent alteration of the bearing between the two vessels shall make the overtaking vessel a crossing vessel within the meaning of these Rules, or relieve her of the duty of keeping clear of the overtaken vessel until she is finally past and clear.

As by day the overtaking vessel cannot always know with certainty whether she is forward of or abaft this direction from the other vessel, she should, if in doubt, assume that she is an overtaking vessel and keep out of the way.

Article 25.—In narrow channels every steam vessel shall, when it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of fair-way or mid channel which lies on the starboard side of such vessel.

Article 26.—Sailing vessels under way shall keep out of the way of sailing vessels or boats fishing with nets or lines, or trawls. This Rule shall not give to any vessel or boat engaged in fishing the right of obstructing a fairway used by vessels other than fishing-vessels or boats.

Article 27.—In obeying and construing these Rules, due regard shall be had to all dangers of navigation and collision, and to any special circumstances which may render a departure from the above rules necessary in order to avoid immediate danger.

Sound Signals for Vessels in Sight of one another.

Article 28.—The words "short blast" used in this Article shall mean a blast of about one seconds duration

When vessels are in sight of one another, a steam vessel under way, in taking any course authorized or required by these Rules, shall indicate that course by the following signals on her whistle or siren, viz.:—

One short blast to mean, "I am directing my course to starboard."
Two short blasts to mean, "I am directing my course to port."
Three short blasts to mean, "My engines are going full speed astern."

No Vessel under any Circumstances to neglect proper Precautions.

Article 29.—Nothing in these Rules shall exonerate any vessel, or the owner, or master, or crew, thereof, from the consequences of any neglect to carry lights or signals, or of any neglect to keep a proper look-out, or of the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen, or by the special circumstances of the case.

Reservation of Rules for Harbours and Inland Navigation.

Article 30.—Nothing in these Rules shall interfere with the operation of a special rule, duly made by local authority, relative to the navigation of any harbour, river, or inland waters.

SCHEDULE II.

Distress Signals.

Article 31.—When a vessel is in distress and requires assistance from other vessels or from the shore, the following shall be the signals to be used or displayed by her, either together or separately, viz.:—

In the day time—

1. A gun or other explosive signal fired at intervals of about a minute;
2. The International Code signal of distress indicated by N C;
3. The distance signal, consisting of a square flag, having either above or below it a ball or anything resembling a ball;
4. A continuous sounding with any fog-signal apparatus.

A night—

1. A gun or other explosive signal fired at intervals of about a minute;
2. Flames on the vessel (as from a burning tar-barrel, oil-barrel, etc.);
3. Rockets or shells, throwing stars of any colour or description, fired one at a time, at short intervals;
4. A continuous sounding with any fog-signal apparatus.

EDUCATIONAL PROSPECTUS.

THE Calcutta Medical College Session, 1897-98, will commence on the 14th June next. Students who may be desirous of commencing their studies are requested to apply to the Principal between the hours of 11 A.M. and 4 P.M. on or before 1st June.

Those students who may be selected are expected to enter formally and commence attendance at the College upon the 14th, and none will be admitted at any later date.

2. No person shall be enrolled as a matriculated student who has not previously passed the First Arts examination of the Calcutta or an Indian University, or a preliminary Arts examination of the United Kingdom recognised by the British General Medical Council.

3. All matriculated students of the College must pay Rs. 15 on entrance, Rs. 35 on the 1st June, and Rs. 35 on 1st November of each year. Rupees 6 extra will be required from each student for each course of dissections. Fees once paid cannot be refunded.

Muhammadan students are required to pay Rs. 15 on entrance and half fee, i.e. Rs. 17-8, per session. The remaining half fees are charged to the Mohsin Fund.

4. No free presentations will be awarded at the beginning of the session, but the fees shall be refunded to the 10 students who passed highest in all subjects at the end of their first year of study.

5. Any matriculated student of the College may, with the permission of the Principal and the Professor of the subject, attend courses of lectures or departments of hospital practice in addition to the full curriculum for the year, and shall be entitled to certificates of attendance at such extra lectures, if the Professor is satisfied that he or she has really studied the subject. The fees payable in advance for such additional courses are the following:—

	Rs.
For a single course of lectures on each subject in one year ...	40
For six months' attendance in each department of hospital practice ...	60

6. Any matriculated student who leaves the College before completing his University course, with the object of continuing his studies at a medical school in Europe, may receive certificates of attendance of lectures on payment of fees at the rate fixed in the foregoing rule. But in calculating the sum to be so paid, the amount of the fees already paid by him as a regular student, or, in the case of a free student, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student, shall be deducted.

7. Any person not being a matriculated student of the College who wishes to attend any course of lectures, or any department of hospital practice, may do so with the permission of the Principal and Professor of the subject on payment, in advance, of fees at the rates fixed in paragraph 5. If he has passed the Entrance examination of the University, he shall receive certificates of attendance at lectures. If he has not passed the Entrance examination, he shall receive no class certificates.

8. At the end of their first year, students will be required to pass a College test examination in Anatomy, Chemistry, and Botany. Those who gain not less than 20 per cent. in two subjects, and not less than 15 per cent. in a third, will be eligible for promotion to the second-year class. Those who fail to gain the aforesaid percentage of marks will not be eligible for promotion, but will go through the first-year class again.

9. Students of the second year will be required to pass a College test examination in Anatomy, Physiology, and Materia Medica. Those who pass the examination with 20 per cent. in two subjects and 15 per cent. in a third will be entitled to go up in the following March or April for the Preliminary Scientific Examination of the Calcutta University, the subjects of which are Chemistry and Botany. Those who (after passing the College test) fail at the University examination will be entitled, equally with those who pass it, to join the third-year class, at the end of which the former will have to present themselves, as at present, for the combined Preliminary Scientific and 1st L.M.S. (or 1st M.B.) examination.

10. Those students who fail at the College test examination of the second year will not be debarred from going up for the Preliminary Scientific examination, but will be encouraged to do so in order to get that stage over; but whether they pass or fail at the University examination, they will be relegated for a further year to the second-year class, provided that those who pass the University examination will not be required to attend the courses in those subjects in which they have passed.

11. Students of the third year will present themselves for the 1st L.M.S. or 1st M.B. examination of the Calcutta University. Those who fail at this examination will be relegated for a further year to the third-year class.

12. Students of the first or second-year class who fail a second time, at the same stage, to gain promotion to the next higher class, will be removed from the College and will not be entitled to re-admission. Third-year students who fail a second time will be liable to removal from the College; but if they are specially recommended by the Principal, they may again be relegated to the third-year class, on payment of the fees laid down in Rule 16, and re-admitted to the 1st L.M.S. or 1st M.B. examination, and this concession may be allowed for any number of years at the discretion of the Principal.

13. Students of the fourth-year class will be required to pass a College test examination in Surgery, Medicine, Midwifery, and Medical Jurisprudence. Those who pass the examination with 20 per cent. of the marks in three subjects, and 15 per cent. in a fourth, will be eligible for promotion to the fifth-year class. Those who fail will be relegated to the fourth-year class for a further year. The examination in Surgery and Medicine will be both theoretical and clinical; but those students who can obtain from the Visiting Surgeon or Physician, to whose wards they have been attached, a certificate that they have really profited by their instruction in either subject, will be exoused the clinical examination in that subject.

14. Students who fail at the 2nd L.M.S or 2nd M.B. examination will have to attend a further course of lectures in the subject or subjects in which they have failed, in accordance with the regulations of the University.

15. The Principal will determine the maximum number that may be admitted to the first-year class. Students who have failed at the test examination of the first-year will have a prior claim to re-admission over new students.

16. Students re-admitted to a class after failure at the test examination will be required to pay half the regular fee for the session (Rs. 35), but extra fees as for dissection (Rs. 6) in full. The half fee must be paid at the commencement of the session in June. Those, however, who, after failing either at the Preliminary Scientific Examination or at the final examination, have to attend a further course of lectures in the subject or subjects in which they failed, shall be required to pay for such lectures a fee of Rs. 20 for one subject, Rs. 30 for two, and Rs. 35 for three. Exceptions to this latter rule may be made in special cases by the Director of Public Instruction on the recommendation of the Principal.

17. College prizes and certificates of honour are open for competition to matriculated students of the College, military medical pupils, and female certificate classes. College scholarships (vide paragraph 18) are awarded only to matriculated students of the College.

18. Junior scholarships of Rs. 8 per mensem and free tuition for one year are annually awarded to ten students of the second year, on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of the first year.

Scholarships of the same value are awarded to ten students at the commencement of their third year, on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of their second year, provided they have passed either the Preliminary Scientific L.M.S. or M.B. examination.

Ten senior scholarships of Rs. 12 per mensem and free tuition are awarded annually to students at the commencement of their fourth year, on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of their third year, provided they have passed either the 1st L.M.S. or 1st M.B. examination. These scholarships are tenable for two years, provided the holder passes creditably the Test and Honour examinations at the end of his fourth year. In the event of any scholarship being forfeited under this condition, it may be awarded for one year to any student of the fifth year who has fulfilled the conditions and is not the holder of any scholarship. These scholarships shall not be awarded to students who have gained the Durga Charan Laha scholarship of Rs. 30 per mensem or any other scholarship.

Students who from any cause fail to pass their University examinations at their first chance are not eligible for any of these scholarships, either junior or senior.

19. The Goodeve scholarship of Rs. 12 per mensem, tenable for one year, is annually awarded to a matriculated student of the fifth year, on the result of the Midwifery test examination of the fourth year.

The F. C. Chatterjee scholarship of Rs. 15 per mensem, tenable for a year, is annually awarded to the best matriculated student of Native Indian extraction, and whose conduct is certified to be good, in histology at the end of the fourth year. The examination takes place in June each year.

The Abdul Gunny scholarship of Rs. 22 per mensem, tenable for one year, is annually awarded at the end of the fourth year to the best matriculated student in all subjects at the class examinations of the first to fourth year inclusive. The award is made in May.

The Duke of Edinburgh's prize is awarded to the best in Surgery among the matriculated students at the end of the fourth and fifth years. The examination takes place in December or January.

Imports. The improvement in the import trade of Chittagong was chiefly due to the receipts of 2,213 cwts. of rice from Burma and Madras, and of 423 cwts. of gram and pulse from Narayanganj against nil in the corresponding week of 1896.

Exports. Owing to the cessation of exports to both Foreign and Indian ports, the export trade of Chittagong, Narayanganj and Puri declined by 734 cwts., 514 cwts. and 10,506 cwts, respectively. Balasore also showed a falling off of 17,311 cwts., mainly on account of smaller shipments of rice and paddy to Calcutta, while the trade of Cuttack amounted to 50,556 cwts. against nil in the previous year.

Detailed statements showing the sources of supply and the places of destination, both as regards Foreign and Indian ports, are given below:—

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF MAY 1897.

THE chief features of the weather during May were:—

(1) Though pressure underwent large oscillations at times, it was on an average for the whole month below the normal over the greater part of the province, and more so in the west and north than in the south where readings were nearly normal. The greatest defect was ·03 inch in the west of Bihar, and the area of normal pressure included the Orissa and Bengal coasts.

(2) Temperature also underwent large oscillations, but of longer period than those of pressure, and the mean variations from the normal were almost the same for the day as for the night. Maximum temperature was at times very high in the west, and the average excess for the whole month was about 4° in the west of Bihar and Chota Nagpur, from which it diminished towards the east, there being defect in Assam and the adjacent part of North Bengal.

The highest maximum temperature in Bihar was 116°·3. in Chota Nagpur 114°·7, in South-West Bengal 112°·3, and in Orissa 108°·3, these values occurring about the 18th, 18th and 19th, 12th, and 10th respectively.

(3) Rainfall was much below the normal in all divisions except North Bengal, where there was excess of half an inch. Orissa received very little more than a third of the normal, Bihar and Chota Nagpur half, while in East Bengal there was defect of nearly 2 inches, and in South-West Bengal of more than one inch. The heaviest falls were 34 inches at Dhubri, 23 at Cooch Bihar, 14 at Sibsagar and 13 at Mymensingh.

(4) Weather was unusually settled over the Bay, and nothing of the nature of a storm occurred. One shallow depression developed in the east about the beginning of the month, and, as usual, moved north-eastward over Burma, leading to the commencement of the rainy season on the Burma coast. Another also of no great depth, but of much smaller extent appeared about the middle of the month and also moved over Burma. In a diffused form it moved northwards into Bengal, causing low pressure over the province for some days and strong winds in the north of the Bay. On the other hand the pressure gradient was steeper than usual for a considerable time over the province and the north of the Bay, and gave rise to strong southerly and easterly winds which continued till the end of the month.

At the beginning of the month the pressure distribution was much more uniform than usual and readings were highest in Assam and North Bengal. This arrangement was followed by easterly or north-easterly winds over a great part of the province and thunderstorms were fairly frequent. Temperature was about 2° above the normal except in the south-western districts, where there was a considerable defect owing to rainfall being more general there. On the 2nd pressure fell slowly over the Bay, in Assam and in the greater part of Bengal; and as there was a rise elsewhere increasing towards the west, the low pressure area over the Bay became better defined. It was still, however, very diffused and gave rise to only an irregular arrangement of cyclonic winds. Weather was more unsettled over the province; showers were more frequent, especially in South-West and North Bengal, and a large fall of temperature occurred in the west of the province, defect being as much as 14° in Chota Nagpur and 10° at most of the western stations. The depression moved towards the north-east during the following day; pressure fell most in Assam, and though showers were still falling in Bengal, temperature had begun to rise, defect on the 3rd varying from 2° in East Bengal to 11° in Chota Nagpur. On the 4th the low pressure area had almost disappeared from the Bay. The wind was still north-easterly at Diamond Island, but on the west coast the usual direction was south-west, and easterly winds were not so general at inland stations. Rainfall had almost ceased except in East Bengal and temperature was rising everywhere.

The change which had begun on the 4th was much more marked on the 5th, and resulted in a reversal of the pressure arrangement at the beginning of the month. A rapid fall of pressure in the western districts, with a slow fall over the Bay, gave a steeper gradient than usual over the whole province with lowest readings in the west of Bihar. Strong winds commenced in the north of the Bay, and heavy rain was for the first time reported from Burma stations. After a slow rise of pressure on the 6th in Bihar and a slow fall elsewhere, a shallow depression was shown over the province with the centre of the pressure distribution and the centre of wind circulation in South-West Bengal. On that day general rain fell except in the western districts, and temperature was somewhat lower in places; but as the depression moved northwards and became diffused along the foot of the hills, westerly winds became more general with rapidly rising temperature and very little rain except in the extreme east.

From the 8th to the 10th pressure remained low in the north, and westerly winds continued with an average temperature from 5° to 10° above the normal at nearly all stations On the 11th a recovery began in Assam and North Bengal, and the general conditions began to assume a more normal appearance.

During this period of intense heat over the province, rain had been falling, though not often in large quantity, in Burma, and temperature was below the normal by variable amounts up to 5°.

There was no change of importance on the 12th, but a rapid local rise of pressure occurred on the 13th in the central districts, the more extraordinary as, through it, a shallow depression in the east of the Bay became better defined and developed into a small cyclonic storm which passed into Burma on the 14th. The depth of the depression never exceeded a fifth of an inch. The sudden change of pressure on the 13th was accompanied by general rain in Bihar, especially in the west, where many stations received between ·5 and 2 inches, and the subsequent depression in Burma led to a renewal of the heavy rainfall on that coast. Temperature moderated, and excess was more than 5° in part of Lower Bengal and Chota Nagpur only.

From being practically normal on the 15th pressure fell rapidly over the province on the 16th, and the distribution of a few days before was restored. That is, the gradient was considerably steeper than usual with a moderate defect in Bengal and Bihar. Westerly winds were general in Orissa, Chota Nagpur and parts of South-West Bengal and South Bihar. As these winds penetrated eastward, temperature rose to between 5° and 10° above the normal. These conditions continued for several days with strengthening winds and high temperature over a widening area. On the 18th local storms began in the east and spread gradually westward, reaching Bihar on the 21st, but giving very little rain to Orissa and Chota Nagpur. Pressure was then rising, and the low temperature due to the local storms was extending to the west, but so slowly that a marked contrast was shown on the 19th, between the eastern and western stations. The difference from the normal mean temperature on that date varied from defect of 8° at Silchar to excess of 10° at Ranchi. During the 20th and 21st both pressure and temperature were becoming more normal, and the rainfall was confined to the north of the province and Assam.

From the 22nd to the end of the month pressure remained fairly steady, and the distribution was different from what had previously obtained. An area of high pressure was shown over the north and centre of the Bay with highest readings on the coast of the Circars, and at times there was high pressure in Bengal also. Towards the south the difference from the normal diminished most quickly with an occasional small defect in the south-west as shown by the observations at Ceylon stations. The changes of pressure were the usual small oscillations. The gradient was consequently not so steep as usual in the South of the Bay, and calm weather prevailed there. But in the north and over the province it remained steeper than usual and the strong winds were well maintained.

Showers were most frequent in North Bengal and Assam, and heavy falls were at times recorded, especially at Dhubri, where the total for the month is much heavier than at any of the other stations. They frequently spread westward, the dates on which rainfall was most general in the centre and west of the province being the 23rd, the 28th and 30th or 31st.

On the 31st pressure began to give way over Bengal, and the month ended with relatively high pressure everywhere though generally by small amounts.

Pressure underwent rather large changes during the early part of the month, especially over the province where the difference from the normal varied from excess of more than ·1 inch to defect of a similar amount. In the south of the Bay the distribution was much more steady, so that the reversal which occurred several times from greater or less uniformity as compared with the normal was due chiefly to changes over Bengal. The means for the month at inland stations were below the normal by small amounts greatest in Bihar.

Temperature was usually excessive in the western districts, and on only one occasion fell to any great extent below the normal. But in the eastern districts, where rain was more frequent and almost equal to that of a normal year, excess in temperature was only occasional and then of moderate amount. Mean excess was about 3° in Chota Nagpur and Bihar, 2° in Lower Bengal and Orissa, less than 1° in North Bengal, and there was defect of nearly 1° in Assam.

Night and day average temperatures differ from one another by very similar amounts when compared with the normal, excess for the latter being somewhat greater than for the former. Mean maximum excess varies from 5° in Chota Nagpur and 4° in the west of Bihar to less than 1° in North Bengal, and mean minimum excess from 3° in Chota Nagpur and the west of Bihar to about zero in the extreme north-east of the province. In Lower Bengal excess was between 1° and 3° in both cases, except at Chittagong and Noakhali, where excess was considerably greater than in other parts of East Bengal.

Rainfall.—Though thunder showers have been of frequent occurrence in all except the western districts, amounts were smaller than usual, and, consequently, the average falls are below the normal in all divisions, except North Bengal, which had practically the normal amount, a little under 10 inches. In Lower Bengal the total fall was about 80 per cent. of the normal. It was towards the west where defect became large compared with the normal, amounting in Bihar and Chota Nagpur to about 50 per cent. and in Orissa to more than 60 per cent.

The following table gives full data for comparison of the actual and normal rainfall of the month of May for all districts of the province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain-reporting stations in each district, due allowance being made for the area which each station represents. This gives a more accurate average than the arithmetical means given in the monthly tables. The first column gives the normal or average district rainfall as determined from the observations of the past 25 years. The second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfall of the month at the reporting stations in each district. The third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal rainfall as a percentage. The fourth column gives the same information as the third in a slightly different form, stating as a percentage how much the district rainfall of the month varied in excess or defect from the normal:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

THE following revised rules (1) for the care and use of Government cemeteries throughout India, except those in the Presidency Town of the Diocese of Calcutta and the Presidency Town of the Diocese of Bombay; (2) for the levy and expenditure of fees on graves and monuments in cemeteries and churches throughout India; (3) for the levy of other ecclesiastical fees; and (4) for regulating grants for the building of churches, compensation for accommodation for soldiers in chapels neither belonging to, nor rented by, Government, and for the supply of church furniture are published for general information and guidance:—

I.

Rules for the care and use of Government cemeteries throughout India, except those in the Presidency Town of the Diocese of Calcutta, and the Presidency Town of the Diocese of Bombay.

CHARGE OF THE CEMETERY.

RULE I.—(1) The Resident Chaplain of a station has charge of the general cemetery, and frames an estimate of the expenditure connected therewith in accordance with the directions contained in paragraph 1, Home Department* Resolution Nos. 6—370-382, dated 9th November 1876.

* Appendix A.

(2) The term "Resident Chaplain" includes a Clergyman of the Additional Clergy Society so far as concerns the stations to which he stands appointed, or other clergyman of the Church of England placed in charge by the Bishop.

(3) Where there are Lay Trustees or a Church Committee they will have the same powers and responsibilities in regard to the cemetery as in regard to the Church. At stations where there are no Trustees or Committee, if there is no Resident Chaplain or during the temporary absence of the Chaplain, the charge of the cemetery belongs to the Chief Magistrate on the spot, or the Senior Military Officer if the cemetery is attached to a military cantonment.

(4) At out-stations where there is a Church Committee the charge of the cemetery will belong to the Senior Member of the Committee, provided that if the station does not contain a church which is the property of the Government, the appointment of the Senior Member of the Committee to hold charge of the cemetery will be subject to the approval of the Bishop or Archdeacon who may, if he consider it advisable, appoint some other person to the charge. At outstations where there is no Church Committee the charge of the cemetery will belong to such person as may be nominated thereto from time to time by the Magistrate or Deputy Commissioner of the district, but subject to the control of such Magistrate or Deputy Commissioner.

RULE II.—Each cemetery is allowed a mali-chaukidar or chaukidars in accordance with the scale prescribed in paragraph 2, Home Department Resolution† Nos. 6—370-382, dated 9th November 1876. These chaukidars are paid by Government through the Resident Chaplain, by whom they are appointed and dismissed. In stations where there is no Resident Chaplain, the chaukidar are paid, appointed and dismissed by the other officers named in Rule I.

† Appendix A.

RULE III.—Every reasonable effort should be made by the Resident Chaplain or other officer in charge under Rule 1, not only to keep the cemetery in decent order, but to preserve its character as the resting-place of the remains of departed friends by providing for the necessary repairs and by planting the ground with suitable trees.

NOTE.—To meet the expenditure under this rule, see Rule I and paragraph 1 of Home Department Resolution* Nos. 6—370-382, dated 9th November 1876.

* Appendix A.

RULE IV.—The chaukidar will keep the key of the cemetery under the direction of the officer in charge.

RULE V.—The officer who has charge of the cemetery under the operation of Rule I will perform all the duties assigned to the Chaplain by Rules VII, VIII, IX, X, XI and XII, with the exception of the approval of designs of tombstones and of inscriptions to be cut on them. In the case of a tombstone in that part of the cemetery which is reserved for the Church of England, the proposed design and inscription must be forwarded to the Resident or Visiting Chaplain, or, if there be none, to the Archdeacon, and no action taken to erect the monument till his sanction has been obtained. In all other cases the design and inscription must be approved by the Minister of the particular denomination to which the deceased belonged. Should there be no Resident or Visiting Minister of that denomination, the inscription and design must be approved by the Senior Minister belonging to it in the province, or, if there be none, then by the Local Government or Administration. Should a design or inscription be disapproved, it may be referred, if those who are interested desire this, through the Ecclesiastical superior of the denomination concerned, to the Local Government or Administration for decision.

INTERMENTS BY WHOM TO BE CONDUCTED.

RULE VI.—(1) The Chaplain will bury Christians of all denominations whose friends desire his services as laid down in the orders of the Government of India in the Home Department,* No. 159, dated the 6th June 1877, using always the service of the Church of England and the consecrated portion of the cemetery.

* Appendix B.

(2) A portion of every cemetery will be set apart by the orders of Government for the use of Roman Catholic congregations, and another portion will be appropriated for the joint use of other Christians whose friends desire that they should be interred otherwise than according to the ritual of either the Church of England or of the Church of Rome, or who cannot legally be so interred.

(3) The unconsecrated portions thus set apart are not to be fenced or walled off from the rest of the cemetery, but simply divided off by a pathway, and they must be added to the existing cemetery or reserved from it. If the existing cemetery be large enough for the wants of the whole Christian community, such portions will be reserved without reference to the fact that the whole enclosure has or has not been consecrated according to the rights of the Church of England. If the cemetery be only large enough for the wants of Christians desiring to be buried with the service of the Church of England, such portions will be added. The whole cemetery thus divided is to be surrounded by a wall, to have but one gate of entrance, and to be under the care of the officer specified in Rule I.

RULE VII.—(1) Ministers of all denominations have a right to conduct the service of burial over the body of any deceased member of their respective congregations who may be buried in any fitting portion of the ground set apart for the denomination to which the deceased belonged. At least six hours' previous notice of the burial should be given to the Chaplain in charge of the burial-ground, or in the absence of the Chaplain, to the officer who may be in actual charge. The period herein prescribed may, for special reasons, be shortened with the permission of the Chaplain, or officer in charge of the cemetery. Such Chaplain or officer will, if he thinks the circumstances of the case demand it, bring the facts to the notice of the local Magisterial authorities in time to admit of an order stopping the burial being passed if necessary.

(2) In the cases in which the deceased was in the military or civil employment of Government and the death occurred in a military station, it is the duty of the Officer Commanding the Corps or Head of the Department concerned to inform the Minister of the denomination to which the deceased belonged, of the hour at which the funeral may be expected at the cemetery. This report is to be in addition to that required by Rule VII (1).

(3) A certificate of burial drawn up according to the required form must be sent to the Chaplain or to the Registrar of Births, Marriages, and Deaths, to be entered in the register kept up by him. The Officer Commanding the station or Regiment or the Local Head of the Department with which the deceased was connected is responsible for the submission of the certificate.

RULE VIII.—(1) No burial can, as a general rule, take place in that part of a Government cemetery which has been set apart for the use of members of the Church of England unless the service prescribed by that Church is read by the Chaplain, if there be one, or, in his absence, by the layman who officiates at the funeral. But a person may be interred in the other portions of a Government cemetery with or without the use of any services of religion.

(2) Where in that part of a Government cemetery which has been set apart for the use of members of the Church of England there is a family vault or grave, or a reserved plot of ground purchased by a member of the family, or a masonry grave prepared in immediate contiguity to such family vault or grave or reserved plot, any deceased member of a family may, if the relative, friend, or legal representative having charge of the funeral arrangements shall so desire, be interred in such family vault, grave, or reserved plot without the performance of the service for the burial of the dead according to the rites of the Church of England.

(3) The burial may take place at the option of the person having charge of the same either without any religious service or with such Christian and orderly religious service at the grave as such person shall think fit; and any person or persons who shall be thereunto invited, or be authorised by the person having charge of such burial, may conduct such service or take part in any religious act thereat.

(4) Notice of any burial which it is intended to conduct under the provisions of clauses (2) and (3) shall be given to the Chaplain or other officer in charge of the burial-ground in the manner prescribed by Rule VII.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR BURYING.

RULE IX.—Where there is a Resident Chaplain he is responsible for the arrangements for digging a grave and shall ordinarily arrange for the preparation of a coffin. Should he find or anticipate difficulty in making private arrangements for the preparation of a coffin, he should apply in military stations to the senior Military officer, and in civil stations to the chief local Magistrate to make the necessary arrangements; and these officers are authorized to direct any local Public Works officer to supply all that is necessary. The local Public Works officer would usually be the Executive Engineer of Military Works in military stations and the Civil Executive Engineer in civil stations; but the senior Military officer in a military station and the chief local Magistrate in a civil station may, in cases of emergency, direct the Civil Executive Engineer or the Military Works Executive Engineer, respectively, to make the necessary arrangements. The Resident Chaplain is in all such cases responsible that timely notice is given to the Government officers who may be called upon to arrange for the preparation of a coffin.

The Senior Military officer in a military station and the chief local Magistrate in a civil station may, should the Resident Chaplain report that private arrangements for the preparation of coffins are not feasible, issue a general order on the Executive Engineer, Military Works, and the Civil Executive Engineer, respectively, to prepare coffins upon the requisition of the Resident Chaplain. The expenditure incurred by the Executive Engineer will be held in his miscellaneous advance account till repaid by the officer under whose special or general order it was incurred.

During the absence of the Resident Chaplain from the station the senior Military officer in a Military station and the chief local Magistrate in a civil station shall be responsible for the arrangements for digging graves and preparing coffins.

NOTE.—The expenses incurred in connection with the burial of paupers who die within Cantonment limits will be defrayed from Cantonment Funds under the orders contained in the Circular from the Quarter-master-General in India, No. 18, dated the 20th March 1884. In the case of paupers who die out of Cantonment limits, the expenses will be defrayed by the Magistrate of the District.

RULE X.—The officer in charge of the cemetery shall keep a plan of the entire cemetery to be provided by the Public Works Department, with references written upon it, in a book, in which the names of parties interred are recorded; this plan and book being kept with the Church registers.

NOTE.—The Executive Engineer prepares a plan of the cemetery showing on it all the existing graves and the spaces allotted for future graves, and giving them all consecutive numbers.

RULE XI.—The officer in charge of the cemetery may reserve grave space, as limited by Rule XII below, on the application of near relatives of persons already buried in the cemetery and for the burial of the persons named in the application. A double ground fee shall be levied in advance before granting any such application, and each grant shall be registered in a book to be kept for the purpose and indicated on the plan. The ground will then be reserved for 10 years. Before the expiry of that period, a fresh application should be made and a further double fee paid, failing which the ground will be resumed.

RULE XII.—The size of each grave whether of masonry or not, is limited to 9′ × 4′, and the area of ground to be enclosed must not exceed 11′ × 7′ by external measurement.

RULE XIII.—(1) All graves must be at least 6 feet in depth.

(2) No body shall be buried in any vault or masonry grave which it is intended at any after time within 14 years to re-open unless the coffin be separately entombed in an air-tight manner by properly cemented stone or brick work, which shall never be disturbed.

(3) One body only shall be buried in a grave at one time, unless the bodies be those of members of the same family.

(4) No non-masonry grave or masonry grave unprovided with the separate air-tight compartment prescribed in clause (2) shall be re-opened within 14 years after the burial of a person above 12 years of age, or within eight years after the burial of a child under 12 years of age, unless to bury another member of the same family, in which case a layer of earth not less than one foot thick shall be left undisturbed over the previously buried coffin. If on re-opening the grave any soil is found to be offensive, such soil shall be left undisturbed.

(5) There shall never be less than three feet of earth between the topmost coffin in a grave and the surface of the ground.

ERECTION AND REPAIR OF MONUMENTS.

RULE XIV.—Monuments may be erected by any interested person. The inscription before being cut and the design, when the monument is other than a simple headstone, must be first approved of as laid down in Rule V.

RULE XV.—When a grave is not of masonry throughout, the only monument ordinarily allowed over it is a simple cross or headstone on an adequate masonry foundation not exceeding 3′ × 2′; and the whole structure must not stand higher than 3′ 6″ from the ground level. But with the permission of the officer in charge of the cemetery, a monument, such as may be erected over a masonry grave, may be placed over a non-masonry grave when adequate masonry foundations are provided on which the monument may rest.

RULE XVI.—No monument of whatever material constructed, shall exceed 8′ × 4′ at the base without the previous sanction of the Local Government.

RULE XVII.—No monument of masonry shall stand higher than 3 feet from the ground-level.

RULE XVIII.—No cenotaph shall be more than 6 feet square at the base.

RULE XIX.—The enclosure of ground round a grave must be by a metal railing, or by chains or bars of metal supported on masonry or metal pillars. Wooden or masonry enclosures are not permitted. The previous sanction of the Archdeacon, or, in his absence, of the Bishop, is necessary to the enclosure of a non-masonry grave; and no such sanction will be given unless the fee required by Rule I of Part II has been paid.

RULE XX.—When a monument needs repairing, the officer in charge of the cemetery should communicate with the friends of the deceased, or when such communication is not possible, advertise three times in the Gazette of India and the Gazette of the Province; and if it falls into a ruinous condition, and no person will undertake to restore it, the ruined monument shall be made level with the ground during the next repairs, any slab it contained will be placed over the grave in simple masonry, or be inserted in the wall of the cemetery.

NOTE.—(1) This rule does not apply to monuments of historical or archæological interest. Lists of such tombs should be obtained by Local Governments and Administrations, and as many of them as may be properly preserved at the public expense should be looked after by the local Public Works Department.

(2) The cost of the advertisements in the Gazette is met by the Government.

(3) A person other than a British soldier or a non-commissioned officer desiring to erect a monument over a grave is required to pay into the treasury a sufficient sum of money to be invested in Government securities, so that the interest on it will be sufficient to cover the cost of repairs annually. A British soldier or a non-commissioned officer is not compelled to make a deposit; but in the event of money for repairs not being forthcoming, Rule XX is held to apply. The foregoing rules shall apply mutatis mutandis to railings round graves, which shall not be constructed until the requisite sum has been paid to cover the cost of repairs.

Explanation.—It is optional with a person, other than a British soldier or non-commissioned officer, proposing to erect a simple cross, head-stone or slab, consisting of a single stone over an adequate foundation, to pay the endowment fee for its maintenance and repairs; but, if no such fee is paid, the cross, head-stone or slab will be liable to removal, if it should need renewal, under Rule XX. The optional endowment fee may be paid at any time after the erection of the stone.

RULE XXI.—All work connected with monuments must, as far as possible, be carried on outside the cemetery, and any undertaker not removing the debris of his work immediately upon its completion is liable to a fine of Rs. 5.

INSPECTION.

RULE XXII.—The cemetery should be inspected annually by the Chaplain in company with the Executive Engineer, the plan and book kept under Rule X being also examined, and a report made to the Archdeacon, and recorded in the ecclesiastical record-book of the station, and also in the Engineer's office.

RULE XXIII.—(1) Commissioners of Divisions should inspect cemeteries, whether closed or in use, within their respective jurisdictions in the course of their annual tours, and should bring to the notice of the Local Government any instances of cemeteries which are negligently kept, or which the officers in charge may have allowed to fall into a state of bad repair or disorder. All cemeteries are equally subject to the visitation and supervision of the Bishop and Archdeacon.

(2) Sanitary officers in cantonments are invited to inspect cemeteries within their respective cantonments and to report to Local Governments any matter calling for notice.

MISCELLANEOUS.

RULE XXIV.—It is desirable that Officers commanding regiments or detachments should be instructed to cause a report to be made to the nearest civil officer of graves dug for soldiers on march that measures may be taken for their effectual protection and preservation. These graves and all scattered Christian graves throughout the district are under the care of the local civil authorities.

II.

(1) For every square foot of ground occupied by a grave, whether masonry or not	0	8	0

The fee of eight annas in question is irrespective of all charges leviable under clauses (2) to (5) of this rule.

(2) For a masonry monument, per square foot	1	0	0
(3) For a cut-stone or marble monument, per square foot ...	0	8	0

	Rs.	A.	P.
(7) For a cenotaph, in addition to the ground fee, a special fee of	50	0	0
(8) For burial in a family vault	3	0	0

RULE II.—Fees are leviable over the whole cemetery, including those portions which are used by Roman Catholics and Non-Conformists.

NOTES.—(1) The same rules in regard to fees apply to all graves, whether of Roman Catholics, of Non-Conformists, or members of the Established Church.

(2) Where a parcel of ground used for burial by a Christian community of any particular denomination other than the Established Church of England forms no part of the general cemetery, but is separate from it, or where, although not so separate, it is clearly distinguishable and was not originally acquired, and has not been kept up at the expense of the State, then if the community by which the ground is used so desire, the Government will give up all claim to fees on the distinct understanding that it is divested of all responsibility for the maintenance of the cemetery in proper order. On the other hand, where such parcels of ground form part of a cemetery of the Established Church or the general Christian community provided and maintained by the Government, no distinction can be made as to keeping up any one part of the cemetery, nor should any exemption from fees be permitted.

EXEMPTION FROM FEES IN GOVERNMENT CEMETERIES.

RULE III.—Regimental and non-departmental warrant officers and all British non-commissioned officers and soldiers are exempted from the payment of any fee for the construction of graves, or for the erection of monuments in burial-grounds to the memory of their comrades, wives or children; but not from the fees prescribed under Rule I (6) and (7). The widows and children of regimental and non-departmental warrant officers and all British non-commissioned officers and soldiers are also exempted from payment of the former class of fees in the case of their deceased husbands and parents. No monument, either regimental or private, shall exceed the dimensions prescribed in Part I of these rules.

NOTES.—(1) This rule is applicable to regimental and non-departmental warrant officers and all British non-commissioned officers and soldiers whether in military or civil employ. Native Christians belonging to Her Majesty's army are British soldiers within the meaning of this rule.

(2) Monuments erected under this rule subscribed for partly by regimental (including non-departmental) warrant officers, non-commissioned officers and men and partly by officers are likewise exempted from the prescribed fee.

(3) Departmental warrant officers and volunteers are not exempted from payment of ecclesiastical fees.

RULE IV.—The Chunar pensioners being more or less under military control come under the category of soldiers, and are therefore entitled to the same exemptions as soldiers. But this ruling does not apply to other pensioners who are not similarly under military control.

RULE V.—The Chaplain may at his discretion reduce, or in cases of extreme poverty altogether remit, the fee leviable on the construction of graves, but not for the erection of monuments.

NOTE.—The Bishop on special occasions may sanction a reduction or remission of fees for the erection of monuments.

FEES BY WHOM TO BE COLLECTED.

RULE VI.—The Chaplain or other officer in charge of a cemetery may appoint an official mason, who may be granted a monopoly of the whole or any portion of the masonry work beneath the surface within the cemetery, subject to such conditions as may be agreed upon at the time of making the appointment; and may, subject to the same conditions, discharge him at his discretion. When an official mason has been appointed, he shall be responsible for the collection and payment to the Chaplain or other officer as aforesaid of the requisite fees in respect of all work executed by him. Fees in respect of work in the cemetery not executed by an official mason must be paid in advance.

NOTE.—Fees on masonry graves and monuments constructed by the appointed mason or undertaker need not be paid in advance; but in case of failure of payment their recovery must be entrusted by the Chaplain to the Magistrate or Deputy Commissioner, as the case may be.

FEES TO WHOM TO BE PAID.

RULE VII.—The fees prescribed in Rule I should be paid to the Chaplain, or, in the absence of the Chaplain, to the officer in charge of the cemetery and remitted at once to the civil treasury, except fees for monuments in churches, which should be paid over by the Chaplain to the charitable objects to which the Bishop assigns them when his faculty is issued.

CEMETERY RECEIPTS AND CHARGES.

RULE VIII.—All cemetery receipts and charges are to be regulated as laid down in paragraph 4 of Home Department Resolution* Nos. 6—370-382, dated the 9th November 1876.

Appendix A.

MISCELLANEOUS.

RULE IX.*—(1) A person may not purchase a portion of a Government cemetery as a burial-place for himself and his family so as to have a right to fence it with a rail or fence, and thus make it the private property of himself and family. But when such rights already exist, they are not without reason to be interfered with, and special cases as they arise may require exceptional treatment. In such special cases the Archdeacon may exercise his discretion with the sanction of the Local Government.

(2) All private rights must, however, cease if, for sanitary or other public reasons, the cemetery is closed against burials, or even that portion of it in which the private ground is situated; but in special cases the Archdeacon may exercise his discretion of giving permission to open a vault or masonry grave.

(3) No cutcha grave can be opened in any cemetery for the purpose of converting it into a masonry grave without application to the Archdeacon, which must be accompanied by a certificate from the Principal Medical Officer that this may be done without risk to public health.

RULE X.—(1) When a piece of ground is granted by Government as a cemetery to a Railway Company for the interment of its own servants, which afterwards keeps it in repair and provides the necessary establishment, so that beyond the original grant of ground Government is at no expense, the collection and application of fees accruing are left to the decision of the Railway Company which maintains the cemetery in good order and repair.

(2) The Commissioner or District or Judicial Officer, and in military stations the Officer Commanding, should inspect such cemeteries and report to Government if they find them negligently kept.

III.

Other Ecclesiastical Fees.

RULE I.—No fees are charged for the performance of the rite of baptism or burial, or for the registration of the performance of these offices.

RULE II.—In addition to the fee for the Surrogate's license, a fee of Rs. 10 shall be charged on all marriages by license, except the marriages of officers and others in the Military or Naval Service of Her Majesty.

RULE III.—The fee for a Surrogate's license shall be Rs. 50 both at the Presidency towns and in the interior. No fee shall be charged on marriages by banns.

* From MR. JAMES SUTHERLAND, to the Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, dated 10, Clive Row, Calcutta, the 20th December 1877.

A Mr. Joseph Gill came out to this country with letters of introduction to me, and died very suddenly at the General Hospital, Calcutta On a reference from the hospital authorities I had his body interred in the Catholic portion of the military burial-ground at Bhowanipur His widow, now resident in Paris, writes to me to have his body exhumed and buried in a family vault in the Roman Catholic Church at Dhurrumtolla, but I am advised that the Garrison Chaplain, under whose care the burial-ground is, requires the sanction of Government (Home Department) before permitting this to be carried out, and I would be much obliged if you would be good enough to give me the necessary sanction.

As the body will be interred in another grave without loss of time, I would also be obliged if you would dispense with the necessity of a zinc coffin, which, from its imperishable nature, is likely to form a serious obstruction in a family vault.

From F. C. DAUKES, ESQ., Under-Secretary to the Government of India, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—No. 1, dated Fort William, the 3rd January 1878.

I am directed to forward the accompanying letter, dated the 28th ultimo, from Mr James Sutherlands, asking for permission to remove the body of one Joseph Gill from the military burial-ground at Bhowanipur for re-interment in a family vault in the Dhurrumtolla Roman Catholic Church, and to enquire what is the rule or practice in such cases, and whether there is any objection to permission being granted to remove the body for re interment.

From H. H. RISLEY, ESQ., Under Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department, to the Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, No. 377, dated Calcutta, the 25th January 1878.

WITH reference to your office letter No. 1 of the 3rd instant, and its enclosure, on the subject of the removal of the body of Joseph Gill from the military burial-ground at Bhowanipur for re interment in a family vault in the Dhurrumtolla Roman Catholic Church, I am directed to submit herewith a copy of a letter (a) from the Venerable the Archdeacon of Calcutta, and to say that, under the conditions specified therein, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that permission to remove the body may unobjectionably be granted.

From the Venerable J. BALY, Archdeacon, Calcutta, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, No. 702, dated Muzaffarpur, the 18th January 1878.

With reference to your note No. 122 of 8th January 1878, forwarding copy of letters relating to the removal of a body from the Bhowanipur cemetery to the Roman Catholic Church in Dhurrumtolla, I have the honour to say that there is no Government order bearing exactly on such a case, but that there is a regulation recently passed that no cutcha grave should be opened for the purpose of converting it into masonry grave or vault without previous reference to the Archdeacon and the certificate of the Principal Medical Officer that no risk would be incurred thereby to the public health.

If this is certified with respect to the removal of the body referred to, and the Roman Catholic authorities make no objection to its re-interment in the Dhurrumtolla Church, I see no particular reason why the removal should not be sanctioned I think, however, that the coffin should certainly be cased with a zinc covering while it is being removed, which could be taken away, if necessary, when the coffin is finally deposited in the vault.

From J. O'KINEALY, ESQ., Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, to MR. JAMES SUTHERLAND, 10, Clive Row, Calcutta, No. 44, dated Fort William, the 31st January 1878.

IN reply to your letter dated the 20th ultimo, I am directed to say that the Governor-General in Council is pleased to grant permission for the removal of the body of Joseph Gill from the military burial-ground at Bhowanipur for re interment in a family vault in the Dhurrumtolla Roman Catholic Church on the following conditions:—

(1) that you obtain a certificate from the Principal Medical Officer at the Presidency that no risk to the public health will be incurred by the removal of the body,

(2) that the Roman Catholic authorities have no objection to the re interment of the body in the Dhurrumtolla Church, and

(3) that the coffin be encased in a zinc covering while it is being removed, which covering may be taken off when the coffin is finally deposited in the vault.

The stamp duty payable under article 22 of schedule I of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, on copies or extracts certified to be true copies or extracts of baptismal, marriage and burial certificates shall be denoted by means of adhesive court-fee lables.

RESOLUTION.—In connection with the orders contained in the above-mentioned Notification issued by the Department of Finance and Commerce, the following questions have now been raised by the Officiating Senior Chaplain of the Church of Scotland.—

(1) In what way the adhesive court-fee labels prescribed by the Notification, dated the 30th June last, should be defaced, and

IV.

Rules for regulating grants for the building of Churches; compensation for accommodation for soldiers in Chapels neither belonging to, nor rented by, Government; and for the supply of Church furniture.

RULE I.—All State charges for Churches are provided from Public Works Funds.

In Civil, Military or State Railway Stations such charges are to be dealt with under the general head "Civil Buildings." In the case of Churches in stations where there are Military Cantonments and the Military Works are under the charge of the Director-General, and in the case of Churches in Provinces to which the Provincial Service arrangements do not apply, the necessary funds should be provided from the ordinary grant for Imperial Works under "Civil Works." In other cases the funds should be provided for from the allotment for Provincial Services.

NOTE.—At certain Military Stations in Madras, Bombay and the Central Provinces where the Military Works Department has wholly replaced the Public Works Department, the expenditure on churches and cemeteries in charge of the Military Works Department is still met from Provincial Funds, in accordance with terms of the Provincial contracts with the Local Governments concerned.

RULE II.—The provision of Churches from Public Works Funds is authorised under the limitations given in the following rules:—

MILITARY STATIONS.

RULE III.—At all permanent Military Stations, Churches will be provided by the Government for its Protestant and Roman Catholic European British-born soldiers on the scale laid down in Rule VI.

NOTE.—The term "Protestant" includes members of the Church of England and of the Established Church of Scotland, Presbyterians, Wesleyans, and such other denominations of Christians as may from time to time be included by the Government of India.

RULE IV.—The amount of the Government grant for a Protestant Church will in no case exceed such a sum as will suffice to provide a plain substantial building of the simplest ecclesiastical design, together with such plain furniture as is essentially necessary for the proper performance of the service according to the ritual of the Church of England. It will rest with private individuals to furnish the means of imparting architectural decorations to the building should they desire to do so, and also of supplying additional furniture, including apparatus for lighting of a more costly description.

RULE V.—The same principles will regulate the grant for Roman Catholic Churches.

RULE VI.—The number of sittings to be provided will be calculated on the following scale:—

DETAIL.	Protestant.	Roman Catholic.
	Nos.	Nos.
Regiment of British Infantry	450	340
Wing of „ Cavalry	220	170
Regiment of „ „	340	200
Wing of „ „	200	130
Troop of Horse Artillery or Light Field Battery	100	50
Heavy Field Battery	80	25
Garrison Battery	50	30

NOTE.—These numbers include soldiers' families.

RULE VII.—Any provision that may be necessary may also be made for Staff Officers, Officers of Native Regiments, and, where no Civil Church exists, for European British-born subjects in the service of Government, or for Railway servants in accordance with the scale and terms hereinafter prescribed for Civil and Railway stations respectively.

RULE VIII.—As a rule, only one Protestant and one Roman Catholic Church will be provided; and where the number of sittings required for the troops according to the scale above given is very large, the size of the Church may be regulated so as to allow of at least one-half of the troops attending service at one time.

RULE IX.—The Government grants for Churches will be calculated on the following basis. The Executive Engineer shall prepare a ground plan, which shall afford—

(a) accommodation for the total congregation to be provided for according to the scale laid down in Rules VI and VII, and allowing six superficial feet per sitting;

(b) passages, chancel, vestry, porch of such moderate dimensions as may be reasonable in each case, and verandahs where necessary;

(c) tower or belfry, as may be required according to the dimensions, general design and locality of the building.

The Government grant will be at a rate per superficial feet of the area of (a) and (b), 25 per cent. in excess of that which prevails at the station for ordinary single storied buildings. Where a tower is admissible, a further grant, at the above rate, may be made for it, calculated on an area not exceeding three times the area occupied by its base.

CIVIL STATIONS.

RULE X.—At the chief Civil Station of a District, where there are at least 25 European British-born subjects, Protestants or Roman Catholics, as the case may be, in the general service of Government, and where no suitable Church provision for them exists already, the Government will contribute towards Church accommodation upon the following terms:—

(1) Number of sittings required.	(2) Maximum Government grant.
	Rs.
For any excess over ... 400	Rs. 30 per seat in excess.

NOTE.—(1) When the number of seats to be provided lies between any two numbers given in the table, the grant for the portion of the whole number of seats represented by the lower numerical figure in the table will be the grant shown against that figure, the rate per sitting for the excess number of seats over such lower figure being arrived at by dividing the difference between the maximum grant shown against the next higher figure and the said lower figure by the difference between the higher and lower figure. Thus for 110 seats the Government grant for 100 seats will be Rs. 5,000, and for the remaining 10 at the rate of $\frac{6,000-5,000}{150-100}$ = Rs. 20 per seat.

(2) As a rule, only one Protestant and one Roman Catholic Church will be provided. In the case of Protestant Churches, accommodation will ordinarily only be provided for the number willing to attend the Church of England service.

(3) In ascertaining the number of seats to be provided, women and children to belonging to the families of European British-born subjects in the general service of Government, and pensioned soldiers and their families, may be taken into account: two children being counted as one adult.

(4) In cases of stations where abnormal rates prevail, special application may be made to the Government of India for an increase to the grant given by the State, but no grant for more than 200 sittings will be made except at seats of Local Governments and Administrations, or at Hill Sanataria. In the latter case, the number of European British born subjects in Government service must exceed (without their families) 120 to warrant the grant for a Church of greater accommodation than 200 sittings.

RULE XI.—No Government grant for a Church in a Civil Station will be made until private subscriptions have been obtained, and then the grant will not exceed double the amount thus actually realised, the maximum figure in column 2 of the table above being in any case the extreme limit of the grant towards the scale of accommodation which stands opposite in column 1. And in no case will the Government grant be allowed until these contributions, together with the grant, amount to the estimated cost of the Church.

RAILWAY STATIONS.

RULE XII.—Whenever there are at any State Railway station or depôt so situated that other Church accommodation does not exist, or is not available with reasonable convenience, at least 25 persons in the Railway service who are of European descent; pure or mixed, retaining European habits and modes of life and professing the Christian religion, whether Protestant or Catholic, Churches will be provided by the Government for them in accordance with Rules IV, V and VIII; the number of sittings being calculated on the principle, mutatis mutandis of Rule X, notes (2) and (3), and the grant being in conformity with Rule IX.

RULE XIII.—Whenever such separate Churches are not required, Church accommodation for any such persons may be provided in the plans of any Church which is about to be erected at a military or civil station; but in the case of a Church at a civil station, the restrictions in Rule X, note (4), and in Rule XI, shall not apply in respect of the numbers of, and grants for, such persons.

RULE XIV.—In cases where a State Railway station or depôt is considered by the Railway administration to be likely to increase, such addition may be made to the number of sittings, calculated as above provided as the Government of India in the Public Works Department may, in each case, sanction.

NOTE.—Rule XII to XIV apply only to State Railways worked by the State and in other cases when the State is in the position of the employer of labour.

RULE XV.—In the case of Church accommodation for servants of a Railway not worked by State Agency and not falling within the note to Rule XIV, it will be within the discretion of the Board of Directors or other duly empowered representative of the Company, with the approval of the Government of India, to provide funds for Church accommodation under Rules XII to XIV. In such cases the cost will be chargeable to the Capital or Revenue account of the Railway as the circumstances of each case may suggest.

GENERAL.

RULE XVI.—It is desirable, whenever such a course will not be attended by inconvenience, to combine the Civil or Railway with the Military Church of a station, the grant allowed for the Church accommodation of the British troops or State Railway servants before given being supplemented by a grant according to the scale shown in Rules X and XI, or XII to XV, as the case may be. In special cases buildings may be rented for Divine Service, with the previous sanction of the Government of India, or of the Local Government or Administration according to whether the charge is Imperial or Provincial.

RULE XVII.—In addition to Church accommodation as above prescribed a house for the chaukidar or resident bearer may be provided. In cases, however, where the Church is distant from the bazar, and where special grounds are shown accommodation may be provided for other duly authorized servants, but such further accommodation will be limited to shelter for day use only. These houses should, when practicable, be adjoining to, and not within, the Church compounds; but when within them, they should be erected in keeping with the other Church buildings.

RULE XVIII.—Grants from Imperial Funds will be sanctioned by the Government of India in the Public Works Department only. Grants from Provincial Funds will be sanctioned by the Local Governments and Administrations, subject to the limitations contained in these Rules.

RULE XIX.—The scales of accommodation and expense for all Churches above laid down are in no case to be exceeded without a reference to the Government of India, even though the proposed expenditure from Public Funds may be within the powers of sanction vested in the Local Government or Administration.

RULE XX.—Church accommodation for non-official residents, either British-born Europeans or others, or for official residents other than British-born or State Railway servants, should not be sanctioned by the Local Governments or Administrations without reference to the Government of India.

RULE XXI.—When private contributions are combined with a Government grant towards building a Church, the procedure to be adopted is as follows:—

(a) Under ordinary circumstances, the amount of private contributions being known, a definite design and estimate will be prepared by the Executive Engineer and submitted for sanction in the usual way, the limit by which the Executive Engineer will be guided in his designs being the aggregate of the Government grant according to the scales given in the preceding Rules, and the amount of private contributions actually realized.

(2) Before the work is commenced, the amount of the private contributions must be paid into a Government Treasury, or guaranteed by sufficient security, and carried to credit of Deposits in the accounts of the Department.

NOTE.—In the case of a grant from the Church Building Fund for the Diocese of Calcutta, a certificate instead of a cash payment in advance may be accepted, showing the amount of the contribution to be allowed. The conditions on which this certificate may be accepted are that in every case definite arrangements must be made with the Local Government or Administration concerned respecting the precise date on which the contributions will be paid, and that, until the payment is made, the Government shall have a primary lien on the funds of the Society. In case of any failure in paying up the stipulated payment on due date, the privilege herein allowed is to cease.

(3) In dealing with cases of this nature, the private contribution is to be looked upon as an addition to the Government grant, instead of the money allowed from public funds being considered as grant-in-aid of private contributions, and the responsibility of Public Works officers with respect to the preparation of estimates, and the construction of such buildings with reference to excess of expenditure over the estimate, will be as strictly enforced as where only public funds are expended.

NOTE.—In the case of State Railways, the functions assigned in this and succeedings Rules to the Executive Engineer will devolve on the Manager.

(b) In special cases, however, the Government grant for a Church at a Civil or Railway station may, with the sanction of the Government of India or of the Local Government or Administration, as the case may be, be treated as a grant-in-aid of private contributions raised for a Church intended either as a Civil or Railway Church within the meaning of these Rules, or partly for the use of non-official residents or others for whom grants are not admissible under these Rules.

(2) In such cases, the plans and specifications shall be submitted to the Executive Engineer for the approval of the proper officers in the Public Works Department, who shall sanction them on satisfying themselves that they are safe and suitable and can be executed for the estimated amount. The construction of the building may then be left to the managers or trustees of the private contributions raised, with whom must rest the responsibility for excess, if any, over the amount of this sanctioned estimate.

(3) In such cases, the grant will ordinarily not be paid in full until the Executive Engineer has certified that the building has been completed in accordance with the sanctioned plans and specifications; but the Executive Engineer may make advances out of the sanctioned grant on receiving sufficient proof that the building is proceeding satisfactorily, and on the managers or trustees certifying that all subscriptions relied on in support of the application for the grant have been paid up in full or guaranteed by sufficient security.

(4) When a grant is made under clause (b) of this Rule for a Church intended partly for the use of non-official residents and others for whom grants are not admissible under these Rules, there shall be a trust deed, duly registered—(1) declaring that the building is granted in trust for Church purposes only; (2) giving to Government a prior lien on the building for the recovery of the grant in the event of the former being diverted to other purposes; (3) providing for the legal ownership of the building; and (4) indicating sufficient sources for its proper maintenance.

RULE XXII.—In any case in which a Church is built partly from private contributions and partly from a Government grant, the Government is entitled at any time to require that a proportion of the seats in the Church, not exceeding the proportion which the Government grant bears to the whole expenditure incurred in building the Church, shall be reserved for troops and other Government servants who may be allowed free seats under Rule XXVII.

RULE XXIII.—The preceding Rules shall apply, as far as may be, to the enlargement of existing Churches.

RULE XXIV.—The supply of Church furniture will be regulated by the following Rules. All expenditure connected with the articles to be supplied by the Public Works Department will be provided for under the Rules laid down for that purpose:—

The number and description of the articles to be supplied should be determined by a Committee, consisting of the Chaplain, the Executive Engineer, and the Chief Local Magistrate. In the case of Churches for troops or for State Railway servants, the senior Military Officer or the Manager of the Railway will take the place of the Chief Local Magistrate.

The articles of furniture and service should be of the plainest description, unless there is under construction by Government a Church for which Church furniture and articles of service would have to be supplied under clauses 1, 2, 4 and 5.

Articles supplied for use in temporary Churches should be returned into store when the building ceases to be used as a Church, unless they are required for supply to a permanent Church built by Government.

(7) All applications for funds for the supply to Roman Catholic Churches of the articles of service mentioned in clause 5 should be submitted through the Roman Catholic Bishop of the diocese in which the Church is situated.

(8) The following articles of furniture will be supplied by the Public Works Department for lych gates of Government cemeteries:—

RULE XXV.—The Executive Engineer will be guided, in granting the certificates alluded to in clauses 2 and 5 of Rule XXIV, by the following principles:—

Class I, Churches built by Government.—The certificate should state that the Church was built by Government for the use of European troops or European British-born subjects in the service of Government, or of State Railway servants, and is still maintained for the same purpose.

Class II, Churches which have received building grants from Government.—The certificates should state that the Church received a building grant of Rs. , equal to the part of the total cost of the building, and that the grant was made on account of European troops or European British-born subjects in the service of Government or of State Railway servants, and that the building is still used by them.

For this class of Churches a proportion of the standard cost of the articles of service will be sanctioned equal to the proportion of the grant-in-aid to the total cost of the building itself.

Class III, Churches rented by Government and Government buildings temporarily set apart as Churches.—The certificate should state that the building is wholly rented by Government or is a Government building temporarily set apart as a Church for the use of European troops or European British-born subjects in the service of Government, or of State Railway servants.

NOTE.—The required certificates should afford information as to when the article was originally supplied, and by whom and the reason for recommending its renewal. When, however, the Government pay for the use of a certain varying number of seats in a church, the hire of the seats should include everything necessary for the performance of the service.

RULE XXVI.—When a Church, whether Protestant or Roman Catholic, is to be furnished, the Executive Engineer should communicate with the Ecclesiastical authorities concerned with a view to affording the congregation an opportunity of furnishing the Church by private subscriptions in more costly style, should they wish to do so. It is to be understood, however, that any article of furniture to which any public funds may have been applied will remain the sole property of Government, even though a portion of its cost may have been contributed by private persons. And in cases where articles of furniture are procured from England, they should be purchased through the Secretary of State in the ordinary way, with the exception of articles to which note I to clause (2) of Rule XXIV applies, which may be purchased as therein allowed.

RULE XXVII.—Government will not ordinarily undertake the cost of the renewal and repair of furniture and articles of service in Churches which are not primarily intended for the accommodation of troops. Where pew rents are charged, the cost of such renewals and repairs will be met from the pew rent fund; where pew rents are not charged, it is expected that the cost will be met from contributions by private persons and members of the congregation. In Churches in which a portion of the seats are actually reserved by Government for troops or other Government servants entitled to free seats, the Government will pay a share of the costs of renewals and repairs equal to the proportion which the number of seats so reserved bears to the whole number of seats in the Church. Seats will be reserved by Government under this rule only for troops and Military Officers on duty with troops, and for such Government servants of the classes described in Rule X, and State Railway servants of the classes described in Rule XII, as cannot afford to pay for seats. But all Government servants (other than troops and Military Officers on duty with them), who are in a position to pay for seats, will be liable to be charged pew rents.

RULE XXVIII.—In cases in which articles of furniture belonging to a Government Church are stolen, an immediate enquiry should be held in view to ascertaining whether the loss was caused through the negligence of the person responsible for the custody of such furniture. In the case of Protestant Churches at civil or railway stations, the enquiry should be conducted by the Chaplain and the members of the Church Committee, and in the case of Roman Catholic Churches at such stations, by the Chaplain in charge and the chief civil officer of the place, or such other person or persons as the chief civil officer may nominate for that purpose. As regards Protestant and Roman Catholic Churches in cantonments, the investigation should be made by a Committee assembled under the orders of the Officer Commanding, as is the case in respect of all other enquiries into loss of Government property, the Chaplain in charge being invited either to be a member of the Committee or to give evidence before it.

(2) If the result of the enquiry should be to show that the loss was occasioned by negligence on the part of the person responsible for the custody of the furniture, such person should, if possible, be required to make good the loss, or if it should appear that the loss was due to circumstances beyond the control of the responsible officer, then the Government of India will be prepared to consider an application for the replacement, at the public expense, of the articles stolen. Such application should be submitted through the ordinary channels, and should be accompanied by a full report of the enquiry.

RULE XXIX.—The care of Church clocks is to be charged against the pew rent fund, where it exists.

RULE XXX.—The pay of chowkidars of Churches will be disbursed through Chaplains.

RULE XXXI.—Churches are under the control of the Bishop of the Diocese in respect to the erection of tablets, ornaments, &c., while in course of construction, as well as after completion and consecration.

OWNERSHIP AND REPAIR OF CHURCHES.

RULE XXXII.—All Churches built under these rules, except rule XXI, clause (b), shall be considered the property of the Government.

As a general rule, all Churches, whether Protestant or Roman Catholic, which have in past times been built by the Government, are the property of the Government.

Churches, whether built wholly by private contributions or by such contributions jointly with State grants, which have been borne for a series of years on the books of the Public Works Department and have been repaired and otherwise dealt with, unchallenged, as Government buildings, shall be deemed to be the property of Government.

Churches built wholly or in part by private contributions, which have not been so borne, repaired or dealt with, but which may be taken over on behalf of Government, under sanction of competent authority, shall be brought on the books of the Public Works Department as the property of Government.

RULE XXXIII.—All Churches which are the property of Government shall be in charge of the Executive Engineer, and shall be repaired under the ordinary rules of the Public Works Department.

In every case in which any alteration in a Church belonging to the Government, which affect its structure or its permanent fittings, may be desired by the Chaplain or other Clergy, the Executive Engineer must be consulted and his consent obtained in writing before the alteration is carried out.

COMPENSATION FOR ACCOMMODATION IN CHURCHES NEITHER BELONGING TO, NOR RENTED BY, GOVERNMENT.

RULE XXXIV.—The rate of compensation for sittings for Protestant and Roman Catholic soldiers shall be determined by the Public Works Department with reference to the value and description of the accommodation provided, subject to a limit of Rs. 3 per seat per annum, broken periods within a year counting as a year, but when sittings are occupied consecutively for any period exceeding twelve months, payment will be made for the number of months in excess of the year, for which the sittings are so occupied, at the rate fixed for the year.

NOTE.—The payment should, as far as possible, be regulated by the official year.

XXXV.—The number of sittings for which compensation is allowed will be regulated by the highest attendance at a parade service during the year of soldiers and their families (two children up to the age of 16 being counted as one adult) actually quartered in the station, subject to the following maximum limits in the case of Roman Catholics and each denomination of Protestants recognised by the Government of India (vide note to Rule III):—

	Numbers including soldiers' families.
Regiment of British Infantry	340	or 42 per company and 4 for the head-quarters staff of the regiment.
Wing of British Infantry	170
Regiment of Cavalry	200
Heavy Field Battery	25
Mountain Battery	34
Convalescent depôts and miscellaneous detatchments per section of 100 men	32

NOTE.—One maximum should be taken for the nominal strength of the whole garrison, instead of the several maxima of the several units.

RULE XXXVI.—Compensation may be charged for sittings provided for British-born Commissioned and Non-Commissioned Officers (including families) employed on the staff or with Native Regiments, in addition to the number of sittings for which compensation is admissible under Rule XXXV.

RULE XXXVII.—Compensation may, under the conditions of Rule XXXIV, be paid for Protestant or Roman Catholic State Railway servants for whom Church accommodation has not been provided by the Government; the number of sittings for which compensation may be allowed being regulated by the highest attendance on any one occasion during the year of Railway servants and their families (two children up to 16 being taken as one adult) who are of European descent, pure or mixed, retaining European habits and modes of life and professing the Christian religion.

RULE XXXVIII.—Charges for compensation require the previous sanction of the Government of India, and must be supported by a certificate from the Officer Commanding the station or the Manager of the Railway of the numbers of soldiers or State Railway servants and their families for whom accommodation has been obtained under Rules XXXV, XXXVI and XXXVII, and by a receipt for the money paid.

Such charges as have once been approved by the Government of India need not be resubmitted annually for sanction, but may be paid on the authority of the Local Government or Administration, or Director-General of Railways, as the case may be, subject to the conditions under which the original sanction was obtained.

RULE XXXIX.—Local Governments and Administrations, including the Director-General of Military Works and the Director-General of Railways, may delegate to Chief and Superintending Engineers the power vested in them under the foregoing rule.

RULE XL.—The outlay will appear in the Departmental Budget Estimates and Accounts under head of Civil Buildings—Repairs.

Secretary to the Government of India.

Read Home Department Resolution Nos. 314 to 318, dated 6th October 1875, appointing a Committee to report upon the following matters connected with ecclesiastical administration:—

(1) The framing of joint estimates for expenditure on cemeteries or churches by the Executive Engineer and Clergyman in charge.
(2) A revision of establishments for cemeteries according to their area.
(3) The size of monuments and amount of ground that may be enclosed.
(4) Provision for planting cemeteries and preserving them in decent order.
(5) Mode of supply of certain articles of church furniture
(6) The substitution of three for two classes of churches with respect to the expenditure allowed for them by Government.

Read—

The Report of the Committee, dated 29th October 1875.

RESOLUTION.—The Report of the Committee has been considered by the Governor-General in Council, who desires to express to the Committee his satisfaction at the result of their labours.

The following rules have been approved relative to the subjects referred to the Committee for report:—

1. Churches and cemeteries have already been divided into two classes: (1) those in stations where there are military cantonments and the military works in which are under the charge of the Inspector-General of Military Works, and (2) those in other military cantonments and civil stations.

Public Works Department No. 486A.G., dated 13th July 1874.

In both classes of stations joint estimates* of expenditure should be framed annually by the undermentioned officers:—

(a) In the case of all expenditure connected with establishments, e.g., pay of servants, alterations in their pay or number, etc., also all expenditure by Government connected with the provision of articles of church furniture supplied by the Civil Department. — By the Chief Magistrate of the District and by the Chaplain.

(See Financial Department Resolution No. 87, dated 9th January 1875.)

(b) In the case of all expenditure connected with repairs and additions to church fabric, to church compound or cemetery walls, to cemetery gates, walks, wells, chowkidars or other church servants' houses, provision of necessary appliances for graves or for the repair of tombs or for the planting of trees and shrubs in cemeteries and keeping the same in decent order; also all expenditure by Government connected with the provision of articles of church furniture supplied by the Public Works Department. — By the Executive Engineer and by the Chaplain.

See Financial Department Resolution No. 87, dated 9th January 1875; No. 2024, dated 31st March 1875; and No. 675, dated 9th February 1876.)

* The estimates should be for the financial year, and should be prepared in advance, as is prescribed for other budget estimates.

The estimates of expenditure to be prepared by the Executive Engineer and the Chaplain should show distinctly the probable charge under each of the following heads:—

(I) New works connected with additions to existing churches and improvements to church compounds.
(II) New supplies of furniture for churches and sanctioned articles of church use.
(III) New works connected with additions to existing burial grounds.
(IV) Repairs to churches and church furniture and maintenance of church compounds.
(V) Repairs to burial-grounds to be executed by Public Works Officers.
(VI) Repairs to burial-grounds, including planting and cleaning, to be entrusted to the Chaplain or Chief Civil or Military Officer of the Station or Cantonment, under paragraph 4.

It would be convenient if distinct estimates were prepared for each of these classes of expenditure.

The provision of funds to meet the charges above enumerated will be made in the budget estimate of the Public Works Department. The estimates for the same will be subject to the scrutiny of, and be passed by, the Superintending or Chief Engineer or Local Government or Administration, according to the rules in force in the Public Works Department.

In stations in which the churches and burial-grounds are under the Local Governments and Administrations in which the Provincial Service arrangements are in force, the charges debitable to the Public Works Department will be provided for in the Provincial Public Works Budget Estimate. In other Provinces and in the Military Works Branch the charge will be provided for in the Imperial Public Works Budget Estimate under civil buildings.

2. The following scale of establishments should be maintained at all cemeteries:—

(I) for a cemetery of which the area is five acres or less, one mali-chowkidar;
(II) for a cemetery of which the area is more than 5 and less than 10 acres, one mali-chowkidar and one assistant coolie;
(III) for a cemetery of which the area is more than 10 and less than 15 acres, one mali-chowkidar and two assistant coolies; and
(IV) for a cemetery of which the area is more than 15 acres, one mali-chowkidar and three assistant coolies.

It is left to the Local Governments and Administrations to determine the proper wages to be given to each servant. The cost of this establishment will be charged to Provincial Services in the case of those Local Governments and Administrations in which the Provincial Service arrangements are in force, and in the case of other Local Governments and Administrations and the Military Works Branch of the Public Works Department to Imperial Funds. In either case the charge will be included in the Civil Budget Estimate.

4. No portion of the receipts from cemeteries and church compounds should be retained by any Government officer to be directly expended by himself; all such receipts should be paid into the Civil Treasury to the credit of the Public Works Department. In the case of receipts from cemeteries and church compounds in charge of the Military Works Branch, and under those Governments and Administrations in which the Provincial Service arrangements are not in force, the credit will be treated in the Public Works accounts as a receipt under Imperal Public Works Revenue. In the case of the other Governments and Administrations, the credit will be raised to Provincial Service Public Works Revenue. But the amount passed upon the joint estimate framed by the Executive Engineer and Chaplain to provide for planting a cemetery and preserving it in decent order should be entrusted to the Chaplain where there is one. Where there is no resident Chaplain, the amount should be placed at the disposal of the Chief Magistrate on the spot, or of the Senior Military Officer if the cemetery is attached to a military cantonment. The necessary funds for the purpose will be advanced by the Executive Engineer concerned to the Chaplain or Civil or Military Officer. Bills for the expenditure should be rendered by the officer to whom the advance has been made, either monthly or otherwise, to the Executive Engineer, who will charge for the amount thereof in the usual way in his accounts. Until the bills are received and charged off, the advance will be placed in the Miscellaneous Advance Account of the Executive Engineer. All planting of shrubs and trees* by private persons in cemeteries should be under the control of the Chaplain if resident, otherwise under that of the Magistrate or Senior Military Officer as the case may be. When practicable, a well should be sunk in or near every cemetery.

5. It should be understood that the Government cannot provide cemeteries at the public expense for Native Christian communities.

NOTE.—Where their number is small, the question is of little importance and is best arranged by mutual concessions or by special provisions made locally by the parties immediately concerned. And I am to suggest for His Lordship's (Bishop's) consideration

Ecclesiastical Proceedings, November 1877, No. 15.

* Home Department letter to the Ven'ble the Officiating Archdeacon of Calcutta, No. 110, dated the 22nd May 1883.

In regard to churches and cemeteries situated within the limits of a military cantonment, the Government of India have decided:—

(1) that the Chaplain is required to obtain the permission of the Officer Commanding the station before ordering a tree to be cut down in a cemetery or church compound situated within the limits of a cantonment;

whether, if the necessity of dealing at the present time with this matter of Native Christian interment be in his judgment unavoidably established, it should not be carefully examined inconsultation with the several Local Governments, having regard to the diverse needs and circumstances of the population in each separate Province.

RESOLUTION.—After consulation with the several Local Governments and Administrations, it was decided in February 1875 to reduce the cost of church establishments in India. To carry out this decision, the scale of charges (shown in the margin) was fixed for general adoption, with the reservation that in some places somewhat higher charges might be allowed under exceptional circumstances; and that in the case of third class (non-military) churches, with fluctuating and very limited congregations, a moderate fixed allowance might be granted for lighting and sacramental elements. In accordance with this decision, the several Local Governments and Administrations were requested to submit a fresh classification of Military churches, and a scale of charges in accordance with the principles thus laid down.

First class (churches, the property of Government, containing more than 400 sittings at stations where there are European troops) :—

	Rs.
1 Clerk	12
1 Chowkidar-bearer	6
1 Water-carrier	5
1 Sweeper	4
Total	47 a month.

	Rs.
1 Chowkidar-bearer	5
Total	19 a month.

	Rs.
1 Chowkidar-bearer	5 a month.

2. After consideration of the reports called for, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to pass the following orders.

(2) that the Officer Commanding the station may order a tree to be cut down in the cemetery or church compoun without the Chaplain's consent ;

(3) that it rests with the Chaplain to sell the trees cut down in the cemetery or church compound, the proceeds being paid in, as required by the standing rules, to the Civil Treasury to the credit of the Public Works Department ; and

(4) that the consent of the Commanding Officer should be obtained in respect of all repairs or alterations over which he or the Cantonment Committee may exercise control under the Cantonment Rules and Regulations, e.g., Rules 13 and 26 of Chapter IV.

These orders, however, do not interfere with the duty of the Chaplain to see that the cemetery is kept clean of rank vegetation, shrubs, and undergrowth which are not included under the designation of trees.

Home Department letter to the Ven'ble the Officiating Archdeacon of Calcutta, No. 148, dated the 20th June 1838,

3. If a clerk is now employed in any second class military church he need not be dismissed; the full reduction of the establishment must await the occurrence of a vacancy.

4. In Madras, including Mysore, but excluding Berar, there are 56 churches* and the cost of establishments on the scale laid down by the Government of India would amount to Rs. 720 a month as against a present charge of Rs. 1,917†. The Government of Madras recommends, however, that the pay of chowkidar-bearers be fixed at Rs. 7 instead of Rs. 5 each a month; that an establishment of Rs. 47 a month be allowed to the church at Black Town; and that to five of the remaining 36 3rd class non-military churches, the marginally noted† special allowances be allowed. These proposals are approved with effect from 1st April 1877. A tabular statement showing the financial results of the measure, and including, as a temporary charge, the pay of such clerks as are now on the establishments of the 2nd class military churches, should be forwarded for formal sanction.

1st class (military)	8
2nd do. do	6
3rd do. (non-military)	42

	Rs.
Bearer	7
[illegible]	5
Lighting allowance	18
Total ...	30 each.

5. The Government of Bombay proposes (1) to raise the pay of chowkidar-bearers; (2) to allow a peon to each Chaplain; (3) to retain clerks for 2nd class military churches; (4) to do away with water-carriers and sweepers, and provide for their duties from the contingent allowance of Rs. 20 a month for lighting for 1st class churches; and (5) to allow a small contingent allowance to poor 3rd class non-military churches. The tabular statement submitted by the Bombay Government also shows other variations from the standard scale fixed in 1875. The Governor-General in Council regrets that he is unable to sanction peons for chaplains in Bombay; but he is pleased to sanction the following scale for adoption in the Bombay Presidency for 1st April 1877, with a request that a tabular statement showing the charges now made may be forwarded to Government for communication to the Audit Department:—

	1st class military churches.	2nd class military churches.	3rd class non-military churches.
1 Clerk	A	...	...
Contingent allowance to cover lighting, and sweepers' and water carriers' wages	20	10	B.

A.—On the pay proposed by the Archdeacon of Bombay.
B.—A list of the poorer churches, for which a special contingent allowance is asked, should be entered in the tabular statement.

6. The proposal of the Government of Bengal in respect to the six military (1st class) churches, including the two within the Fort William, for which the authorised allowance of Rs. 47 a month is considered to be sufficient, is sanctioned with effect from the 1st April 1876; Rs. 100 a month is also allowed for each of the four (3rd class) non military presidency churches* from 1st April 1877, for two years, subject to reconsideration at the end of that period; and an allowance of Rs. 55 a month is sanctioned for St. Stephen's Church, Kidderpore, and the Church at Howrah, on the same terms. Considering the peculiar character of St. Andrew's Kirk in Calcutta, and its use by the military, the recommendation of the Reverend Mr. Thompson, for an allowance of Rs. 100 when there are two chaplains, and Rs. 185 a month when there is one, is approved from the same date. The necessity for so large an allowance as† Rs. 32 a month for the care of the clock must be further established. The entire services of a competent Native artisan could probably be secured for a much smaller sum.

*St. John's.
Old Church.
St. James's.
St. Thomas's.

7. In respect to the non-military (3rd class) churches in Bengal, the Governor-General in Council considers that the scale laid down in February 1875 should be more closely adhered to than is proposed by the Government of Bengal. The exceptional allowances there contemplated were intended only for churches with fluctuating and limited congregations and not for general adoption. The churches at Dacca, Cuttack, Berhampore, and other places do not appear to be of this class. His Excellency in Council desires, therefore, that the Government of Bengal will submit a tabular statement more in accordance with the scale laid down in February 1875, and showing the financial results of the arrangements now sanctioned for church establishments in Bengal.

† This charge was subsequently accepted by the Government of India as an ecclesiastical charge and as part of the Church allowance which is given in consideration of the benefit derived by the public from the use of the clock.—Letter to Government of Bengal, No. 315, dated the 27th September 1877.

8. The classification of churches submitted by the Government of the North-Western Provinces shows that there are 36‡ churches, the proposed cost for the establishments of which is Rs. 670. But it appears doubtful if this classification includes the Episcopalian and Presbyterian churches at Allahabad. This should now be made clear; and the Church at Chunar should be ranked as a 3rd class (non-military) church, and not as a second class military church. The usual tabular statement should also be submitted, showing the financial result of the charges now authorized with effect from the beginning of the next financial year.

‡ 7 (1st class) military, including three Roman Catholic Churches;
14 (2nd class) military, including three Roman Catholic Churches; and 15 (3rd class) non-military churches.

9. There are 48 churches in the Punjab, and the cost of the establishments proposed for them is Rs. 878 a month. It is also recommended that Rs. 50 a month may be placed at the disposal of the Government of the Punjab for allotments when necessary to the poorer 3rd class (non-military) churches. The proposals of the Government of the Punjab are sanctioned with effect from 1st April 1877. The usual tabular statement should be submitted.

10. There are 15 churches in the Central Provinces, the cost of the establishments of which is Rs. 205 a month. Revised establishments as shown below are sanctioned for these churches, resulting in an increase of Rs. 17 a month over the existing charge:—

	Existing cost per mensem.	Now sanctioned per mensem.
	Rs.	Rs.
1st class church at Kamptee	71	47	A.
Ditto at Saugor	39	47	A.
2nd class church at Jubbulpore	38	31	B.
Ditto at Sitabuldi, Nagpur	40	31	B.
3rd class church at Narsingpur, Nimar and Seoni	17	18
Ditto at 1 Chanda, 2 Wardha, 3 Bhandar, 4 Raipur, 5 Hoshangabad, 6 Damoh, 7 Betul and 8 Chindwara	.....	48
Increase ..		17

A.—As detailed in paragraph 1 of this Resolution.
B.— Ditto plus the pay of a clerk, temporarily, as sanctioned in paragraph 9.

11. The Chief Commissioner of British Burma submits a list of church establishments in that province, and recommends "that the establishments should be restricted to the scale fixed by the Government of India; but that the rates of pay should be in accordance with those which are customary throughout Burma, where the cost of living is greatly in excess of that of India." He also recommends that an allowance of Rs. 30 a month may be granted to the Roman Catholic Church at Theyetmyo. In accordance with these recommendations the establishments noted below, which are in conformity with the scale laid down in February 1875, are sanctioned for the churches in British Burma with effect from 1st April 1877:—

12. In addition to the higher rates of pay for chaukidar-bearers on account of the prevalent wages in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts, the Resident at Hyderabad proposes to add 8 peons at a cost of Rs. 56 a month to the authorised scale of church establishments. The Governor-General in Council regrets that he is unable to depart from the scale already fixed,

13. The list submitted by the Chief Commissioner of Oudh shows that there are only six churches in Oudh—three of the first and three of the second class The proposed classification of these churches is approved with effect from 1st April 1877, with a request that a tabular statement may now be forwarded.

14. The Chief Commissioner of Assam states that there are in Assam six 3rd class non-military churches, and proposes to pay the chaukidar-bearers at Rs. 10 each a month, remarking that "this is the lowest salary on which a servant can be entertained to perform the above duties in this Province." The Governor-General in Council sanctions a chaukidar-bearer for each of the churches in Assam on the pay of Rs. 6 each a month from 1st April 1877, and requests that the usual tabular statement may now be forwarded.

(2) Order No. 572, dated the 12th May 1881, forwarding a copy of the abovementioned Resolution to the Military Department for information and guidance, with the intimation that the scale of charges mentioned above (which are debitable to the Military Department on account on Roman Catholic Churches) should have effect from the 1st April 1880.

(3) A letter from the Military Department to the Controller of Military Accounts, Bengal, No. 1246-S. D., dated the 26th August 1881, sanctioning, as a very special case, the grant to the Roman Catholic Chaplain, Fort William, of the difference of lighting allowance between Rs. 33 and Rs. 47 a month, with arrears from the 15th August 1876 up to the 1st January 1881, and intimating that final orders in regard to the allowances admissible to Roman Catholic Churches generally will be shortly passed.

RESOLUTION—On consideration, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to declare that the Resolution of the 15th August 1876 read in the 1st section of the preamble is inapplicable to Roman Catholic Churches. Those churches are mostly not the property of Government, and it is only to churches owned by Government that the Resolution applies. Moreover, the application of the Resolution to Roman Catholic Churches would have the effect in the majority of cases of largely reducing the allowances now given to them, and the Governor-General in Council does not consider that their reduction would be expedient.

2. Under this decision the increased grant passed in the Military Department for the Roman Catholic Church of St. Patrick, Fort William, should be discontinued.

I AM directed to acknowledge your letter dated the 2nd January 1877, No. 2, submitting for approval the Proceedings of the Madras Government determining the proposed scale of establishment for the Cathedral.

2. In reply I am to say that the Governor-General in Council is pleased to fix a limit of Rs. 400 per mensem as the maximum grant towards the maintenance of the establishment of the Cathedral, with effect from the 1st April 1878.

WITH reference to paragraph 8 of your letter, dated the 5th February 1877, No. 376, regarding the establishment at St. Paul's Cathedral, Calcutta, I am directed to say that the Governor-General in Council is pleased to comply with the recommendation of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, and sanctions the continuance of the Government grant of Rs. 400 per mensem at present made towards the maintenance of the Cathedral establishment.

No. 11, dated Fort William, the 9th January 1878.

From—J. O'KINEALY, Esq, Offg. Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bombay, Ecclesiastical Department.

WITH reference to the correspondence ending with your letter dated the 29th November last, No. 249, regarding the establishment at St. Thomas's Cathedral, Bombay, I am directed to observe that it appears from the papers submitted that the cost of the Cathedral establishment and contingent charges amounts to Rs. 1,084 per mensem, and the Trustees of the Cathedral object to any reduction being made, holding that under the trust deed they have an indefeasible right to claim from Government both establishment and contingent charges on the existing scale.

2. The Governor-General in Council does not admit that the Trustees alone have the power to decide the question at issue, but His Excellency in Council does not desire to press the matter, and leaves it to be settled by the Bombay Government on the most favourable terms which may be found possible.

3. I am to add that a maximum grant of Rs. 400 per mensem has been fixed for the Cathedrals at Calcutta and Madras.

Office-memorandum from the Military to the Home Department (Ecclesiastical), No. 1618-S. D, dated the 17th October 1881, proposing a general rule to regulate the incidence of charges on account of clerical and menial establishments for religious services in connection with the troops.

Original enclosure returned.

The undersigned is desired to acknowledge the receipt of the docket from the Home Department, No. 75, dated 5th May 1881, on the subject of the provision of a clerical and menial establishment for Presbyterian religious service in connection with troops. The case in point is that of the 72nd Highlanders.

2. In reply he is to forward the correspondence marginally noted, and to suggest that as (in regard to the general question) there would seem to be some doubt as to the proper incidence of charges on account of such establishments, the present opportunity be taken to settle the question finally.

From Adjutant-General in India, No. 2795 B., dated the 29th June 1881.
From Controller of Military Accounts, Bengal, No. 10642. (Return requested.)

3. The present rule as regards Chaplains is understood to be as follows, viz—

The Church of England Chaplains and the Church establishments are paid in the Civil Department, even though employed in a cantonment solely for the use of the troops.

The pay of the Roman Catholic Chaplains and of the chapel establishments engaged in the service of the troops is borne by the military Department.

The pay of Presbyterian Chaplains and of the church establishments at ordinary stations is borne by the Civil Department, but the pay of Presbyterian Chaplains with Highland regiments is a military charge.

4. It seems, therefore, to the Military Department right that the charge on account of establishments for the church services of Highland regiments should also be a military charge, when the chaplain employed in the services is paid by the Military Department, and that in all other cases where there is a service performed for Presbyterian troops by a civil Presbyterian, Wesleyan or other chaplain, the charge for his services and any temporary establishment should be borne by the Civil Department.

5. The Military Department consider that the above would be a clearly defined rule which would prevent the mistakes which appear to have been made on more than one occasion in regard to the debit of such charges, and the undersigned is to recommend its adoption to the Home Department.

RESOLUTION.—The rule proposed in paragraph 4 is sanctioned.

APPENDIX B.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Home Department,—Nos 2-275 to 287 (Ecclesiastical) under date Simla, the 8th September 1875.

Read the undermentioned correspondence relative to a proposed revision of the rules at present in force for the guidance of Chaplains of the Church of England in regard to the burial of such persons as have laid violent hands upon themselves; and of those who, having been members of the Roman Catholic Church, have been refused burial by the Priests of that Church—

From Government of Fort St. George, No. 142, dated 13th June 1874, and No. 203, dated 28th August 1874.
To Solicitor to Government, No. 327, dated 22nd September 1874.
From ditto ditto, No. 2316, dated 26th September 1874.
From the Lord Bishop of Calcutta, dated 13th January 1875.

RESOLUTION.—The first question was raised by the refusal of the Reverend C. H. Deane, Chaplain of Bangalore, to read the funeral service over a person who was found by a Court of Inquest to have committed suicide while in a state of temporary insanity.

2. The subjoined letter* from the Reverend C. H. Deane sets forth the ground of his refusal:—

* To Mr. Knox, dated 2nd January 1874.

When I answered your memorandum about the interment of the remains of the late Sergeant Spiers of the 18th Hussars I was not aware that he had committed suicide. If, as I understand, there is no doubt that he poisoned himself, I regret to say that I shall not be able to officiate at his funeral. The Rubric before the burial service distinctly forbids it to be used for any that 'have laid violent hands upon themselves,' so that I have no option in the matter. The grave will be ready at 5 P.M., but no service can be used.

3. The view taken of the question by the Right Reverend the Bishop of Madras is stated in the subjoined letter:†

† To the Acting Chief Secretary to the Government of Fort St. George, No 483, dated 24th March 1874.

"I am directed by the Right Reverend the Bishop of Madras to acknowledge your communication of the 17th ultimo, forwarding copy of a letter from the Deputy Adjutant General, transmitting correspondence relative to the Reverend C. H. Deane's refusal to read the funeral service over the late Sergeant Spiers, 18th Hussars, who committed suicide.

"2. In reply I am desired to state that Mr. Deane seems to have been requested to perform the funeral without having been furnished with the customary death-report or any intimation that it was a case of suicide.

"3. The Coroner's warrant in itself appears to be 'no more than a certificate that the body is not demanded by the law, and that therefore the relations may dispose of it as they please.'—(Wheatley on the Book of Common Prayer.) It does not, therefore, indicate the duty of a clergyman, or place him under legal obligation to give to a body Christian burial.

"4. In keeping with this view, the Government Notification in Fort St. George Gazette, June 11th, 1850, page 623, when it intimates that 'the Reverend Chaplains will in future consider the warrant of the Coroner for the interment of a body on which an inquest has been held to be a sufficient authority for their performance of the burial service over it, adds, 'if it would be their duty, under ordinary circumstance, to perform that service.'

"5. What is the duty of a Clergyman when requested to bury a person who has committed suicide is to be ascertained partly from the Rubrics of our Church, which are binding upon the Clergy and have the force of law: and partly from the limitations of recognised legal commentators.

"6. The Rubric at the opening of 'the Order for the Burial of the Dead forbids a Clergyman to use that service for any that have laid violent hands upon themselves.'

"7. In Burn's 'Ecclesiastical Law' it is laid down: 'Of this sort [suicide] are to be understood not all who have procured death unto themselves, but who have done it voluntarily, and consequently have died in the commission of a mortal sin; and not idiots, lunatics, or persons otherwise of insane mind.'

"8. In the same book it is also stated that 'the proper judges whether persons who died of their own hands were out of their senses are doubtless the Coroner's jury.'

"9. In case under consideration it appears that the Reverend Mr. Deane, having regard only to the Rubric and foro conscientiæ accounting himself responsible for the interpretation of it, refused to bury the corpse even when he knew that the Coroner's jury had returned a verdict of 'temporary insanity.'

"10. In this refusal, I am instructed to state that Mr. Deane has not, so far as the Bishop can ascertain, violated any law, but he has departed from a recognised custom in not accepting the verdict of the Coroner's jury as a justification for the using of the Church's Service over the remains of Sergeant Spiers.

"11. Mr. Cripps, in his 'Practical Treatise on the law relating to the Church and the Clergy' [Ed. 1869.],* states 'No case appears ever to have occurred in which a clergyman who has refused to bury the corpse of one who has committed suicide in insanity has been punished by the Ecclesiastical Law.' At the same time he adds: 'It must be doubtful whether a departure from a custom of such acknowledged propriety would not be visited with ecclesiastical punishment.

"12. In the absence of any Court competent to visit with ecclesiastical punishment, the Bishop desires me to point out that it is very painful to a laborious and conscientious clergyman, such as Mr. Deane is, to deny the last offices of the Church to one who has been under his spiritual charge, and it must, the Bishop thinks, be allowed that there was much in the circumstances of the present case to support the conclusion at which Mr. Deane arrived. I am, therefore, directed to say that His Lordship is disposed to take a lenient view of Mr. Deane's action, and the more so as those who are endeavouring to check the prevalence of intemperance in the army can ill afford to lose any aid which a clergyman in the honest discharge of his duty can lawfully render."

4. The Government of Madras referred the whole correspondence for the information and orders of the Government of India.

5. The following brief statement of the English Law will be found sufficient for the present purpose: By Common Law Christian persons are entitled to burial with the rites of the Church. The Statutes passed from time to time for the uniformity of public worship have proceeded upon, though not expressly dealing with this state of things. The 68th of the Canons of 1603 recognises it, and enjoins the Clergy to act upon it. In that Canon occurs the exception of persons excommunicated for some grievous and notorious crime, and of whose repentance no testimony could be given. The Canons of 1603 are no part of the Statute Law, and it is only in a qualified sense that they are part of the law at all. But this Canon has been taken as truly expressing the ancient Common Law of the Church. The Books of Common Prayer have been embodied into the Statute Law by the various Acts of Uniformity, and Rubrics are authoritative guides when they speak on the question when the services are or are not to be used.

6. Down to the year 1661 there was no Rubric forbidding the performance of the Burial Service over any persons except persons excommunicated. The Rubric now in force was framed in the year 1661, and received the force of law from the Uniformity Act of 1662. It prescribes that "the office is not to be used for persons unbaptised or excommunicated or who have laid violent hands on themselves."

7. The question now is whether the expression "have laid violent hands on themselves" includes all who have committed the overt act of suicide, or only those who have done so deliberately being in their sound senses and in a state in which moral responsibility attaches to them.

8. In Mr. Cripp's* Treatise the following statement is made:—

The uniform practice, however, so far as it has been able to be ascertained, is in accordance with the reasoning and opinion of Dr. Burn, and it must be doubtful whether a departure from a custom of such acknowledged propriety would not be visited with ecclesiastical punishment.

9. The opinion of Dr. Burn will be found in his work on Ecclesiastical Law, Vol. I p. 265 After referring to the ancient Canon which forbade Christian burial to those who violently put themselves to death, and stating that this rule was understood to apply to those who did the act voluntarily, Dr. Burn intimates that the Rubric should not be construed as severer than the preceding Ecclesiastical Law, and therefore should not apply to persons of insane mind.

10. In the year 1809, the Court of Arches, speaking of the treatment of suicides, puts it on the ground that they are supposed to die in the commission of mortal sin, and to have renounced Christianity. Kemp versus Wickes, 3 Phillimore, pp. 272, 273.

11. The Government of India have not been referred to, and do not know of, any authority for holding that the words of the Rubric apply to persons who are not responsible for their actions. It is certain that the practice has not been to apply these words in that way.

12. Under the circumstances the Governor-General in Council comes to the following conclusions :—

(a) It is reasonable in this matter to regulate the conduct of Clergymen of the Church of England, who serve the Government of India, by the law and practice of the Church of England.

(b) There is no authority for holding that the Rubric under consideration applies to those who have caused their own death when in a state of mental insanity. For holding the contrary there is the authority of commentators and of judicial dicta. There is also the much greater authority derived from a usage which is very widespread and long continued, if indeed it is not quite unbroken. Testing the question by reason, it is only reasonable to hold that the framers of this Rubric did not intend as regards the burial of suicides to alter the law and practice that they found in existence or to visit with what must be considered as an ecclesiastical penalty, an act for which the doer is not responsible.

(c) Sincere respect is due to the scruples felt by conscientious men in performing a service of extreme solemnity. Nevertheless, it would not be reasonable that such scruples should prevail against the ancient law and practice of the Church of England which has been handed down to the present time, and which plainly authorises the use of the burial service over persons who have caused their own death while in a state of insanity.

13. The Governor General in Council must therefore require from all Clergymen connected with the Government their conformity to this ruling.

14. The next point for consideration is the rule requiring Chaplains to read the funeral service over the bodies of persons who, having died in the profession of the Roman Catholic faith, have been refused burial by the Priests of that Church. It is stated by the Bishops of Calcutta and Madras that the Clergy of the Church of England look upon the rule as bearing hardly upon them, and they desire to have it reconsidered.

15. This rule was laid down in the year 1855 under the belief that the case was governed by positive law, viz., the 68th of the Canons of 1603. But on re-consideration of the matter the Governor-General in Council is of opinion—1st, that the Canon in question which is founded on the English parochial system cannot for the purpose now under consideration be applied to the very different circumstances of an Indian station; and 2ndly, that even if it were applicable it would not prevent the Government from establishing a different rule of conduct for Indian Chaplains if found expedient.

16. The Governor-General in Council further thinks that for the case now under review a different rule is expedient. The Chaplain of an Indian station does not stand to the residents in the station in the relation which the Parson of an English parish bears to his parishioners. It was expressly so ruled by the Court of Directors in their Despatch on this subject bearing date the 30th October 1844. Chaplains have been ordered to abstain from endeavours to influence the religious tenets of Roman Catholic soldiers, and in one case a Chaplain was compelled to resign the service for persisting in such endeavours.

17. As regards the Chaplains themselves, it does not seem consistent that they should be compelled to perform duties towards the corpse of a man whom when living they were forbidden to approach in any pastoral relation, and the Governor-General in Council admits that the dissatisfaction which the Chaplains have felt with the order of 1855 rests on reasonable grounds.

18. As regards other persons, it can hardly be agreeable to the feelings of either Protestants or Roman Catholics that the Chaplain should be called in to supply a service which the Priest has refused To Protestants it must seem that in so acting their Church is lax and careless about the performance of its solemn rites. To Roman Catholics it can hardly be otherwise than offensive that a stranger, who in their eyes has no authority, should affect to give to a member of their Church what the recognised authority of that Church has thought fit to withhold And neither community can wish it on account of any advantage to the dead man; not Protestants, because the whole notion of such an advantage is contrary to their tenets: and not Roman Catholics, because they do not attribute any spiritual character to the Chaplain.

19. For the above reasons the Governor General in Council is pleased to revoke the order issued in the year 1855, and he will request the Military authorities to make arrangements for the decent burial of Roman Catholic soldiers to whom the rites of their Church have been refused by their Priests.

Office memorandum from the Military Department, No, 810, dated the 16th November 1875, forwarding, for an expression of opinion, a draft General Order which His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief proposes to issue on the subject in accordance with the above rules.

RESOLUTION.—On a reconsideration of the subject, the Government of India think it necessary to modify the rules contained in the Resolution of 8th September 1875, so far as regards the burial of deceased Roman Catholics. The Government of India have now decided:—

1st, that at stations where there is a Roman Catholic Priest drawing an allowance from Government, he shall be held bound to read the burial service over the body of every deceased Roman Catholic soldier brought for burial, unless he be excused from doing so by the Rubrics and Canons of the Roman Catholic Church; and that when the Roman Catholic Priest refuses to read the burial service over the body of a deceased Roman Catholic soldier, the military authorities shall make proper arrangements for the decent interment of the corpse;

2ndly, that where there is no Roman Catholic Priest paid by the State, the Protestant Chaplain shall, if requested by the friends of the deceased, or by the Officer Commanding, be bound to bury the deceased according to the rites and ritual of the Church of England, except in either of the three cases in which Protestant Chaplains in India are excused from burying a deceased Protestant, viz., dying unbaptised even by lay baptism; excommunicated by the major excommunication; or declared to be felo de se; and that when a Protestant Chaplain refuses to officiate at the burial of a deceased Roman Catholic soldier, on either of the three abovementioned grounds, the military authorities shall, as in the case of refusal by a Roman Catholic Priest, make proper arrangements for the decent interment of the corpse;

3rdly, that whenever, with or without furnishing any explanation of his reasons, a Roman Catholic Priest paid by the State or a Protestant Chaplain refuses to perform the funeral rites of his Church over the body of a deceased Roman Catholic soldier, the circumstances of the case should be fully reported by the military authorities for the consideration and orders of the Government.

2. The Governor-General in Council is accordingly pleased to direct the modification in the above sense of the provisions of paragraphs 15 to 19 inclusive of the Resolution, 8th September 1875.

NOTES.—(1) The expression "proper arrangements for the decent interment of the corpse" in Rules 1 and 2 means that when both the Roman Catholic and Protestant Chaplains refuse burial in a case of suicide by a Roman Catholic soldier whilst of unsound mind, the burial service should be read over the body by the Officer Commanding the deceased's Company.

Letter to Government of Madras, No. 347, dated the 31st October 1877.

(2) The intention of the passage "bound to bury the deceased according to the rites and ritual of the Church of England" in Rule 2 is, that the service of the Church of England should be read over the body, if the Protestant Chaplain is requested by the friends of the deceased to do so; but the rule does not in any way re impose on Protestant Chaplains the burden of reading the burial service over either soldiers or civilians to whom a Roman Catholic Chaplain has refused burial. There is nothing to prevent a Chaplain burying any one if he chooses to do so, provided they are not unbatised "even by lay baptism," excommunicated by the major excommunication, or declared to be felo de se, only the Protestant Chaplain is no longer bound to do so.

Letter to Government of Madras, No. dated the 31st October 1877.

(3) The expression "unbaptised even by lay baptism" in Rule 2 is equivalent to "unbaptised by either clerical or lay baptism" The meaning intended to be conveyed is that baptism, either by lay or clerical, is sufficient to prevent a person from being regarded as "unbaptised" for the purposes of the rule.

WATER-RATE RULES FOR THE SARAN CANALS.

No. 145.—Notification.—In exercise of the power conferred on him by sections 99 and 78 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to make the following rules and to fix the undermentioned rates to be charged for water supplied from the Saran Canals during the kharif season of 1897-98.

A. D. MCARTHUR, Colonel, R.E.,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

IN Notification No. 110 of the 9th August 1880, issued under the provision of Act III of 1876, Government reserved to itself the rights of property in the water of the river channels known as the Daha, the Dhanai, the Gandaki and the Gangri, and their appendant tributaries, including the Rupan Chap Sota.

2. The revenue administration of the Saran Canals is vested in the Superintending Engineer of the Sone Circle. The Executive Engineer of the Gandak Division is, as Canal Officer under the Irrigation Act [III (B.C.) of 1876], charged with the proper maintenance and management of the canals, and with the control of the supply of water in them. All orders passed by him, or by the Subdivisional Canal Officer, are under the terms of that Act subject to correction on appeal to the Collector of Saran.

3. The following rules will be applicable to all irrigation effected from the Saran Canals in the kharif season of 1897-98.

4. Any person who wishes to make bunds in the canals must obtain the written permission of the Canal Subdivisional Officer before doing so.

5. Any person who constructs bunds in the canals, who interferes with the supply of water in them, or who takes water from them without the written permission of a duly authorised person, will render himself liable to the penalties defined in the Irrigation Act.

6. Any person who requires water from the channels of the Saran Canals must apply either to (a) the Patrol, (b) the Sectional Officer, or (c) the Subdivisional Canal Officer, who will take his signature on the Form A attached. If the application is approved, the Canal Subdivisional or Sectional Officer (all of whom are hereby empowered in that behalf) will grant a permit for irrigation in Form B.

7. Any person who holds a permit in Form B will be allowed to take canal water for irrigation, and he will be charged for it at the rates detailed in the following schedule :—

Schedule of rates for irrigation.

	Rs. A. P.
For bhadoi or rice crops irrigated between the 1st June and 25th of October	1 8 0

These rates apply equally to irrigation by lift and flow.

8. Persons who take water from any of the river channels named in rule I, without a permit in Form B, and persons who waste the water, are liable to be charged water-rates, under sections 79 and 80 of the Irrigation Act, at rates which shall be fixed by the Subdivisional Canal Officer, but which shall not be greater than twice the rate which would have been payable for licensed irrigation.

9. All water-rates assessed under rule 7 will be due on the 15th of December.

Water-rates assessed under rule 8 will be due as soon as the demand statement has been prepared.

10. The demand statements for water-rates due will be sent to the Collector as soon as possible after the irrigation in any village is completed, and a parcha, showing the area and amount assessed against each cultivator, will be sent to the rate-payer as soon as possible.

11. Any claim for remission of water-rates under section 76 (b), or for compensation under section 76 (c) of the Irrigation Act, must be presented in writing to the Subdivisional Canal Officer at least twenty days before the crop is cut. The Subdivisional Canal Officer shall, after such enquiry as he may consider necessary, pass orders on the application. Any application for remission presented direct to the Collector must be forwarded for the orders of the Canal Officer.

12. Objections to the demand statements must be presented within thirty days of the date on which the parcha is issued by the Subdivisional Canal Officer. He will pass orders on such objections.

13. Any person who is not satisfied with an order passed by the Subdivisional Canal Officer may appeal to the Collector under section 91 of the Irrigation Act. Such appeal must be accompanied by a copy of the order appealed against, and it must be submitted to the Collector within thirty days of the date of the order.

14. Remission statements must be signed by the Divisional Canal Officer. Any statement so signed shall be sufficient authority for a refund by the Collector.

15. No guarantee can be given either as to the volume or duration of the supply or of the delivery of any quantity of water at any particular point of any canal.

16. The Canal Officer will regulate the water passing into, and along, any canal to the best of his ability to meet requirements. If there is any difficulty in supplying all the channels, the Canal Officer will endeavour to divide the available supply as fairly as possible. The Canal Officer shall have complete control of the distribution of water.

SANITARY.

Simla, the 4th June 1897.

NOTIFICATION.

THE following documents regarding quarantine and trade restrictions imposed in foreign countries in consequence of the existence of bubonic plague in India are published for general information:—

Extract from the "Moniteur Belge" of the 21st April 1897, containing a report to the King of the Belgians and a Royal Decree, dated the 5th April 1897, carrying out the provisions of the International Sanitary Convention signed at Venice on the 19th March 1897.

Rapport au Roi.

Bruxelles, le 8 Avril, 1897.

Sire,

En signant la Convention Sanitaire Internationale de Venise, du 19 Mars, 1897, la délégation Belge, suivant l'exemple d'autres pays, a déclaré que, vu l'urgente nécessité de se défendre contre l'invasion de la peste, le Gouvernement, pour autant que cela lui sera possible, n'attendra pas l'expiration des délais de ratification, pour appliquer, en ce qui le concerne, les dispositions de la Convention.

C'est pour donner suite à cette déclaration que j'ai l'honneur de soumettre à votre Majesté le projet d'Arrêté ci-joint.

Les mesures actuellement en vigueur, dans le but de protéger le pays contre l'invasion de la maladie, ont été décrétées par l'Arrêté Royal du 8 Janvier, 1897, rendant applicables à la peste les dispositions de l'Arrêté Royal du 15 Juillet, 1895, relatif au choléra.

D'autres mesures ont été appliquées dans la suite par la Commission Sanitaire de l'Escaut, agissant à titre provisoire.

Le nouvel Arrête ci-joint a pour objet de mettre cet Arrête et ces mesures en harmonie avec les principes de la Convention.

La prophylaxie de la peste, telle qu'il l'organise, comprend les mesures sanitaires à prendre dans les ports at aux frontières de terre, à l'égard des voyageurs, des marchandises, et des bagages.

Les unes ont pour objet la visite médicale, l'isolement, et la désinfection des navires, des passagers et de l'équipage; les autres, les précautions à instituer quant aux voyageurs arrivant dans le pays par voie ferrée, aux voitures et wagons de chemin de fer.

La Convention n'impose pas la prohibition absolue des marchandises qui sont considérées comme suspects. Elle reconnaît la faculté de les soumettre à des défenses d'importation et de transit ou à la désinfection.

Usant de cette faculté je propose de prohiber les marchandises et objets suivants, sauf des dérogations, autorisées par décisions motivées, et moyennant de prescrire des précautions spéciales d'emballage, de désinfection, ou autres:—

1. Les linges de crops, hardes et vêtements portés (effets à usage), les literie servi lorsque ces objets sont transportés comme marchandises;
2. Les chiffons et les drilles;
3. Les sacs usés; les vieux tapis; les broderies ayant servi;
4. Les cuirs verts et les peaux fraîches;
5. Les débris frais d'animaux, onglons, sabots, crins, poils, soies de porc et laine brutes.
6. Les cheveux.

Cette défense d'importation et de transit est édictée d'une manière générale pour les objets, classés sous les Nos 1 à 3, parce qu'à raison de leur nature, de l'usage qu'en en a fait, ils ont pu être en contact avec des malades ou séjourner dans leur voisinage immédiat.

Les objets, rangés sous les Nos. 4 à 6, sont prohibés de même parce qu'ils proviennent de personnes (les cheveux) ou de certaines espèces d'animaux, tels que les rats, les souris, indubitablement sujets à contracter la peste et à la propager, les chiens, les moutons, les chèvres, les buffles, less bœufs, les porcs, que l'on suppose, sans en avoir toutefois la certitude, être susceptibles d'avoir également la maladie.

Des dispositions spéciales reglent ce qui a trait d'une part au transit des objects emballés de telle façon qu'ils ne puissent être manipulés en cours de route, d'autre part à l'importation et au transit de ceux qui n'ont pu être souillés pendant leur transport à travers une circonscription contaminée ; elles s'occupent aussi de ce qui concerne les objets qui ont été expédiés d'une pareille circonscription avant le premier cas de peste.

Il est entendu qu'il ne s'agit ici que des objets transportés comme marchandises.

Quant aux bagages, qu'ils accompagnent ou non le voyageur, la désinfection sera obligatoire pour le linge sale, les hardes, vêtements, et objets qui font partie de bagages ou de mobiliers (effets d'installation) provenant d'une circonscription territoriale déclarée contaminés

Il convient de remarquer, qu'en dehors des prohibitions imposées, l'autorité Sanitaire du port a le droit de soumettre à la désinfection tous les autres objets qu'elle rangerait dans cette catégorie ; ainsi, il est de nombreux petits objets, des échantillons, des bibelots que les matelots ou les passagers introduisent avec leurs bagages, et qu'ils revendent à l'arrivée du navire. Ces objets ne proviennent pas de grands ateliers où le danger de contamination n'existe guère, mais ont pu être achetés dans des habitations peut-être infectées.

Enfin, un Article du projet d'Arrêté donne au Ministre de l'Agriculture et des Travaux Publics le pouvoir de désigner les pays ou les parties de pays à l'égard desquels le régime prévu sera rendu applicable et de régler la mise à exécution et la durée des mesures prescrites.

Je suis, &c.

Le Ministre de l'Agriculture et des Travaux Publics,

(Signé) LEON DE BRUYN.

Léopold II, Roi des Belges, à tous présents et à venir, salut.

Vu le Décret Sanitaire du 18 Juillet, 1831, ainsi que les Règlements pris pour son exécution ;

Revu l'Arrêté Royal du* 8 Janvier, 1897, rendant applicables à la peste les dispositions de notre Arrêté du* 15 Juillet, 1895, relatif au choléra ;

Vu le texte, annexé au présent Arrêté, des Chapitres II, III, et IV du Règlement Général annexé à la Convention du 19 Mars, 1897, adoptée par la Conférence Sanitaire Internationale de Venise et relatif aux marchandises ou objets susceptibles, envisagés au point de vue des défenses d'importation ou de transit, ainsi qu'aux mesures à prendre aux frontières de terre et de mer, dans un but de protection contre l'invasion de la peste ;

Sur le rapport et la proposition de notre Ministre de l'Agriculture et des Travaux Publics,

Nous avons arrêté et arrêtons :

Article 1er. Sont interdits à l'entrée et au transit par les frontières de terre et de mer les marchandises et objets suivants venant de pays ou de circonscriptions territoriales déclarés contaminés de peste :—

1. Les linges de corps, hardes, et vêtements portés (effets à usage), les literies ayant servi, lorsque ces objets sont transportés comme marchandises ;
2. Les chiffons et les drilles ;
3. Les sacs usés ; les tapis vieux ; les broderies ayant servi ;
4. Les cuirs verts et les peaux fraîches ;
5. Les débris frais d'animaux, onglons, sabots, crins, poils, soies, et laines brutes ;
6. Les cheveux.

Toutefois, des Arrêtés Ministériels pourront lever cette prohibition en ce qui concerne les laines brutes, les cuirs verts, les peaux fraîches, et certaines catégories de chiffons et de tapis, moyennant de prescrire des précautions spéciales d'emballage, de désinfection, ou autres.

Art. 2. Le transit des marchandises et objets susceptibles, désignés à l'Article 1er n'est pas interdit lorsqu'il est effectué sous la surveillance de la Douane, pourvu que ces objets soient emballés de telle façon qu'ils ne puissent être manipulés en cours de route.

Art 3. L'importation et le transit des marchandises et objets visés á l'Article 1er et provenant de pays ou de circonscription territoriales non contaminés peuvent être soumis à des justifications de provenances, à la satisfaction de l'Administration des Douanes.

Ils seront admis à l'importation et au transit, même lorsqu'ils ont traversé une circonscription contaminée, s'il est démontré à la dite Administration qu'ils n'ont pas été en contact avec des objets souillés pendant leur transport à travers cette circonscription.

* Published in the Gazette of India under Home Department Notification No. 584, dated the 20th February 1897.

Art. 4. Les marchandises et objets visés à l'Article 1er ne tomberont pas sous l'application de mesures de prohibition à l'entrée, s'il est démontré à l'Administration des Douanes qu'ils ont été expédiés d'une région contaminée avant le premier cas de peste.

Art. 5. Notre Ministre de l'Agriculture et des Travaux Publics désignera les pays ou parties de pays à l'égard desquels le régime prévu par les dispositions qui précèdent sera rendu applicable et réglera la mise à exécution et la durée des mesures prescrites.

Art. 6. Les mesures à prendre dans les ports à l'égard des navires considérés comme infectés, suspects, ou indemnes, ou point de vue de la visite médicale, de l'isolement, et de la désinfection seront conformes aux prescriptions du Règlement Général annexé à la Convention de Venise, prérappelée.

Notre Ministre de l'Agriculture et des Travaux Publics pourra appliquer aux frontières de terre et de mer les mesures jugées nécessaires, en ce qui concerne les voyageurs, les bagages, et les objets transportés à la suite d'un changement de domicile, dans les limites arrêtées par la dite Convention.

Art. 7. Sont abrogés l'Arrêté Royal susvisé du 8 Janvier, 1897, et toutes les mesures édictées par la Commission Sanitaire de l'Escaut qui sont contraires au présent Arrêté.

Art. 8. Notre Ministre de l'Agriculture et des Travaux Publics est chargé de l'exécution du présent Arrêté.

London;

May 11, 1897.

The Board of Trade have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a despatch from Her Majesty's Representative at Berlin, intimating that in future articles specified in the Imperial Order of the 8th February last, which have been shipped in India before the outbreak of the plague and have since been warehoused in England, will be admitted into Prussian ports on condition that proof of the above is provided under the certificate of the local Imperial Consul or the attestation of the police officials or Chamber of Commerce in the port of lading, certified by the Consul, and that in the case of untanned, air-dried hides there is naturally no necessity for such a certificate in view of the exception made in favour of this article.

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

READ—The following paper:—

No. 949—159G., dated 30th April 1897.

FROM—COMMANDER H. A. STREET, R.I.M., Presidency Port Officer, Madras,
TO—The Secretary to Government, Marine Department.

IT has been brought to my notice that at the port of Cochin boats containing cargo and coolies for working the cargo not only proceed alongside of an in-coming vessel, but that the coolies go on board without waiting until the Health Officer has boarded the vessel and granted pratique. As this occurs principally in the case of coasting vessels which only remain at the port a few hours, it has been found impracticable to prosecute the Commander for a breach of Quarantine Rule No. II (G. O. No. 116 Marine, dated 12th February 1897) without delaying the vessel, and as it is practically impossible for the master of a trading vessel to prevent boats coming alongside or to keep coolies from scrambling on board, the Port Officer suggests that a rule should be added to the quarantine rules (published in the order of Government above quoted) prohibiting tindals of registered boats from taking those boats alongside of an in-coming vessel until such vessel has been granted pratique. In this view I concur and submit, for approval, the accompanying draft rule, which I think will meet the case and may be issued as rule VIII (a).

Enclosure.

VIII (a). No tindal or other person in charge of, or navigating, any registered boat shall attempt to make such boat fast to, or shall take it alongside of, a vessel in quarantine or coming from an infected port, until such vessel has been granted pratique by the Health Officer of the port.

Order No. 435 Marine, dated 10th May 1897.

His Excellency the Governor in Council approves of the proposed rule, which will be published as rule 1 (c) of the Regulations sanctioned in G. O. No. 363 Marine, dated 22nd April 1897.

2. The following Notification will be published accordingly in the Fort St. George and all Maritime District Gazettes:—

Notification.

In exercise of the powers delegated to him by the Governor-General in Council under section 2, sub-section (3) of the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897, His Excellency the Governor in Council is pleased to prescribe, under the said Epidemic Diseases Act, the following temporary regulation as an addition to those published in the Fort St. George Gazette of the 11th May 1897:—

1 (c). No tindal or other person in charge of, or navigating, any registered boat shall attempt to make such boat fast to, or shall take it alongside of, a vessel in quarantine or coming from an infected port until such vessel has been granted pratique by the Health Officer of the port.

3. This regulation will have effect from date of publication thereof.

The 15th February 1897.

No. 36Marine.—The following orders in Council, and the Regulations for preventing collisions at sea appended thereto, are published for general information. The revised Regulations, dated the 27th November 1896, will come into force on the 1st of July 1897.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 11th day of August 1884.

PRESENT:

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas by Order in Council made in pursuance of the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862, and dated the fourteenth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, Her Majesty, on the joint recommendation of the Admiralty and the Board of Trade, was pleased to direct that on and after the first day of September, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, the Regulations for preventing Collisions at Sea contained in an Order in Council dated the ninth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and the additions by an Order in Council dated the thirteenth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, made thereto, should be annulled, and that there should be substituted therefor the new Regulations contained in the first schedule to the said first-named Order in Council, and that the same should from and after the first day of September, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, apply to ships of the countries mentioned in the said second schedule thereto, whether within British jurisdiction or not.

And whereas by the Orders in Council dated respectively the twenty-fourth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, the twenty-sixth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one, the eighteenth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, the twenty-third day of August, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three, and the second day of February, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-four, Her Majesty was pleased to direct that the operation of the Article numbered 10 of the New Regulations contained in the first schedule of the said Order in Council of the fourteenth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, should be suspended from time to time.

And whereas the Admiralty and the Board of Trade have jointly recommended to Her Majesty that, so far as regards British ships and Boats, the regulations hereinafter set forth shall be substituted for the regulations contained in the first schedule to the said Order in Council of the fourteenth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine.

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue of the powers vested in Her by the said recited Act, and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council is pleased to direct that, on and after the first day of September, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-four the regulations contained in the schedule, hereto shall, so far as regards British ships and boats, be substituted for the regulations contained in the first schedule to the said Order in Council of the fourteenth day of August one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine.

SCHEDULE REFERRED TO IN THIS ORDER.

Regulations for preventing Collisions at Sea.

Article 1.—In the following rules every steam ship which is under sail and not under steam is to be considered a sailing ship; and every steam ship which is under steam, whether under sail or not, is to be considered a ship under steam.

Rules concerning Lights.

Article 2.—The lights mentioned in the following Articles numbered 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11, and no others, shall be carried in all weathers, from sunset to sunrise.

Article 3.—A seagoing steam ship when under way shall carry :—

(a) On or in front of the foremast, at a height above the hull of not less than 20 feet, and if the breadth of the ship exceeds 20 feet, then at a height above the hull not less than such breadth, a bright white light, so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light 10 points on each side of the ship, viz., from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on either side, and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least five miles.

(b) On the starboard side a green light, so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on the starboard side, and of such a character as to be visibleon a dark night with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least two miles.

(c) On the port side a red light, so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on the port side, and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least two miles.

(d) The said green and red side lights shall be fitted with inboard screens projecting at least 3 feet forward from the light, so as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

Article 4.—A steam ship, when towing another ship shall, in addition to her side lights, carry two bright white lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 3 feet apart, so as to distinguish her from other steam ships. Each of these lights shall be of the same construction and character, and shall be carried in the same position, as the white light which other steam ships are required to carry.

Article 5 (a).—A ship, whether a steam ship or a sailing ship, which from any accident is not under command, shall at night carry in the same position as the white light which steam ships are required to carry, and, if a steam ship, in place of that light, three red lights in globular lanterns, each not less than 10 inches in diameter, in a vertical line one over the other not less than three feet apart, and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night with a clear atmosphere at a distance of at least two miles; and shall by day carry in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart, in front of but not lower than her foremast head, three black balls or shapes, each two feet in diameter.

(b) A ship, whether a steam ship or sailing ship employed in laying or in picking up a telegraph cable, shall at night carry in the same position as the white light which steam ships are required to carry, and if a steam ship, in place of that light, three lights in globular lanterns each not less than 10 inches in diameter, in vertical line over one another, not less than 6 feet apart; the highest and lowest of these lights shall be red, and the middle light shall be white, and they shall be of such a character that the red lights shall be visible at the same distance as the white light. By day she shall carry in a vertical line one over the other not less than six feet apart, in front of but not lower than her foremast head, three shapes not less than two feet in diameter, of which the top and bottom shall be globular in shape and red in colour, and the middle one diamond in shape and white.

(c) The ships referred to in this Article, when not making any way through the water, shall not carry the side lights, but when making way shall carry them.

(d) The lights and shapes required to be shown by this Article are to be taken by other ships as signals that the ship showing them is not under command, and cannot therefore get out of the way. The signals to be made by ships in distress and requiring assistance are contained in Article 27.

Article 6.—A sailing ship under way or being towed shall carry the same lights as are provided by Article 3 for a steam ship under way, with the exception of the white light, which she shall never carry.

Article 7.—Whenever, as in the case of small vessels during bad weather, the green and red side lights cannot be fixed, these lights shall be kept on deck, on their respective sides of the vessel, ready for use; and shall, on the approach of or to other vessels, be exhibited on their respective sides in sufficient time to prevent collision, in such manner as to make them most visible, and so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side.

To make the use of these portable lights more certain and easy, the lanterns containing them shall each be painted outside with the colour of the light they respectively contain, and shall be provided with proper screens.

Article 8.—A ship, whether a steam ship or a sailing ship, when at anchor, shall carry, where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding 20 feet above the hull, a white light, in a globular lantern of not less than 8 inches in diameter, and so constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light visible all round the horizon, at a distance of at least one mile.

Article 9.—A pilot vessel, when engaged on her station on pilotage duty, shall not carry the light required for other vessels, but shall carry a white light at the masthead, visible all round the horizon, and shall also exhibit a flare-up light or flare-up lights at short intervals, which shall never exceed fifteen minutes.

A pilot vessel, when not engaged on her station on pilotage duty, shall carry lights similar to those of other ships.

Article 10.—Open boats and fishing vessels of less than 20 tons net registered tonnage, when under way and when not having their nets, trawls, dredges, or lines in the water, shall not be obliged to carry the coloured side lights; but every such boat and vessel shall in lieu thereof have ready at hand a lantern with a green glass on the one side, and a red glass on the other side, and on approaching to or being approached by another vessel such lantern shall be exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision, so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side.

The following portion of this Article applies only to fishing vessels and boats when in the sea off the coast of Europe lying north of Cape Finisterre:—

(a) All fishing vessels and fishing boats of 20 tons net registered tonnage, or upward, when under way and when not required by the following regulations in this Article to carry and show the lights therein named shall carry and show the same lights as other vessels under way.

(b) All vessels when engaged in fishing with drift nets shall exibit two white lights from any part of the vessel where they can be best seen. Such lights shall be placed so that the vertical distance between them shall be not less than 6 feet and not more than 10 feet; and so that the horizontal distance between them measured in a line with the keel of the vessel shall be not less than 5 feet and not more than 10 feet. The lower of these two lights shall be the more forward, and both of them shall be of such a character, and contained in lanterns of such construction as to show all round the horizon, on a dark night with a clear atmosphere, for a distance of not less than three miles.

(c) A vessel employed in line fishing with her lines out shall carry the same lights as a vessel when engaged in fishing with drift nets.

(d) If a vessel when fishing becomes stationary in consequence of her gear getting fast to a rock or other obstruction, she shall show the light and make the fog signal for a vessel at anchor.

(e) Fishing vessels and open boats may at any time use a flare-up in addition to the lights which they are by this Article required, to carry and show. All flare-up lights exhibited by a vessel when trawling dredging, or fishing with any kind of drag net shall be shown at the after part of the vessel, expecting that if the vessel is hanging by the stern to her trawl, dredge, or drag net, they shall be exhibited from the bow.

(f) Every fishing vessel and every open boat when at anchor between sunset and sunrise shall exhibit a white light visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least one mile.

(g) In fog, mist, or falling snow, a drift net vessel attached to her nets and a vessel when trawling, dredging or fishing with any kind of drag net, and a vessel employed in line fishing with her lines out, shall at intervals of not more than two minutes make a blast with her fog horn and ring her bell alternately.

Article 11. A ship which is being overtaken by another shall show from her stern to such last-mentioned ship a white light or a flare-up light.

Sound signals for fog, &c.

Article 12. A steam ship shall be provided with a steam whistle or other efficient steam sound signal, so placed that the sound may not be intercepted by any obstructions, and with an efficient fog horn to be sounded by a bellows or other mechanical means, and also with an efficient bell.* A sailing ship shall be provided with a similar fog horn and bell.

In fog, mist, or falling snow, whether by day or night, the signals described in this Article shall be used as follows; that is to say,—

(a) A steam ship under way shall make with her steam whistle, or other steam sound signal, at intervals of not more than two minutes, a prolonged blast.

(b) A sailing ship under way shall make with her fog horn, at intervals of not more than two minutes, when on the starboard tack one blast, when on the port tack two blasts in succession, and when with the wind abaft the beam three blasts in succession.

(c) A steam ship and a sailing ship, when not under way, shall at intervals of not more than two minutes ring the bell.

Speed of ships to be moderate in fog, &c.

Steering and Sailing Rules.

Article 14. When two sailing ships are approaching one another, so as to involve risk of collision, one of them shall keep out of the way of the other, as follows, viz.:—

(a) A ship which is running free shall keep out of the way of a ship which is close-hauled.

(b) A ship which is close-hauled on the port tack shall keep out of the way of a ship which is close-hauled on the starboard tack.

(c) When both are running free with the wind on different sides, the ship which has the wind on the port side shall keep out of the way of the other.

(d) When both are running free with the wind on the same side, the ship which is to windward shall keep out of the way of the ship which is to leeward.

(e) A ship which has the wind aft shall keep out of the way of the other ship.

Article 15. If two ships under steam are meeting end on, or nearly end on, so as to involve risk of collision, each shall alter her course to starboard, so that each may pass on the port side of the other.

This Article only applies to cases where ships are meeting end on, or nearly end on, in such a manner as to involve risk of collision, and does not apply to two ships which must, if both keep on their respective courses, pass clear of each other.

* In all cases where the Regulations require a bell to be used, a drum will be substituted on board Turkish vessels.

The only cases to which it does apply are, when each of the two ships is end on, or nearly end on, to the other; in other words, to cases in which, by day, each ship sees the masts of the other in a line, or nearly in a line with her own; and by night, to cases in which each ship is in such a position as to see both the side lights of the other.

It does not apply by day to cases in which a ship sees another ahead crossing her own course or by night to cases where the red light of one ship is opposed to the red light of the other or where the green light of one ship is opposed to the green light of the other, or where a red light without a green light, or a green light without a red light, is seen ahead, or where both green and red lights are seen anywhere but ahead.

Article 16. If two ships under steam are crossing so as to involve risk of collision, the ship which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way of the other.

Article 17. If two ships, one of which is a sailing ship and the other a steam ship, are proceeding in such directions as to involve risk of collision, the steam ship shall keep out of the way of the sailing ship.

Article 18. Every steam ship, when approaching another ship, so as to involve risk of collision, shall slacken her speed or stop and reverse, if necessary.

Article 19. In taking any course authorised or required by these regulations, a steam ship under way may indicate that course to any other ship which she has in sight by the following signals on her steam whistle, viz.—

One short blast to mean "I am directing my course to starboard."
Two short blasts to mean "I am directing my course to port."
Three short blasts to mean "I am going full speed astern."

The use of these signals is optional, but if they are used the course of the ship must be in accordance with the signal made.

Article 20. Notwithstanding anything contained in any preceding Article, every ship, whether a sailing ship or a steam ship, overtaking any other, shall keep out of the way of the overtaken ship.

Article 21. In narrow channels every steam ship shall, when it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of the fairway or mid-channel which lies on the starboard side of such ship.

Article 22. Where by the above rules one of two ships is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep her course.

Article 23. In obeying and construing these rules due regard shall be had to all dangers of navigation, and to any special circumstances which may render a departure from the above rules necessary in order to avoid immediate danger.

No ship under any circumstances to neglect proper precautions.

Article 24. Nothing in these rules shall exonerate any ship, or the owner, or master, or crew thereof, from the consequences of any neglect to carry lights or signals, or of any neglect to keep a proper look out, or of the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen, or by the special circumstances of the case.

Reservation of Rules for Harbours and Inland Navigation.

Article 25. Nothing in these rules shall interfere with the operation of a special rule, duly made by local authority, relative to the navigation of any harbour, river, or inland navigation.

Special lights for Squadrons and Convoys.

Article 26. Nothing in these rules shall interfere with the operation of any special rules made by the Government of any nation with respect to additional station and signal lights for two or more ships of war or for ships sailing under convoy.

Article 27. When a ship is in distress and requires assistance from other ships or from the shore, the following shall be the signals to be used or displayed by her, either together or separately, that is to say:

In the day time—

1. A gun fired at intervals of about a minute;
2. The International Code signal of distress indicated by N C;
3. The distant signal, consisting of a square flag, having either above or below it a ball, or anything resembling a ball.

At night—

1. A gun fired at intervals of about a minute;
2. Flames on the ship (as from a burning tar barrel, oil barrel, &c.);
3. Rockets or shells, throwing stars of any colour or description, fired one at a time, at short intervals.

And whereas by an Order in Council dated the 11th day of August 1884, and expressed to be made in pursuance of the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862, and on the joint recommendation of the Admiralty and the Board of Trade, Her Majesty was pleased to direct that, on and after the first day of September 1884, the regulations contained in the Schedule thereto (being regulations for preventing collisions at sea and as to signals of distress) should be substituted for the regulations contained in the First Schedule to an Order in Council made under the same Act and on such joint recommendations as aforesaid and dated the 14th day of August 1879:

And whereas the Admiralty and the Board of Trade have jointly recommended to Her Majesty that the Regulations for preventing collisions at sea contained in the Schedule to the said Order in Council, dated the 11th day of August 1884, except the Article numbered 10 in such Regulations, should, on and after the 1st day of July 1897, be annulled, and that the Regulations for Preventing Collisions at Sea contained in Schedule I hereto annexed should, on and after the last-mentioned date, be substituted therefor, with the exception aforesaid and come into operation as regards British ships and boats:

And whereas it has been made to appear to Her Majesty that it is expedient that the Regulations or Rules as to signals of distress contained in the Schedule to the said Order in Council, dated the 11th day of August 1884, should, on and after the said first day of July 1897, be annulled, and that the rules as to signals of distress contained in Schedule II hereto annexed should, on and after the last-mentioned date, be substituted therefor and come into operation as regards British ships and boats:

And whereas the provisions of section one of the Rules Publication Act, 1893, have been complied with:

C. L. PEEL.

Preliminary.

These Rules shall be followed by all vessels upon the high seas and in all waters connected therewith, navigable by sea-going vessels.

In the following rules every steam vessel which is under sail and not under steam is to be considered a sailing vessel, and every vessel under steam, whether under sail or not, is to be considered a steam vessel.

The word "steam vessel" shall include any vessel propelled by machinery.

A vessel is "under way" within the meaning of these Rules, when she is not at anchor, or made fast to the shore or aground.

Rules concerning Lights, &c.

The word "visible" in these Rules, when applied to lights, shall mean visible on a dark night with clear atmosphere.

Article 1.—The Rules concerning lights shall be complied with in all weathers from sunset to sunrise and during such time no other lights which may be mistaken for the prescribed lights shall be exhibited.

Article 2.—A steam vessel when under way shall carry—

(a) On or in front of the foremast, or if a vessel without a foremast, then in the fore part of the vessel, at a height above the hull of not less than 20 feet, and if the breadth of the vessel exceeds 20 feet, then at a height above the hull not less than such breadth, so, however, that the light need not be carried at a greater height above the hull than 40 feet, a bright white light, so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light 10 points on each side of the vessel, viz., from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on either side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 5 miles.

(b) On the starboard side a green light so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on the starboard side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(c) On the port side a red light so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the port side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(d) The said green and red side-lights shall be fitted with inboard screens projecting at least 3 feet forward from the light, so as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

(e) A steam vessel when under way may carry an additional white light similar in construction to the light mentioned in subdivision (a). These two lights shall be so placed in line with the keel that one shall be at least 15 feet higher than the other, and in such a position with reference to each other that the lower light shall be forward of the upper one. The vertical distance between these lights shall be less than the horizontal distance.

Article 3.—A steam vessel when towing another vessel shall, in addition to her side-lights, carry two bright white lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart, and when towing more than one vessel shall carry an additional bright white light 6 feet above or below such lights, if the length of the tow, measuring from the stern of the towing vessel to the stern of the last vessel towed exceeds 600 feet. Each of these lights shall be of the same construction and character, and shall be carried in the same position as the white light mentioned in Article 2 (a), except the additional light, which may be carried at a height of not less than 14 feet above the hull.

Such steam vessel may carry a small white light abaft the funnel or aftermast for the vessel towed to steer by, but such light shall not be visible forward of the beam.

Article 4 (a).—A vessel which from any accident is not under command shall carry at the same height as the white light mentioned in Article 2 (a), where they can best be seen, and, if a steam vessel, in lieu of that light two red lights, in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart, and of such a character as to be visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least 2 miles, and shall by day carry in a vertical line one over the other not less than 6 feet apart, where they can best be seen, two black balls or shapes each 2 feet in diameter.

(b) A vessel employed in laying or in picking up a telegraph cable shall carry in the same position as the white light mentioned in Article 2 (a), and if a steam vessel, in lieu of that light, three lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart. The highest and lowest of these lights shall be red, and the middle light shall be white, and they shall be of such a character as to be visible all round the horizon, at a distance of at least 2 miles. By day she shall carry in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart, where they can best be seen, three shapes not less than 2 feet in diameter, of which the highest and lowest shall be globular in shape and red in colour, and the middle one diamond in shape and white.

(c) The vessels referred to in this Article, when not making way through the water, shall not carry the side lights, but when making way shall carry them.

(d) The lights and shapes required to be shown by this Article are to be taken by other vessels as signal that the vessel showing them is not under command and cannot therefore get out of the way.

These signals are not signals of vessels in distress and requiring assistance. Such signals are contained in Article 31.

Article 5.—A sailing vessel under way, and any vessel being towed, shall carry the same lights as are prescribed by Article 2 for a steam vessel under way, with the exception of the white lights mentioned therein which they shall never carry.

Article 6.—Whenever, as in the case of small vessels under way during bad weather, the green and red side-lights cannot be fixed, these lights shall be kept at hand lighted and ready for use; and shall, on the approach of or to other vessels, be exhibited on their respective sides in sufficient time to prevent collision, in such manner as to make them most visible, and so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side, nor, if practicable, more than 2 points abaft the beam on their respective sides.

To make the use of these portable lights more certain and easy, the lanterns containing them shall each be painted outside with the colour of the light they respectively contain, and shall be provided with proper screens.

Article 7.—Steam vessels of less than 40, and vessels under oars or sails of less than 20 tons gross tonnage, respectively, and rowing boats, when underway, shall not be obliged to carry the lights mentioned in Article 2 (a) (b) and (c), but if they do not carry them, they shall be provided with the following lights :—

1. Steam vessels of less than 40 tons shall carry :

(a) In the fore part of the vessel, or on or in front of the funnel where it can best be seen, and at a height above the gunwale of not less than 9 feet, a bright white light constructed and fixed as prescribed in Article 2 (a), and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(b) Green and red side-lights constructed and fixed as prescribed in Article 2 (b) and (c), and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 1 mile, or a combined lantern showing a green light and a red light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on their respective sides. Such lantern shall be carried not less than 3 feet below the white light.

2. Small steamboats, such as are carried by sea-going vessels, may carry the white light at a less height than 9 feet above the gunwale, but it shall be carried above the combined lantern, mentioned in subdivision 1 (b).

3. Vessels under oars or sails, of less than 20 tons, shall have ready at hand a lantern with a green glass on one side and a red glass on the other, which, on the approach of or two other vessels, shall be exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision, so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side.

4. Rowing boats, whether under oars, or sail, shall have ready at hand a lantern showing a white light, which shall be temporarily exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision.

The vessels referred to in this Article shall not be obliged to carry the lights prescribed by Article 4 (a) and Article 11, last paragraph.

Article 8.—Pilot vessels, when engaged on their station on pilotage duty shall not show the lights required for other vessels, but shall carry a white light at the masthead, visible all round the horizon, and shall also exhibit a flare-up light or flare-up lights at short intervals, which shall never exceed 15 minutes.

On the near approach of or to other vessels they shall have their side-lights lighted, ready for use, and shall flash or show them at short intervals, to indicate the direction in which they are heading, but the green light shall not be shown on the port side, nor the red light on the starboard side.

A pilot-vessel of such a class as to be obliged to go alongside of a vessel to put a pilot on board, may show the white light instead of carrying it at the masthead, and may, instead of the coloured lights above mentioned, have at hand ready for use a lantern with a green glass on the one side and a red glass on the other, to be used as prescribed above.

Pilot vessels, when not engaged on their station on pilotage duty, shall carry lights similar to those of other vessels of their tonnage.

*Article 9.

Article 10.—A vessel which is being overtaken by another shall show from her stern to such last-mentioned vessel a white light or a flare-up light.

The white light required to be shown by this Article may be fixed and carried in a lantern, but in such case the lantern shall be so constructed, fitted, and screened that it shall throw an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 12 points of the compass, viz., for 6 points from right aft on each side of the vessel, so as to be visible at a distance of at least 1 mile. Such light shall be carried as nearly as practicable on the same level as the side-lights.

Article 11.—A vessel under 150 feet in lenght, when at anchor, shall carry forward, where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding 20 feet above the hull, a white light in a lantern as constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least 1 mile.

A vessel of 150 feet or upwards in length, when at anchor, shall carry in the forward part of the vessel, at a height of not less than 20, and not exceeding 40 feet above the hull, one such light and at or near the stern of the vessel, and at such a height that it shall be not less than 15 feet lower than the forward light, another such light.

The length of a vessel shall be deemed to be the length appearing in her certificate of registry.

A vessel aground in or near a fairway shall carry the above light or lights and the two red lights prescribed by Article 4 (a).

Article 12.—Every vessel may, if necessary in order to attract attention, in addition to the lights which she is by these Rules required to carry, show a flare-up light or use any detonating signal that cannot be mistaken for a distress signal.

Article 13.—Nothing in these Rules shall interfere with the operation of any special rules made by the Government of any nation with respect to additional station and signal lights for two or more ships of war or for vessels sailing under convoy, or with the exhibition of recognition signals adopted by shipowners, which have been authorized by their respective Governments and duly registered and published.

* This Article will deal with regulations affecting fishing boats, and will be the subject of another Order, which will be submitted to Her Majesty for approval at a later date.

Article 14.—A steam vessel proceeding under sail only, but having her funnel up, shall carry in daytime, forward, where it can best be seen, one black ball or shape 2 feet in diameter.

Sound-Signals for Fog, etc.

Article 15.—All signals prescribed by this Article for vessels under way shall be given :

1. By "steam vessels" on the whistle or siren.
2. By "sailing vessels and vessels towed" on the fog-horn.

The words "prolonged blast" used in this Article, shall mean a blast of from 4 to 6 seconds' duration.

A steam vessel shall be provided with an efficient whistle or siren, sounded by steam or some substitute for steam, so placed that the sound may not be intercepted by any obstruction, and with an efficient fog-horn, to be sounded by mechanical means, and also with an efficient bell.* A sailing vessel of 20 tons gross tonnage or upwards shall be provided with a similar fog-horn and bell.

In fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain storms, whether by day or night, the signals described in this Article shall be used as follows, viz. :—

(a) A steam vessel having way upon her, shall sound, at intervals of not more than 2 minutes, a prolonged blast.

(b) A steam vessel under way, but stopped and having no way upon her, shall sound at intervals of not more than 2 minutes, 2 prolonged blasts, with an interval of about 1 second between them.

(c) A sailing vessel under way shall sound, at intervals of not more than 1 minute, when on the starboard tack one blast, when on the port tack two blasts in succession, and when with the wind abaft the beam three blasts in succession.

(d) A vessel, when at anchor, shall, at intervals of not more than 1 minute, ring the bell rapidly for about 5 seconds.

(e) A vessel, when towing a vessel employed in laying or in picking up a telegraph cable, and a vessel under way, which is unable to get out of the way of an approaching vessel through being not under command, or unable to manœuvre as required by these Rules, shall, instead of the signals prescribed in sub-divisions (a) and (c) of the Article, at intervals of not more than 2 minutes, sound three blasts in succession, viz., one prolonged blast followed by two short blasts. A vessel towed may give this signal and she shall not give any other.

Sailing-vessels and boats of less than 20 tons gross tonnage shall not be obliged to give the above-mentioned signals, but if they do not, they shall make some other efficient sound-signal at intervals of not more than 1 minute.

Speed of Ships to be Moderate in Fog, etc.

Article 16.—Every vessel shall, in a fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain-storms, go at a moderate speed having careful regard to the existing circumstances and conditions.

A steam vessel hearing, apparently forward of her beam, the fog-signal of a vessel the position of which is not ascertained, shall, so far as the circumstances of the case admit, stop her engines, and then navigate with caution until danger of collision is over.

Steering and Sailing Rules.

Preliminary—Risk of Collision.

Risk of collision can, when circumstances permit, be ascertained by carefully watching the compass bearing of an approaching vessel. If the bearing does not appreciably change, such risk should be deemed to exist.

Article 17.—When two sailing vessels are approching one another, so as to involve risk of collision, one of them shall keep out of the way of the other, as follows, viz :—

(a) A vessel which is running free shall keep out of the way of a vessel which is close-hauled.

(b) A vessel which is close hauled on the port tack shall keep out of the way of a vessel which is close-hauled on the starboard tack.

(c) When both are running free, with the wind on different sides, the vessel which has the wind on the port side shall keep out of the way of the other.

(d) When both are running free, with the wind on the same side, the vessel which is to windward shall keep out of the way of the vessel which is to leeward.

(e) A vessel which has the wind aft shall keep out of the way of the other vessel.

Article 18.—When two steam vessels are meeting end on, or nearly end on, so as to involve risk of collision, each shall alter her course to starboard, so that each may pass on the per side of the other.

This Article only applies to cases where vessels are meeting end on, or nearly end on, in such a manner as to involve risk of collision, and does not apply to two vessels which must, if both keep on their respective courses, pass clear of each other.

* In all cases where the Rules require a bell to be used, a drum may be substituted on board Turkish vessels, or a gong where such articles are used on board shall sea-going vessels.

The only cases to which it does apply are when each of the two vessels is end on, or nearly end on, to the other; in other words to cases in which, by day, each vessel sees the masts of the other in a line, or nearly in a line, with her own; and, by night, to cases in which each vessel is in such a position as to see both the side-lights of the other.

It does not apply, by day, to cases in which a vessel sees another ahead crossing her own course; or by night to cases where the red light of one vessel is opposed to the red light of the other, or where the green light of one vessel is opposed to the green light of the other, or where a red light without a green light, or a green light without a red light, is seen ahead, or where both green and red lights are seen any where but ahead.

Article 19.—When two steam vessels are crossing, so as to involve risk of collision, the vessel which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way of the other.

Article 20.—When a steam vessel and a sailing vessel are proceeding in such directions as to involve risk of collision, the steam vessel shall keep out of the way of the sailing vessel.

Article 21.—Where by any of the Rules one of two vessels is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep her course and speed.

Note.—When, in consequence of thick weather or other causes, such vessel finds herself so close that collision cannot be avoided by the action of the giving-way vessel alone, she also shall take such action as will best aid to avert collision. (See articles 27 and 29.)

Article 22.—Every vessel which is directed by these Rules to keep out of the way of another vessel shall, if the circumstances of the case admit, avoid crossing ahead of the other.

Article 23.—Every steam vessel, which is directed by these Rules to keep out of the way of another vessel shall on approaching her, if necessary, slacken her speed or stop or reverse.

Article 24.—Notwithstanding anything contained in these Rules, every vessel, overtaking any other, shall keep out of the way of the overtaken vessel.

Every vessel coming up with another vessel from any direction more than two points abaft, her beam, i.e., in such a position, with reference to the vessel which she is overtaking, that at night she would be unable to see either of that vessel's side-lights, shall be deemed to be an overtaking vessel; and no subsequent alteration of the bearing between the two vessels shall make the overtaking vessel a crossing vessel within the meaning of these Rules, or relieve her of the duty of keeping clear of the overtaken vessel until she is finally past and clear.

As by day the overtaking vessel cannot always know with certainty whether she is forwarded of or abaft this direction from the other vessel, she should, if in doubt, assume that she is an overtaking vessel and keep out of the way.

Article 25.—In narrow channels every steam vessel shall, when it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of fair-way or mid channel which lies on the starboard side of such vessel.

Article 26.—Sailing vessels under way shall keep out of the way of sailing vessels or boats fishing with nets or lines, or trawls. This Rule shall not give to any vessel or boat engaged in fishing the right of obstructing a fairway used by vessels other than fishing-vessels or boats.

Article 27.—In obeying and construing these Rules, due regard shall be had to all dangers of navigation and collision, and to any special circumstances which may render a departure from the above rules necessary in order to avoid immediate danger.

Sound Signals for Vessels in Sight of one another.

Article 28.—The words "short blast" used in this Article shall mean a blast of about one seconds duration

When vessels are in sight of one another, a steam vessel under way, in taking any course authorized or required by these Rules, shall indicate that course by the following signals on her whistle or siren, viz.:—

One short blast to mean, "I am directing my course to starboard."
Two short blasts to mean, "I am directing my course to port."
Three short blasts to mean, "My engines are going full speed astern."

No Vessel under any Circumstances to neglect proper Precautions.

Article 29.—Nothing in these Rules shall exonerate any vessel, or the owner, or master, or crew, thereof, from the consequences of any neglect to carry lights or signals, or of any neglect to keep a proper look-out, or of the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen, or by the special circumstances of the case.

Reservation of Rules for Harbours and Inland Navigation.

Article 30.—Nothing in these Rules shall interfere with the operation of a special rule, duly made by local authority, relative to the navigation of any harbour, river, or inland waters.

SCHEDULE II.

Distress Signals.

Article 31.—When a vessel is in distress and requires assistance from other vessels or from the shore, the following shall be the signals to be used or displayed by her, either together or separately, viz.:—

In the day time—

1. A gun or other explosive signal fired at intervals of about a minute;
2. The International Code signal of distress indicated by N C;
3. The distance signal, consisting of a square flag, having either above or below it a ball or anything resembling a ball;
4. A continuous sounding with any fog-signal apparatus.

A night—

1. A gun or other explosive signal fired at intervals of about a minute;
2. Flames on the vessel (as from a burning tar-barrel, oil-barrel, etc.);
3. Rockets or shells, throwing stars of any colour or description, fired one at a time, at short intervals;
4. A continuous sounding with any fog-signal apparatus.

The Government has accordingly instructed the Accountant-General, Bengal, to pass such allowances pending the orders of the Government of India on the subject. The officers concerned are therefore requested to communicate with the Accounts Office in the matter.

AUSTRALIA, EAST COAST—Hervey bay.

Leading lights on Little Woody island.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 271 of 1897) that two pairs of white leading lights were exhibited on Little Woody island on 31st March 1897, but their exact positions are not given:—

1. The two lights visible from the northward are 450 feet apart, bear when in line S. 43° E., and then lead about 2 cables eastward of Long Middle bank buoy.
2. The two lights visible from the southward are 350 feet apart, bear when in line N. 3° E., and then lead nearly midway between the black buoy at the south extreme of New Grounds and the red beacon on the opposite side of the channel.

Approximate position, Woody island summit, lat. 25° 19′ 10″ S., long. 153° 2′ 25″ E.

[First Publication.]

AFRICA NORTH-EAST—Red sea, wetern shore.

North Massawa channel approach—Search for certain dangers.

The following Notice to Mariners (No. 274 of 1897), issued by the British Admiralty, is republished:—

The undermentioned information, relating to a recent search for King Arthur shoal and Akbar rock, and an examination of Gannet bank, has been received from Lieutenant and Commander H. J. Gedge, H.M. Surveying Vessel Stork:—

1. King Arthur shoal.—With reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 205 of 1889, on the steam-vessel King Arthur striking on a shoal with a depth of about 2¼ fathoms on it, reported to be situated in approximately lat. 17° 10′ N., long. 39° 10′ E.

   In the search by the Stork for this danger the least water obtained was 10 fathoms, in approximately lat. 17° 8′ N., long. 39° 8′ E.; it is, however, considered probable the rock exists and is small. Consequently the the words "Rock reported hereabout" have been retained on Admiralty Chart against the above position of the 10 fathoms.

2. Akbar rock.—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 448 of 1892, on the steam-vessel Akbar (draught 20 feet) touching on a shoal in a position (considered very doubtful) in lat. 16° 47′ N., long. 39° 12′ E.

This rock was not found by the Stork, the least depth obtained being 10 fathoms, in approximately lat. 16° 44′ 30″ N., long. 39° 12′ 45″ E. In this case also it is considered probable that the rock exists and is small. Consequently the words "Rock reported hereabout" have been written on the Admiralty Chart against the above position of the 10 fathoms.

3. Gannet bank.—A coral head, with a least depth of 3¾ fathoms over it, was found on Gannet bank; and the position of this head was determined to be about 1¾ miles, N.W., from its previously charted position, or approximately in lat. 16° 59′ 55″ N., long. 39° 12′ 25″ E.

This bank is about 6 cables in length north and south, and 3 cables in breadth, within the 5 fathom line; deepening quickly to the westward and southward, and having soundings less than 10 fathoms for some distance from it in other directions.

No. 185J.D.

RESOLUTION.

POLICE.

Dated Darjeeling, the 19th June 1897.

READ—

The Annual Report on the Police Administration of the Town of Calcutta and its Suburbs for the year 1896.

Read also—

The Reports for the two previous years and the orders of Government recorded thereon.

Sir John Lambert, K.C.I.E., held the office of Commissioner of Police during the year, except for a short period of absence on privilege leave, when Mr. H. E. C. Paget, Deputy Commissioner, officiated for him.

2. The following table shows the total number of offences, cognizable by the Police and non-cognizable, reported in the Town of Calcutta and its Suburbs during the past ten years :—

	1887.	1888.	1889.	1890.	1891.	1892.	1893.	1894.	1895.	1896.

The total number of cases has gradually risen since 1893, and the figures for 1896 are the highest hitherto recorded. Compared with the totals for 1895, there has been an increase of 6,564 cases in the Town and 1,475 in the Suburbs, or 8,039 cases in all. The largest increase occurred in offences under the Municipal Act (3,547 cases), offences under the Police Act and miscellaneous offences in the streets; while the largest decrease was in offences under the Port Acts (226 cases) and Shipping Acts (201 cases).

The table below contrasts the figures for the past three years under cognizable and non-cognizable crime, and Penal Code and miscellaneous offences:—

The total number of cases tried in the Town and Suburbs during the year was 48,856, of which 38,877, or 79 per cent., ended in conviction. Of 31,210 cognizable cases sent up by the police, 28,082, or 89·9 per cent., ended in conviction, compared with 90·8 per cent. in 1895 and 93·4 per cent. in 1894; while of 1,811 cognizable cases taken up by the Magistrates direct, only 506, or 28 per cent., resulted in conviction. There was a large increase of 1,280 cognizable cases under the Penal Code, chiefly under thefts, hurt, housebreaking and rash act causing or likely to cause hurt. The total number of persons arrested under all heads in the Town and Suburbs in cognizable cases rose from 37,917 to 41,210. Of these, 37,296, or 90·5 per cent., were convicted, or about the same proportion as in 1895. In non-cognizable cases, 20,788 persons were arrested, against 16,791 in 1895, the percentage of convictions rising from 47 to 53.

4. False cases.—The number of false cases brought in the Town and Suburbs was 61 and 40, respectively, as compared with 64 and 27 in the previous year. The complainants were prosecuted under the Penal Code in 57 cases in the Town. In 13 cases they were fined, and in 33 discharged, and 20 cases were struck off in default of appearance. In the Suburbs 37 prosecutions were instituted, 9 cases ending in conviction and 14 in discharge, while 13 were struck off in default. Compensation was awarded to the extent of Rs. 96 in the Town and Rs. 64 in the Suburbs. Out of the 22 cases in which convictions were obtained, a sentence of imprisonment appears to have been inflicted in only one case.

5. Property stolen and recovered.—The total value of property stolen in the Town and Suburbs during the year was Rs. 2,97,675, against Rs. 1,75,596 in 1895; and of this, Rs. 1,92,398, or 64·63 per cent., were recovered, as compared with Rs. 1,01,014, or 57·52 per cent., recovered in the preceding year.

6. Cognizable offences in the Town.—The number of true cognizable cases reported in the Town rose from 24,476 to 27,363. An increase occurred under all classes, but chiefly under the heading of "Special and local laws," which shows a rise of 2,023 cases. The only marked decrease was in offences under the Port and Shipping Acts.

There were 11 cases of offences relating to coin, against 5 in 1895, all of an unimportant nature. Cases of murder fell from 9 to 2. There was one case of attempt at murder, against two in 1895. Three cases of culpable homicide were reported. None occurred in the previous year. Prosecutions for grievous hurt rose from 35 to 40; and of 37 persons tried, 25 were convicted and 12 acquitted. One case of administering drugs occurred, in which the accused were acquitted. Cases of kidnapping rose from 31 to 38, but only 14 persons were convicted. Three cases of robbery, the same number as in 1895, were reported, in two of which the accused were convicted and sentenced to terms of imprisonment and transportation. There was an increase of 51 cases of burglary and lurking house-trespass, while the percentage of cases detected and convictions obtained remained almost the same as in the previous year. The value of property stolen in these cases rose from Rs. 18,642 to Rs. 1,47,428. This large increase was chiefly due to a skilful burglary committed by a gang of men from Bombay and the Upper Provinces on the premises of a native merchant in Jora Bagan, in which property to the value of Rs. 93,395 was stolen. Thefts also show an increase in number from 1,571 in 1895 to 1,727; while the value of property stolen decreased from Rs. 1,41,654 to Rs. 1,24,357. The Commissioner of Police attributes the increase of burglary and theft cases to the scarcity and high prices especially during the latter half of the year, and the consequent influx of persons from Bihar and the Upper Provinces in search of employment. There were 476 cases of criminal breach of trust, against 153 in 1895 and 324 in 1894. Out of 343 persons brought to trial, 128 were convicted and 207 discharged. The police were particularly successful in prosecuting cases of theft of property by cart-drivers and broaching of cargo by boatmen, 85 out of 39 such cases having terminated in conviction. Of 3,321 prosecuted for street offences, 3,313, or 99 per cent., were convicted. Arrests for cruelty to animals numbered 6,890, of which 94·44 per cent. resulted in conviction, against 97·23 per cent. in 1895. Of the persons brought to trial, 4,848 were sent up by the agents of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, against 5,185 in the previous year.

7. Non-cognizable offences in the Town.—The number of non-cognizable offences reported true under the Penal Code and under special and local laws, respectively, were 4,539 and 19,934, as compared with 4,829 and 15,971 in 1895. The increase occurred chiefly in cases under the Municipal Act, and also in cases of cruelty to animals and under the Hackney Carriage Act. Of prosecutions under the Municipal Act, the increase was most noticeable in those under section 336 (keeping animals without a license), section 307 (keeping offensive matter for more than 24 hours other than in a proper receptacle), section 302 (allowing water from sink, &c., to flow on the street), and section 90 (exercising a trade or profession without a license). Forgery cases rose from 16 to 21, and extortion cases from 8 to 12; while cases of cheating decreased from 272 to 242. In consequence of the supervision maintained over the fraudulent firms referred to in the Resolution of last year, their number decreased from 120 to 74.

8. Cognizable offences in the Suburbs.—The number of true cognizable cases in the Suburbs rose from 6,732 to 7,449, the increase being common to all classes, but largest in cases of minor offences against the person and property and under special and local laws. Ordinary thefts rose from 371 to 607, and cases of criminal breach of trust from 37 to 112. Four offences relating to coin were reported, against 6 in 1895, and 3 cases of murder against 4. In 18 cases of grievous hurt, and in 23 cases of hurt by dangerous weapons, convictions were obtained in 11 and 15 cases, respectively. Kidnapping cases rose from 7 in 1894 and 13 in 1895 to 19 during the past year. Out of 27 persons sent up only 6 were convicted. Two robberies were reported, but neither was of any importance. True cases of burglary and lurking house-trespass reported rose from 106 to 115, and the cases detected from 61 to 69. Of persons arrested 78 per cent. were convicted, against 82 per cent. in the preceding year. Thefts numbered 629, of which 300, or 47 per cent., were detected, as compared with 377 cases and 220, or 58 per cent., detected in 1895. The Commissioner of Police thinks that the increase of theft cases in the Northern Division may have been caused by the stoppage of work at some of the Mills. In the Southern Division it may have been due to a number of dock labourers being thrown out of employment.

9. Non-cognizable crime in the Suburbs.—The number of non-cognizable cases returned as true rose from 5,979 in 1894 and 6,842 in 1895 to 7,615 in 1896. There was an increase of 486 cases under the Hackney Carriage Act, of 85 under the Municipal Act, and of 105 assaults.

10. Suicides and accidental deaths.—Seventy-three cases of suicide were reported in the Town and Suburbs, as compared with an average of 78 in the five preceding years. Of these cases, 35 were committed by hanging and 23 by opium-poisoning. The number of accidental deaths has steadily decreased from 349 in 1893 to 186 during the past year. Twenty-one persons were run over by vehicles and killed, against 17 in 1895. Prosecutions were instituted against 130 persons for rash and furious driving, of whom 108 were convicted, against 251 prosecuted and 210 convicted in the previous year. Seventeen persons were drowned in the Port of Calcutta, against 37 in 1895 and 53 in 1894.

11. Working of the Arms Act.—The number of firearms of all descriptions held in stock by dealers at the commencement of the year was 2,538, and 2,765 pieces were imported and 1,415 pieces purchased in India by dealers, making a total of 6,718. Of this number, 643 were sold under transport licenses and 3,067 disposed of locally, leaving 3,008 pieces in stock at the close of the year. Five prosecutions were instituted under the Act, of which four ended in conviction.

12. European Vagrancy Act.—During the year 55 vagrants were admitted into the Government workhouse, of whom 54 were declared vagrants in Calcutta. These, with the 12 who remained in the workhouse at the close of the year, made a total of 67 vagrants, of whom 37 were discharged, 4 released, 5 deported from British India, 2 failed to return from leave, and 9 absconded. Sir John Lambert reports that discipline was well maintained in the workhouse, and that the conduct of the inmates throughout the year was, on the whole, good. The Almshouse gave refuge to 25 seamen during the year, all of whom were shipped through the exertions of Mr. McGuire, the Superintendent.

13. Fire-Brigade Act.—The fire-brigade was employed at 47 fires during 1896, as compared with 35 in 1895. At 19 others assistance was rendered by the manual engines. There were, besides, one hundred and sixty petty fires, at which the loss of property was trifling. At five of these the brigade was employed, the remaining 155 being extinguished by the manual engines. The most serious fire of the year occurred at Nalwapara, Garden Reach Road, where 9 lives were lost and 1,227 tiled and thatched huts were burnt, the damage done being estimated at Rs. 85,000. The total loss of property from fires during the year is calculated at Rs. 2,27,231, against Rs. 5,46,647 in 1895, although the actual number of fires was larger.

14. The Police Force.—The total sanctioned strength of the force was 2,924 officers and men, against 2,891 in 1895, the increase being chiefly due to the entertainment of 3 additional corporals and 24 constables for the better regulation of traffic in the Town. There were 257 casualties, or 8·88 per cent., as compared with 268, or 9·27 per cent., in 1895. Seven members of the force were punished judicially and 66 dismissed, against 13 and 65, respectively, in the previous year. Five deserted and 29 died. Admissions to hospital numbered 2,121, against 3,039 in the previous year. Departmental punishments increased during the year, the figures being 47 reduced, 70 suspended and 245 punished by extra drill, compared with 9 reduced, 39 suspended, and 229 punished with extra drill in 1895. A sum of Rs. 5,922-8 was disbursed in rewards, against Rs. 3,259-8 in 1895, of which Rs. 3,830 were paid by private individuals. In all, 172 members of the force and 62 informers received rewards.

15. Old offenders and anthropometry.—During the year, 728 released offenders were under police surveillance, of whom 371 were Bengalis and 357 up-country men. Six hundred and sixteen men whose antecedents were not known to the police were measured anthropometrically, and previous convictions proved against 69. Since the commencement of 1897, the system of identification by finger impressions has been introduced. Previous convictions were proved against 409 old offenders in the Town and against 111 in the Suburbs.

16. Judicial work.—Mr. Pearson held the office of Chief Presidency Magistrate except for one month, during which Nawab Syud Ameer Hossein, C.I.E., acted for him, being replaced by Mr. W. A. Bonnaud as Presidency Magistrate, Northern Division.

17. Court of the Chief Presidency Magistrate.—The total number of cases instituted in this Court was 13,289, against 11,716 in 1895. Of 14,446 persons concerned, 13,003 were convicted and 1,383 acquitted or discharged, 26 remaining under trial at the close of the year. The fines imposed aggregated Rs. 29,069, of which Rs. 22,624 were realised. Appeals were preferred against the order of the Court in 23 cases, but in one case only was the conviction set aside. Eleven cases were instituted under section 364 of Act II (B.C.) of 1888 for adulteration of food, in which nine persons were convicted and sentenced to fines varying from Rs. 20 to Rs. 100. Of 3,607 persons prosecuted for cruelty to animals, 3,203 were convicted. Adjournments took place in 255 cases, as compared with 215 in 1895.

18. Northern Division Court.—The total number of cases instituted during the year was 17,077, against 15,753 in the previous year, the increase occurring chiefly in street offences and offences under the Police Act. Of 18,529 persons brought to trial, 17,625 were convicted and 859 acquitted or discharged, and 16 remained under trial at the close of the year. Fifteen persons were committed to the Sessions, of whom 10 were convicted and 5 discharged. Of 3,509 persons prosecuted for cruelty to animals, 3,492, or 99·5 per cent., were convicted. The total amount of fines and forfeitures imposed during the year was Rs. 33,695, of which Rs. 28,601 were realised. In 27 cases 23 persons were tried under section 364 of Act II (B. C.) of 1888 for adulteration of food, all of whom were convicted. Appeals were preferred to the High Court in 60 cases, all being rejected. In 23 cases the High Court was moved, and the order objected to was set aside in 7 cases. Adjournments took place in 186 cases, against 150 in 1895.

19. The following statement compares the number of persons against whom process issued in non-cognizable cases with the number actually appearing during the past two years :—

	1895.	1896.	1895.	1896.	1895.	1896.
Chief Presidency Magistrate	2,906	2,696	1,342	1,418	46·18	52·7
Presidency Magistrate, Northern Division ...	4,724	4,885	1,355	1,707	28·08	35·2
Honorary Presidency Magistrates	15,405	19,223	10,215	12,439	66·30	64·8
Total	23,135	26,805	12,912	15,564	55·81	57·9

There has been a slight improvement in this respect during the year, but still the percentage of persons appearing on persons against whom process issued is small. Mr. Pearson explains that this is principally due to the large number of cases withdrawn, compounded or abandoned by the complainants, but the fact that so many cases were not proceeded with would seem to indicate that process was often too readily issued.

20. Work of Honorary Magistrates.—Exclusive of municipal cases, 1,277 cases were transferred to the Bench Magistrates and 1,765 cases to Honorary Magistrates sitting singly, and 2 cases were taken up by the Honorary Magistrates suo motu, making a total of 3,044 cases, against 2,691 in 1895. Of these cases, 1,942 were under the Penal Code, 119 under the Code of Criminal Procedure, and 983 under local laws. Increased assistance was given by the Honorary Magistrates in the disposal of more important cases, and this should have afforded some relief to the Presidency Magistrates. Of 2,855 cases actually brought to trial, 1,653, or 57·9 per cent., resulted in conviction, and 1,202, or 42·1 per cent., in acquittal or discharge. In these cases 4,291 persons were concerned, of whom 53 per cent. were convicted and 47 per cent. acquitted or discharged, or the same proportion as in the previous year. The total amount of fines imposed was Rs. 8,450-5, against Rs. 7,363 10 in the previous year. Of the amount realised Rs. 977 were awarded to the complainants as compensation; while Rs. 123 were awarded to accused persons as compensation for frivolous or vexatious charges. Eleven appeals were preferred against the decisions of the Honorary Magistrates, and the High Court was moved in five cases, with the result that in two cases only were convictions set aside. The Honorary Magistrates tried 10,225 persons under the Municipal Act, of whom 5,073, or 49·6 per cent., were acquitted or discharged, and 5,152, or 50·4 per cent., convicted. The total amount of fines imposed in municipal cases was Rs. 25,795-12, of which Rs. 21,293-3-3 were realised, against Rs. 18,125-4 imposed and Rs. 14,648-7-6 realised in the previous year.

The large amount of work done by the Honorary Magistrates is clear from the foregoing figures, and the Lieutenant-Governor desires to acknowledge the very material assistance which is received from these gentlemen in the administration of criminal justice in Calcutta and its Suburbs. Mr. Pearson, while acknowledging the good service rendered by several gentlemen who, at some inconvenience to themselves, attended at a moment's notice to fill the place of an absentee, is again obliged to draw attention to the fact that some of the Magistrates fail to attend sittings of the bench without giving due notice, and that others attend late, thus causing inconvenience to the parties. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to see an improvement in this respect. The convenience of the parties should be consulted by the Honorary Magistrates to the fullest extent possible.

21. The Lieutenant-Governor's thanks are due to Mr. Pearson and Nawab Syud Ameer Hossein and those Honorary Magistrates who have been specially mentioned by the Chief Presidency Magistrate.

22. Sir Alexander Mackenzie takes the opportunity of placing on record his appreciation of the long and valuable services rendered by Sir John Lambert, who has unfortunately been compelled by ill-health to retire since the close of the year. Sir John Lambert first joined the service of Government as an Assistant Superintendent of Police in 1863. In July 1872 he was appointed to be Deputy Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, and that position he held until March 1882, when he was selected to act as General Superintendent of Operations for the suppression of Thagi and Dakaiti. In March 1884, he was re-appointed as Deputy Commissioner of Police, and from July 1885 officiated as Commissioner of Police and President of the Boiler Commission. When in April 1889 the Office of Commissioner of Police was separated from that of Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta, he was confirmed as Commissioner of Police, and he retained the appointment continuously until his retirement last month. During his long connection with the city of Calcutta, extending over a period of some 25 years, Sir John Lambert acquired in a marked degree the confidence of the community as well as of the Government. His services have been repeatedly commended by this Government, and have been acknowledged by the Government of India. In 1882 the distinction of a Companionship of the Indian Empire was conferred on him, and in 1893 he was created a Knight Commander of the Order.

22. The commendation bestowed on Mr. Paget, the Deputy Commissioner, and the subordinate officers mentioned in paragraph 38 of the Report, has been noted.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, for information and for communication to the Presidency Magistrates.

Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, the Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta, and the Municipal Department of this Government, for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Letter to the Commissioner of Dacca, No. 210T.—M., dated the 25th May 1897.
Letter from the Commissioner of Dacca, No. 498G., dated the 20th May 1897.
Letter to the Commissioner of Dacca, No. 287T.—M., dated the 4th June 1897.
Letter from the Commissioner of Dacca, No. 686G., dated the 7th June 1897.

In April last the Commissioner of the Dacca Division reported that Raja Rajendra Narain Roy Chowdhuri Bahadur, of Bhawal, in the district of Dacca, had offered to make a donation of Rs. 10,000 to commemorate the sixtieth year of the reign of Her Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress of India. It was proposed that the money should be devoted either to the erection of (1) a suitable monument on the Buckland Bund in the town of Dacca, or (2) to pulling down the old club building and racquet-court which now stand on Government land in that town, and making an open square with an obelisk in the centre, with Her Majesty's bust embossed on it.

2. While the suggestion was under consideration, the Commissioner reported that Nawab Ahsanulla Bahadur, C.I.E., had also placed in his hands a sum of Rs. 12,000, and he has since explained that the Nawab's gift will be utilized in pulling down the club building and the racquet-court and opening on the site a fine square, enclosed with railings, to be named "Victoria Square," with an obelisk or a similar monument in the centre. The Raja's donation of Rs. 10,000 will be devoted to the erection of a monument to be placed on that part of the Buckland Bund which is to be called the Mackenzie Bund. The monument is to take the form of a granite or marble obelisk with a raised medallion portrait of Her Imperial Majesty.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor has much pleasure in accepting the donations of these gentlemen, and thanks them for their loyalty, liberality and public spirit.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of Dacca for information and communication to the Nawab Ahsanulla Bahadur, C.I.E., and Raja Rajendra Narain Roy Chowdhuri Bahadur, of Bhawal, and to the Board of Revenue.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

WATER-SUPPLY.

No. 3228L.S.-G.—The 18th June 1897.—The following report of the progress made in the several districts of the Dacca, Chota Nagpur and Presidency Divisions in collecting and placing on record the chief facts regarding water-supply are published for general information.

H. H. RISLEY,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

No 668G., dated Dacca, the 2nd June 1897.

Memo. by—G. TOYNBEE, Esq., Offg. Commissioner of the Dacca Division.

FORWARDED in original with enclosure to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department, in continuation of this office No. 477, dated 18th May 1897.

No. 1551, dated Dacca, the 22nd May 1897.

From—L. P. SHIRRES, Esq., Magistrate of Dacca,
To—The Commissioner of the Dacca Division.

WITH reference to the Government Circular No. 53L S.-G., of the 12th December 1896, I have the honour to submit the following report on the progress made in this district regarding water-supply for the quarter ending 31st March 1897.

2. The registers I and II prescribed in the Government letter above referred to have been prepared for the Sadar and Manikganj subdivisions and the respective Local Boards have been supplied with them. The Narainganj and Munshiganj registers are in course of preparation. The Narainganj Municipality has prepared these registers for that Municipality. The Dacca Municipality has not reported completion of its registers. The Chairman has been asked to report.

3. As regards the steps taken during the quarter in connection with water-supply, I beg to submit a copy of a letter received from the Vice-Chairman, District Board, on the subject, giving full particulars of the works executed and also those for which funds have been promised by certain gentlemen of the district.

4. In the Dacca Municipality there is no scarcity of water in any quarter of the town. About 16 miles of filtered water pipes have been laid out. Two house connections have been made during the quarter and four are in hand. The houses in the town have generally wells in them, but the well water is unfit for drinking purposes. This Municipality has asked for a loan of one and a-half lakhs of rupees from Government for supply of unfiltered water by a separate line of pipes for watering the streets and flushing drains, replacing the main pipes of the water-works by larger ones and doing other sanitary and conservancy improvements. In the Narainganj Municipality one municipal and four private tanks have been re-excavated during the quarter. The chief source of water-supply in this town, as was reported in the last quarter's report, is the river Lakhya and its khals and certain tanks. The supply is considered sufficient.

No 126, dated Dacca, the 17th May 1897.

From—KHAJAH MAHOMED YOUSAFF, Vice-Chairman of the District Board, Dacca,
To—The Magistrate of Dacca.

IN continuation of this office No. 112 of 7th instant, I have the honour to report that the works executed by the District Board of this district in connection with water-supply during the quarter ending 31st March last are as follows:—

Twenty-one tube wells were purchased at a cost of Rs 2,064. Arrangements have been made for sinking them in places where there is want of good drinking water. Some of them have been lately put down at Kandail, Gopechar and Baktabali in the Narainganj subdivision. They are working well and supplying good water and have been much appreciated by the local men.

A sum of Rs. 244 was spent in the repairs of the tube wells sunk in the Munshiganj and Manikganj subdivisions and in the purchase of reducing sockets and buckets

For improving the existing sources of water-supply Nawab Ashanullah Bahadur, C.I.E., has sanctioned Rs. 4,500 to meet the cost of excavating 4 tanks and 14 wells within his own zamindari in this district These works are in progress and will be shortly completed.

Babu Ambika Prosad Ray Chaudhury, zamindar of Kasimpur, spent a sum of Rs. 1,300 in excavating two tanks at Madhabpur and Simulia within his zamindari in this district.

Babu Rajendra Kumar Bosu, zamindar of Srinagar, excavated three tanks for the benefit of his tenants.

Rai Abhaya Charan Mitra Bahadur, zamindar and banker of Rajabari, has arranged for re-excavating the tank at Shirajabad near Munshiganj for the benefit of the local people.

Babus Janoki Nath Rai and Sita Nath Rai, of Bhagyakul, promised to pay Rs. 5,000 for the excavation of two tanks—one at Patabhog and the other at Brahmankhola in the Munshiganj subdivision. They have no lands of their own, and have suggested that the lands required for the tanks may be acquired. Steps have been taken for the acquisition of the lands.

Raja Rajendra Narain Rai promised to spend Rs. 15,000 for improving old tanks and excavating new ones in the Bhowal pargana. During the quarter under review he has re-excavated many tanks within his zamindari for the benefit of his tenants.

No 87R.C., dated Ranchi, the 5th June 1897.

From—A. FORBES, Esq., C.S.I., Commissioner of the Chota Nagpur Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department.

WITH reference to Government Circular No. 58L.S.-G., dated 12th December 1896, I have the honour to submit the following report of the progress made in each district of this division in collecting and placing on record the chief facts regarding water-supply and the steps that have been taken by Municipalities and District Road Committees to improve existing sources of water-supply and to open new ones during the quarter ending 31st March 1897.

2. In Hazaribagh the Registers Nos. I and II have been opened and tested in almost all villages, and steps are being taken to improve the sources of water-supply as reported in the last quarterly return. During the quarter under review a sum of Rs. 2,384 has been spent by the Road Cess Committee in constructing three new wells and 47 new daris and Rs. 6 by the Chatra Municipality in cleansing an old well. Besides these 20 more dari wells have been taken in hand but not completed during the quarter. The Deputy Commissioner further reports that 46 more dari wells are urgently required in different thanas; but as all the available balance has been transferred to Provincial Revenue for relief works, they cannot be constructed this year from the District Road Fund. Raja Rameswar Nath Singh, of Kunda, has also signified his intention of spending Rs. 4,000 in constructing 9 wells, 29 dari wells and 6 tanks and in cleansing and deepening one well and a tank within his zamindari.

3. In Lohardaga a sum of Rs. 2,300 has been advanced to the zamindars for digging wells and tanks in the interior of the district under the Land Improvements Loans Act. A sum of Rs. 55 has been spent by the Road Cess Committee during the quarter for the improvement of a well at Jharia in the interior of the district. All the wells of the Ranchi Municipality that required cleansing have been cleansed and spilt water drains around two wells have been constructed. The construction of a new well has also been taken in hand by the Municipal Commissioners during the quarter under review. In the Lohardaga Municipality a new tank near the Friday market is being excavated by the mahajans of the town and is near completion. The Registers Nos. I and II were tested by the Civil Surgeon and also by the Deputy Commissioner during his cold-weather tour. They were found defective and are now being revised. There is, the Deputy Commissioner reports, no fear whatever of any failure of drinking water in this district. Every village has one or more daris or natural springs which are perennial and afford a wholesome supply of water. In isolated cases daris run very low in the hot weather, and some delay and inconvenience is caused to the people in obtaining a sufficient supply, but this is not generally the case. There are also wells in nearly all large villages, but they cannot always be depended upon for a supply of water during the whole of the hot weather, as owing to the rocky nature of the soil it is difficult to make them of any very great depth. The people of this district prefer dari water, and do not usually use tank water for drinking purposes.

4. In Palamau during the quarter under review 40 out of 50 villages containing 100 or more houses (there are only 50 such villages in this district) have been visited and the chief facts regarding their water-supply recorded in Registers Nos. I and II. The Deputy Commissioner reports that the inspecting officers do not speak of any deficiency of water-supply in the villages visited by them, except in Bhandar, a village of Pattan thana, and in Nagorentteri, where they recommend repairs to a tank and the construction of a pucca well respectively. Owing to the prevailing scarcity relief works are in progress in nearly all parts of the district, and every advantage has been taken of this opportunity to improve existing tanks and to make new ones as also to repair old and construct new reservoirs both for purposes of irrigation and for increasing the supply of water for both human being and cattle. A sum of Rs. 140 has been spent by the Daltonganj Municipality in deepening the bazar well, and the school well of the town has also been cleansed from the school fund.

5. In Manbhum the completion of the Registers Nos. I and II for the extra municipal portion of the district has nearly been completed. In the Raghunathpur Municipality a scheme for the extension of an existing tank has been proposed by the Municipal Commissioners, and is now under consideration. In Jhalda Register No. II has been completed. The present sources of water-supply of the Municipality being sufficient, no special steps are necessary. Nothing was done by the Purulia Municipality towards improving existing sources of water-supply or opening new ones during the quarter. Explanation will be called for.

6. In Singhbhum out of the Kolhan Improvement Fund of Rs. 4,000, Rs. 2,202 have been expended in constructing new bandhs and repairing old ones and Rs. 120 in repairing wells. The water from these works is used for drinking as well as for irrigation. The Road Cess Committee and Municipality have done nothing to improve the existing sources of water-supply or to open out new ones during the quarter under review. Explanation is being called for.

No. 33L.S.-G.—G., dated Calcutta, the 1st June 1897.

From—E. V. Westmacott, Esq., Commissioner of the Presidency Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department.

In continuation of my letters Nos. 133L.S.-G., dated the 21st January 1897, and 163L.S.-G., dated the 26th March 1897, submitting the first quarterly report of the progress made in each district of this division in collecting and placing on record the chief facts regarding water-supply and the steps that have been taken by local bodies to improve existing sources of water-supply and to open new ones, I have the honour to submit my second quarterly report as follows.

2. The Magistrate and Chairman of the District Board of Nadia reports that a sum of Rs. 1,500 has been paid through the local police for distribution for the construction of pot-wells.

3. The Chairman of the District Board of Jessore reports that the registers in the prescribed form have all been completed for the several subdivisions of the district and the sources of water-supply for every village containing one hundred houses or more have been recorded; that several wells have been sunk in villages where want of good water was felt on the reports received from the Subdivisional Officers and on the petition of villagers concerned; that the deepening of the tanks named in the margin* has been taken in hand; and that the excavation or re-excavation of several tanks, as noted on the margin†, is also in contemplation. He adds that in these projects efforts are made to obtain contributions from villagers and free gifts of land where possible. He further reports that the excavation of the Bhawanipur khal in the Jhenidah subdivision is in rapid progress and is being carried out by the subscriptions of zamindars and merchants with the help of funds from the District Board.

4. The Chairman of the District Board of Khulna reports that he has not been able to complete his registers on account of not having received the necessary information from thana Mallahat and other places. He adds, however, that about Rs. 21,538 have been provided from the district funds for the improvement of water-supply during the current year, of which Rs. 9,654 is for excavating or re-excavating tanks, Rs. 3,000 for sinking wells, and the remainder has been provided under the head "Famine relief works" for making tanks with a view to give employment to labourers. It is also reported that more than 25 tanks are being excavated in the distressed tracts, and that the sum of Rs. 3,000 provided for sinking wells been placed at the credit of the Local Boards.

5. The Chairmen of the District Boards of the 24-Parganas and Murshidabad have not yet submitted their second quarterly reports which on receipt will be forwarded.

6. As regards the steps taken by Municipalities, I enclose copies of the letters noted on the margin containing detailed particulars of each Municipality in the districts of the 24-Parganas, Nadia and Murshidabad. The Magistrates of Jessore and Khulna have not yet submitted their second quarterly reports, which will be submitted to Government when received.

No. 214M., dated Alipore, the 30th April 1897.

From—E. H. C. WALSH, Esq., Offg. Magistrate of the 24-Parganas,
To—The Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit the second quarterly report as to the progress made in each of the Municipalities in this district in collecting and placing on record the chief facts concerning water-supply and the steps taken to extend or improve them.

2. As already reported, filtered water-pipes have been laid on in all the wards of the Cossipur-Chitpur Municipality and the supply of water is adequate.

Maniktolla.—Registers I and II have been revised; arrangements have been made for cleansing of those tanks in the wards where the system of filtered water-supply has not been extended and reserving them for drinking purposes.

Baranagore.—It appears that the Commissioners are arranging for re-excavation of a dighi and two tanks as a first step, and they have just submitted an application for a loan of Rs. 3,000 for the purpose. Several private tanks in the Municipality have been re-excavated or otherwise cleansed. Arrangements are also being made to carry water from the condensers of the Baranagore Jute Factories into private tanks in ward No. II. It is reported that respectable and well-to-do people are getting filtered water from Cossipur-Chitpur on payment of fees. Registers I and II have been completed.

Titagarh.—Registers I and II have been prepared and checked by the Commissioners. As stated in the last report the supply of drinking water is efficient and adequate.

Garulia.—Registers I and II have been checked by the Ward Commissioners. The chief source of supply in Ward No. I is from the river Hooghly, which is not considered good. The attention of the Commissioners has been drawn to the necessity of providing and reserving a tank in these quarters.

South Barrackpore.—Registers I and II have been completed and checked by the Vice-Chairman and the Chairman. The supply of drinking water as already reported is from river Hooghly and private tanks and is considered sufficient. The Chairman has been requested to make suitable provision for good drinking water in the riparian wards which at present obtain a supply from the river Hooghly.

Goverdanga.—Registers I and II have been completed. The Commissioners have applied for a loan of Rs. 2,500 for excavation of tanks. A circular has been issued from this office to the jute cultivators warning them to prepare places for treatment of jute as they will not be allowed to steep jute in the river.

Baduria.—The Chairman reports that he does not apprehend any scarcity of water as he considers that the supply from the river Ichamati and a large number of tanks is adequate. Several of the latter have been cleansed during the quarter, and the Chairman is trying to induce the owners of some of them to reserve them for drinking purposes. The attention of the Chairman has been drawn to the desirability of acquiring some of the existing tanks and reserving them for drinking purposes. Registers I and II, as already reported, have been opened, but it is not stated whether they have been checked. It is reported that there are 35 wholesome tanks, of which 4 are in the two non-riparian wards and the rest are in the six wards which receive their chief supply from the river Ichamati.

South Dum-Dum.—In wards Nos. II and III the supply of drinking water is insufficient. In the former a tank has been acquired by the Municipality and is under re-excavation. The Commissioners promise to provide good drinking water for the residents of ward No. III during the present year. A joint-committee was formed between the representatives of the Municipality and Cantonment authorities, and they drew up a scheme for the supply of filtered water to the residents of the Municipality by means of hydrants placed on the cantonment main pipe which runs through the Municipality. The scheme has been submitted to Government through Commissioner for consideration.

North Dum-Dum.—Provision has been made in the budget of this Municipality for a loan of Rs. 2,000 for the re-excavation of five tanks in five wards of the Municipality. The application for the loan which was received in this office has been returned to the Chairman for revision.

Basirhat.—Registers I and II have been completed and checked by the Chairman. Notices have been issued by the Chairman under section 200 for cleansing of private tanks, and they are being complied with.

Barasat.—Four ring wells and two municipal tanks have been thoroughly cleansed; one additional tube well has been driven during the last quarter and four more are in course of being driven. Land has been acquired in the Kazipara ward of the Municipality, and a tank will shortly be re excavated on this site. The Commissioners have submitted an application for a loan of Rs. 5,000 for further improvement of water-supply.

Rajpore.—Registers I and II have been prepared and checked by the Ward Commissioners. There are neither any reserved tanks nor any municipal tanks and wells. The entire supply is from private tanks. The Chairman has issued notices under section 200 for cleansing of tanks, and they are being complied with. The Commissioners submitted an application for a loan of Rs. 8,000 for excavation of five larger tanks in five wards of the Municipality. Estimates have been prepared for the work, and it is found that not more than Rs. 7,500 will be likely to be required for the purpose. The application for the loan has accordingly been returned to the Chairman for revision. The scheme for opening the Moragunga channel is still in the hands of the District Engineer, and it is probable that it will fall through in view of the difficulties that will have be overcome before the work can be taken in hand. There are a large number of obstructions and encroachments the removal of which cannot be easily effected.

Baruipur.—The two useless municipal tanks have been sold, and the Commissioners propose to devote the sale-proceeds in re-excavation of a large private tank of the Chowdhury families, upon whom a notice under section 200 has been served and has not been complied with. A second notice has also been served under section 200 in respect of another tank the water of which is largely used for drinking purposes. The Commissioners have formed a sub-committee for taking lease of a tank which would be re-excavated and reserved or for selecting a site for acquisition and for excavation of a tank thereon. Provision has also been made in the budget for sinking two wells and cleansing the municipal tank No. I.

Naihatty.—The Commissioners are still undecided as regards the loan. The riparian wards as in the case of South Barrackpore Municipality require good tanks, and the Commissioners are being pressed to provide them by taking a loan, if necessary.

Joynagore.—A provision of Rs. 350 has been made in the budget for the acquisition and re-excavation of a tank which will be reserved. The present supply does not appear to be inadequate.

South Suburbs.—Registers I and II have been prepared. The principal sources of water-supply are from river and private tanks of which there are a good many. The Commissioners are arranging to supply filtered water in carts to the residents of the Municipality.

Garden Reach.—This Municipality has just been formed out of the South Suburban Municipality. Registers I and II have not yet been prepared, but it is understood that a large portion of this Municipality draws water from the hydrants of the Calcutta Municipality which adjoins it. The rest gets its supply from the river Hooghly and private tanks.

North Barrackpore.—Registers I and II are nearly completed. The river water is largely used for drinking purposes. The Commissioners have applied for a loan of Rs. 2,000 for excavation of tanks.

Taki.—Registers I and II have been prepared and checked by the Commissioner. Notices have been issued for cleansing of tanks. The Commissioners have settled as a first step to acquire and re-excavate a tank in the Saidpur village in which the supply of water is inadequate.

No. 324J.M., dated Krishnagar, the 10th April 1897.

From—J. H. E. GARRETT, Esq., Offg. Magistrate of Nadia,
To—The Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

In continuation of this office No. 9J.M., dated the 6th January last, I have the honour to submit the following report showing the progress made in improving the existing sources of water-supply of each of the municipalities in this district for the quarter ending March 1897:—

1. Santipur.—The Chairman reports that no progress was made in improving the existing sources of water-supply.

2. Kushtea.—No fresh improvement has been made except that a tank is being re-excavated.

3. Nadia.—No new work has been undertaken since the date of the last quarterly statement.

4. Meherpur.—The municipal tank is under re-excavation. Four of the masonry wells have also been deepened.

5. Chakdah.—Some pucka and kutcha wells were cleansed. Three ring wells are going to be sunk, and steps are being taken to cleanse the private tanks.

6. Birnagar.—The District Engineer has been requested to sink two masonry wells

7. Ranaghat.—One tube well has been sunk in the office compound and some masonry wells have been disinfected.

8. Kumarkhali.—Nothing has been done during the quarter under report for the improvement of the existing sources of water-supply.

9. Krishnagar.—The Chairman reports that the re-excavation of one tank and construction of two masonry wells taken in hand during the quarter are in progress.

No. 64M., dated Berhampore, the 29th April 1897.

From—E. V. Levinge, Esq., Magistrate of Murshidabad,

To—The Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

With reference to your Circular No. 4L.S.-G.—G., dated the 13th instant, drawing attention to Government Circular Nos. 7T.M. and 8T.M., each dated the 15th May 1896, regarding the improvement of the existing sources of water-supply in the Municipalities and the District Board, I have the honour to state that, with the exception of Kandi, the four other municipalities in the district are favourably situated as regards the supply of drinking water, being on the sides of the river Bhagirathi. The people of the Kandi Municipality use occasionally the water of the river Mourakhi, but they are chiefly dependant on wells and tanks, especially during the dry season, for the supply of drinking water.

2. All the municipalities have prepared registers in the prescribed Forms I and II. The following progress reports have been submitted by the different Municipalities for the quarter ending the 31st March 1897:—

Berhampore.—The Chairman reports that the river Bhagirathi being the main source of water-supply to the town, it is quite adequate for the purpose. Messrs. Martin and Company's tender has been accepted for the construction of the Berhampore water-works, and it is hoped that the work will be completed early next year.

Kandi.—The Chairman reports that 48 notices were served on the owners under section 200 of the Municipal Act, ordering them to clean their tanks. In 45 cases the requisitions were complied with, and in three cases there were prosecutions, in which the defaulters were fined Rs. 10 each. With the exception of two or three large tanks in each ward, almost all the other tanks are dried up. The tanks still containing water and used for drinking purposes are said to be in good order. Three new wells have been sunk in places where water is specially required. Negotiations were going on with the owners of a few tanks with a view to reserve the tanks solely for drinking purposes, but nothing has been settled yet. A site for the excavation of a new tank has been selected by the Municipality. The Chairman says that if the owners of the land do not come to terms measures will be taken for acquiring it.

Azimgunge.—The Chairman says that notices for the re-excavation of unwholesome tanks have been issued on the owners, and three of these have been allowed an extension of time to enable them to comply with the requisition. One pucca well belonging to the estate of the late Chandra Narain Sinha of Gosainbazar has been cleaned and repaired. At the cost of the Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad the Municipality has cleansed and repaired a pucca well at Saidaganj Bazar belonging to the Nizamut and has also undertaken the construction of a pucca well in the same locality. Another pucca well has nearly been completed by the Municipal Commissioner Rai Setab Chand Nahar Bahadur. Besides these Babu Nanda Lall Roy, a coal merchant of Azimganj, is re-excavating a tank at Manullabazar at his own cost with a view to making it over to the Municipality for public use after its completion.

Jangipur.—This Municipality like Azimganj is situated on both sides of the river Bhagirathi, the water of which the people generally use for drinking purposes. The Chairman reports that no new tanks and wells were dug during the quarter under review.

Murshidabad.—The Chairman reports that the river Bhagirathi being the principal source of water-supply of this Municipality, four peons have been deputed to guard the several ghâts and see that the river water is not polluted by the washing of objectionable articles, &c. Water of tanks is seldom used for drinking purposes, and there is very little water in the tanks this year on account of the unusual drought.

A few tanks and wells have been repaired by the Municipality during the quarter. The water of the river is considered sufficient for drinking purposes.

3. A separate report will be submitted for the District Board as regards the steps taken to improve the existing sources of water-supply during the quarter.

Imports.—The total imports into Calcutta amounted to 276,044 cwts. against 60,946 cwts. in the first week of June 1896, the increase being due to large consignments of rice (226,997 cwts.) and paddy (20,081 cwts.) from Burma. The receipts of these two cereals from the Balasore ports, however, declined by 18,687 cwts. and 20,345 cwts. respectively.

Exports.—In the following statement the total quantity of each kind of food-grain exported by sea during the week ending 7th June 1897 is compared with the figures for the corresponding period of 1896 :—

	1st to 7th June.

Foreign Ports.

The decrease of 110,324 cwts. in the total exports of food-grains to Foreign ports was chiefly in rice, gram and pulse, and wheat, which showed a falling off of 72,560 cwts., 20,939 cwts. and 10,013 cwts., respectively. The shipments of rice to Ceylon, Réunion, and Aden were nil against 31,799 cwts., 20,123 cwts. and 6,171 cwts., respectively in the week ending 7th June 1896, while Mauritius took 18,581 cwts. less, and Muscat 8,601 cwts. more than in the 1st week of June 1896. The largest decline in the trade in gram and pulse occurred in the despatches to Mauritius (8,906 cwts.) and the United Kingdom (8,422 cwts.). The exports of wheat to the United Kingdom were nil against 10,010 cwts. in the 1st week of June 1896.

Indian Ports.

The exports of rice to Indian ports were half those of the week ending 7th June 1896, the decrease (6,387 cwts.) being almost entirely due to the supplies to Bombay having fallen from 12,385 cwts. to 6,270 cwts. The despatches of gram and pulse fell from 23,875 cwts. to 7,503 cwts. in the week under report, owing chiefly to there being no shipments to the Madras ports, which received 11,768 cwts. in the week ending 7th June 1896; the consignments to the Burma ports all declined by 2,936 cwts.

Detailed statements showing the sources of supply and the places of destination, both as regards Foreign and Indian ports, are given below :—

Imports. The import trade of Chittagong, which amounted to 33,682 cwts, showed a rise of 33,472 cwts., chiefly on account of the receipts of rice from Burma. Narayanganj also received 4,702 cwts. of rice and paddy from Chittagong against nil in the corresponding week of 1896.

Exports. Owing to larger despatches of rice to Narayanganj the trade of Chittagong improved by 464 cwts., while the falling off of 7,838 cwts. in the case of Balasore is attributed to smaller shipments of rice, paddy and gram and pulse to Calcutta, although Mauritius received 4,950 cwts. of rice against nil in the previous year. Consequent on smaller despatches of rice to Foreign ports, the trade of Cuttack, too, declined by 75,340 cwts.

Detailed statements showing the sources of supply and the places of destination, both as regards Foreign and Indian ports, are given below:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

A draft of the notification was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the dates noted in the margin as notification No. 145, dated the 18th May 1897.

A. D. McARTHUR, Colonel, R.E.,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

IN Notification No. 110 of the 9th August 1880, issued under the provision of Act III of 1876, Government reserved to itself the rights of property in the water of the river channels known as the Daha, the Dhanai, the Gandaki and the Gangri, and their appendant tributaries, including the Rupan Chap Sota.

2. The revenue administration of the Saran Canals is vested in the Superintending Engineer of the Sone Circle. The Executive Engineer of the Gandak Division is, as Canal Officer under the Irrigation Act [III (B.C.) of 1876], charged with the proper maintenance and management of the canals, and with the control of the supply of water in them. All orders passed by him, or by the Subdivisional Canal Officer, are under the terms of that Act subject to correction on appeal to the Collector of Saran.

3. The following rules will be applicable to all irrigation effected from the Saran Canals in the kharif season of 1897-98.

4. Any person who wishes to make bunds in the canals must obtain the written permission of the Canal Subdivisional Officer before doing so.

5. Any person who constructs bunds in the canals, who interferes with the supply of water in them, or who takes water from them without the written permission of a duly authorised person, will render himself liable to the penalties defined in the Irrigation Act.

6. Any person who requires water from the channels of the Saran Canals must apply either to (a) the Patrol, (b) the Sectional Officer, or (c) the Subdivisional Canal Officer, who will take his signature on the Form A attached. If the application is approved, the Canal Subdivisional or Sectional Officer (all of whom are hereby empowered in that behalf) will grant a permit for irrigation in Form B.

7. Any person who holds a permit in Form B will be allowed to take canal water for irrigation, and he will be charged for it at the rates detailed in the following schedule :—

Schedule of rates for irrigation.

	Rs. A. P.
For bhadoi or rice crops irrigated between the 1st June and 25th of October	1 8 0

These rates apply equally to irrigation by lift and flow.

8. Persons who take water from any of the river channels named in rule I, without a permit in Form B, and persons who waste the water, are liable to be charged water-rates, under sections 79 and 80 of the Irrigation Act, at rates which shall be fixed by the Subdivisional Canal Officer, but which shall not be greater than twice the rate which would have been payable for licensed irrigation.

9. All water-rates assessed under rule 7 will be due on the 15th of December.

Water-rates assessed under rule 8 will be due as soon as the demand statement has been prepared.

10. The demand statements for water-rates due will be sent to the Collector as soon as possible after the irrigation in any village is completed, and a parcha, showing the area and amount assessed against each cultivator, will be sent to the rate-payer as soon as possible.

11. Any claim for remission of water-rates under section 76 (b), or for compensation under section 76 (c) of the Irrigation Act, must be presented in writing to the Subdivisional Canal Officer at least twenty days before the crop is cut. The Subdivisional Canal Officer shall, after such enquiry as he may consider necessary, pass orders on the application. Any application for remission presented direct to the Collector must be forwarded for the orders of the Canal Officer.

12. Objections to the demand statements must be presented within thirty days of the date on which the parcha is issued by the Subdivisional Canal Officer. He will pass orders on such objections.

13. Any person who is not satisfied with an order passed by the Subdivisional Canal Officer may appeal to the Collector under section 91 of the Irrigation Act. Such appeal must be accompanied by a copy of the order appealed against, and it must be submitted to the Collector within thirty days of the date of the order.

14. Remission statements must be signed by the Divisional Canal Officer. Any statement so signed shall be sufficient authority for a refund by the Collector.

15. No guarantee can be given either as to the volume or duration of the supply or of the delivery of any quantity of water at any particular point of any canal.

16. The Canal Officer will regulate the water passing into, and along, any canal to the best of his ability to meet requirements. If there is any difficulty in supplying all the channels, the Canal Officer will endeavour to divide the available supply as fairly as possible. The Canal Officer shall have complete control of the distribution of water.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 11th day of August 1884.

PRESENT:

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas by Order in Council made in pursuance of the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862, and dated the fourteenth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, Her Majesty, on the joint recommendation of the Admiralty and the Board of Trade, was pleased to direct that on and after the first day of September, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, the Regulations for preventing Collisions at Sea contained in an Order in Council dated the ninth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and the additions by an Order in Council dated the thirteenth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, made thereto, should be annulled, and that there should be substituted therefor the new Regulations contained in the first schedule to the said first-named Order in Council, and that the same should from and after the first day of September, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, apply to ships of the countries mentioned in the said second schedule thereto, whether within British jurisdiction or not.

And whereas by the Orders in Council dated respectively the twenty-fourth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, the twenty-sixth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one, the eighteenth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, the twenty-third day of August, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three, and the second day of February, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-four, Her Majesty was pleased to direct that the operation of the Article numbered 10 of the New Regulations contained in the first schedule of the said Order in Council of the fourteenth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, should be suspended from time to time.

And whereas the Admiralty and the Board of Trade have jointly recommended to Her Majesty that, so far as regards British ships and Boats, the regulations hereinafter set forth shall be substituted for the regulations contained in the first schedule to the said Order in Council of the fourteenth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine.

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue of the powers vested in Her by the said recited Act, and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council is pleased to direct that, on and after the first day of September, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-four the regulations contained in the schedule, hereto shall, so far as regards British ships and boats, be substituted for the regulations contained in the first schedule to the said Order in Council of the fourteenth day of August one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine.

SCHEDULE REFERRED TO IN THIS ORDER.

Regulations for preventing Collisions at Sea.

Article 1.—In the following rules every steam ship which is under sail and not under steam is to be considered a sailing ship; and every steam ship which is under steam, whether under sail or not, is to be considered a ship under steam.

Rules concerning Lights.

Article 2.—The lights mentioned in the following Articles numbered 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11, and no others, shall be carried in all weathers, from sunset to sunrise.

Article 3.—A seagoing steam ship when under way shall carry:—

(a) On or in front of the foremast, at a height above the hull of not less than 20 feet, and if the breadth of the ship exceeds 20 feet, then at a height above the hull not less than such broadth, a bright white light, so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light 10 points on each side of the ship, viz., from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on either side, and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least five miles.

(b) On the starboard side a green light, so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on the starboard side, and of such a character as to be visibleon a dark night with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least two miles.

(c) On the port side a red light, so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on the port side, and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least two miles.

(d) The said green and red side lights shall be fitted with inboard screens projecting at least 3 feet forward from the light, so as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

Article 4.—A steam ship, when towing another ship shall, in addition to her side lights, carry two bright white lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 3 feet apart, so as to distinguish her from other steam ships. Each of these lights shall be of the same construction and character, and shall be carried in the same position, as the white light which other steam ships are required to carry.

Article 5 (a).—A ship, whether a steam ship or a sailing ship, which from any accident is not under command, shall at night carry in the same position as the white light which steam ships are required to carry, and, if a steam ship, in place of that light, three red lights in globular lanterns, each not less than 10 inches in diameter, in a vertical line one over the other not less than three feet apart, and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night with a clear atmosphere at a distance of at least two miles; and shall by day carry in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart, in front of but not lower than her foremast head, three black balls or shapes, each two feet in diameter.

(b) A ship, whether a steam ship or sailing ship employed in laying or in picking up a telegraph cable, shall at night carry in the same position as the white light which steam ships are required to carry, and if a steam ship, in place of that light, three lights in globular lanterns each not less than 10 inches in diameter, in vertical line over one another, not less than 6 feet apart; the highest and lowest of these lights shall be red, and the middle light shall be white, and they shall be of such a character that the red lights shall be visible at the same distance as the white light. By day she shall carry in a vertical line one over the other not less than six feet apart, in front of but not lower than her foremast head, three shapes not less than two feet in diameter, of which the top and bottom shall be globular in shape and red in colour, and the middle one diamond in shape and white.

(c) The ships referred to in this Article, when not making any way through the water, shall not carry the side lights, but when making way shall carry them.

(d) The lights and shapes required to be shown by this Article are to be taken by other ships as signals that the ship showing them is not under command, and cannot therefore get out of the way. The signals to be made by ships in distress and requiring assistance are contained in Article 27.

Article 6.—A sailing ship under way or being towed shall carry the same lights as are provided by Article 3 for a steam ship under way, with the exception of the white light, which she shall never carry.

Article 7.—Whenever, as in the case of small vessels during bad weather, the green and red side lights cannot be fixed, these lights shall be kept on deck, on their respective sides of the vessel, ready for use; and shall, on the approach of or to other vessels, be exhibited on their respective sides in sufficient time to prevent collision, in such manner as to make them most visible, and so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side.

To make the use of these portable lights more certain and easy, the lanterns containing them shall each be painted outside with the colour of the light they respectively contain, and shall be provided with proper screens.

Article 8.—A ship, whether a steam ship or a sailing ship, when at anchor, shall carry, where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding 20 feet above the hull, a white light, in a globular lantern of not less than 8 inches in diameter, and so constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light visible all round the horizon, at a distance of at least one mile.

Article 9.—A pilot vessel, when engaged on her station on pilotage duty, shall not carry the light required for other vessels, but shall carry a white light at the masthead, visible all round the horizon, and shall also exhibit a flare-up light or flare-up lights at short intervals, which shall never exceed fifteen minutes.

A pilot vessel, when not engaged on her station on pilotage duty, shall carry lights similar to those of other ships.

Article 10.—Open boats and fishing vessels of less than 20 tons net registered tonnage, when under way and when not having their nets, trawls, dredges, or lines in the water, shall not be obliged to carry the coloured side lights; but every such boat and vessel shall in lieu thereof have ready at hand a lantern with a green glass on the one side, and a red glass on the other side, and on approaching to or being approached by another vessel such lantern shall be exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision, so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side.

The following portion of this Article applies only to fishing vessels and boats when in the sea off the coast of Europe lying north of Cape Finisterre:—

(a) All fishing vessels and fishing boats of 20 tons net registered tonnage, or upward, when under way and when not required by the following regulations in this Article to carry and show the lights therein named shall carry and show the same lights as other vessels under way.

(b) All vessels when engaged in fishing with drift nets shall exibit two white lights from any part of the vessel where they can be best seen. Such lights shall be placed so that the vertical distance between them shall be not less than 6 feet and not more than 10 feet; and so that the horizontal distance between them measured in a line with the keel of the vessel shall be not less than 5 feet and not more than 10 feet. The lower of these two lights shall be the more forward, and both of them shall be of such a character, and contained in lanterns of such construction as to show all round the horizon, on a dark night with a clear atmosphere, for a distance of not less than three miles.

(c) A vessel employed in line fishing with her lines out shall carry the same lights as a vessel when engaged in fishing with drift nets.

(d) If a vessel when fishing becomes stationary in consequence of her gear getting fast to a rock or other obstruction, she shall show the light and make the fog signal for a vessel at anchor.

(e) Fishing vessels and open boats may at any time use a flare-up in addition to the lights which they are by this Article required, to carry and show. All flare-up lights exhibited by a vessel when trawling dredging, or fishing with any kind of drag net shall be shown at the after part of the vessel, expecting that if the vessel is hanging by the stern to her trawl, dredge, or drag net, they shall be exhibited from the bow.

(f) Every fishing vessel and every open boat when at anchor between sunset and sunrise shall exhibit a white light visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least one mile.

(g) In fog, mist, or falling snow, a drift net vessel attached to her nets and a vessel when trawling, dredging or fishing with any kind of drag net, and a vessel employed in line fishing with her lines out, shall at intervals of not more than two minutes make a blast with her fog horn and ring her bell alternately.

Article 11. A ship which is being overtaken by another shall show from her stern to such last-mentioned ship a white light or a flare-up light.

Sound signals for fog, &c.

Article 12. A steam ship shall be provided with a steam whistle or other efficient steam sound signal, so placed that the sound may not be intercepted by any obstructions, and with an efficient fog horn to be sounded by a bellows or other mechanical means, and also with an efficient bell.* A sailing ship shall be provided with a similar fog horn and bell.

In fog, mist, or falling snow, whether by day or night, the signals described in this Article shall be used as follows; that is to say,—

(a) A steam ship under way shall make with her steam whistle, or other steam sound signal, at intervals of not more than two minutes, a prolonged blast.

(b) A sailing ship under way shall make with her fog horn, at intervals of not more than two minutes, when on the starboard tack one blast, when on the port tack two blasts in succession, and when with the wind abaft the beam three blasts in succession.

(c) A steam ship and a sailing ship, when not under way, shall at intervals of not more than two minutes ring the bell.

Speed of ships to be moderate in fog, &c.

Steering and Sailing Rules.

Article 14. When two sailing ships are approaching one another, so as to involve risk of collision, one of them shall keep out of the way of the other, as follows, viz.:—

(a) A ship which is running free shall keep out of the way of a ship which is close-hauled.

(b) A ship which is close-hauled on the port tack shall keep out of the way of a ship which is close-hauled on the starboard tack.

(c) When both are running free with the wind on different sides, the ship which has the wind on the port side shall keep out of the way of the other.

(d) When both are running free with the wind on the same side, the ship which is to windward shall keep out of the way of the ship which is to leeward.

(e) A ship which has the wind aft shall keep out of the way of the other ship.

Article 15. If two ships under steam are meeting end on, or nearly end on, so as to involve risk of collision, each shall alter her course to starboard, so that each may pass on the port side of the other.

This Article only applies to cases where ships are meeting end on, or nearly end on, in such a manner as to involve risk of collision, and does not apply to two ships which must, if both keep on their respective courses, pass clear of each other.

* In all cases where the Regulations require a bell to be used, a drum will be substituted on board Turkish vessels.

The only cases to which it does apply are, when each of the two ships is end on, or nearly end on, to the other; in other words, to cases in which, by day, each ship sees the masts of the other in a line, or nearly in a line with her own; and by night, to cases in which each ship is in such a position as to see both the side lights of the other.

It does not apply by day to cases in which a ship sees another ahead crossing her own course or by night to cases where the red light of one ship is opposed to the red light of the other or where the green light of one ship is opposed to the green light of the other, or where a red light without a green light, or a green light without a red light, is seen ahead, or where both green and red lights are seen anywhere but ahead.

Article 16. If two ships under steam are crossing so as to involve risk of collision, the ship which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way of the other.

Article 17. If two ships, one of which is a sailing ship and the other a steam ship, are proceeding in such directions as to involve risk of collision, the steam ship shall keep out of the way of the sailing ship.

Article 18. Every steam ship, when approaching another ship, so as to involve risk of collision, shall slacken her speed or stop and reverse, if necessary.

Article 19. In taking any course authorised or required by these regulations, a steam ship under way may indicate that course to any other ship which she has in sight by the following signals on her steam whistle, viz.—

One short blast to mean "I am directing my course to starboard."
Two short blasts to mean "I am directing my course to port."
Three short blasts to mean "I am going full speed astern."

The use of these signals is optional, but if they are used the course of the ship must be in accordance with the signal made.

Article 20. Notwithstanding anything contained in any preceding Article, every ship, whether a sailing ship or a steam ship, overtaking any other, shall keep out of the way of the overtaken ship.

Article 21. In narrow channels every steam ship shall, when it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of the fairway or mid-channel which lies on the starboard side of such ship.

Article 22. Where by the above rules one of two ships is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep her course.

Article 23. In obeying and construing these rules due regard shall be had to all dangers of navigation, and to any special circumstances which may render a departure from the above rules necessary in order to avoid immediate danger.

No ship under any circumstances to neglect proper precautions.

Article 24. Nothing in these rules shall exonerate any ship, or the owner, or master, or crew thereof, from the consequences of any neglect to carry lights or signals, or of any neglect to keep a proper look out, or of the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen, or by the special circumstances of the case.

Reservation of Rules for Harbours and Inland Navigation.

Article 25. Nothing in these rules shall interfere with the operation of a special rule, duly made by local authority, relative to the navigation of any harbour, river, or inland navigation.

Special lights for Squadrons and Convoys.

Article 26. Nothing in these rules shall interfere with the operation of any special rules made by the Government of any nation with respect to additional station and signal lights for two or more ships of war or for ships sailing under convoy.

Article 27. When a ship is in distress and requires assistance from other ships or from the shore, the following shall be the signals to be used or displayed by her, either together or separately, that is to say:

In the day time—

1. A gun fired at intervals of about a minute;
2. The International Code signal of distress indicated by N C;
3. The distant signal, consisting of a square flag, having either above or below it a ball, or anything resembling a ball.

At night—

1. A gun fired at intervals of about a minute;
2. Flames on the ship (as from a burning tar barrel, oil barrel, &c.);
3. Rockets or shells, throwing stars of any colour or description, fired one at a time, at short intervals.

And whereas the Admiralty and the Board of Trade have jointly recommended to Her Majesty that the Regulations for preventing collisions at sea contained in the Schedule to the said Order in Council, dated the 11th day of August 1884, except the Article numbered 10 in such Regulations, should, on and after the 1st day of July 1897, be annulled, and that the Regulations for Preventing Collisions at Sea contained in Schedule I hereto annexed should, on and after the last-mentioned date, be substituted therefor, with the exception aforesaid and come into operation as regards British ships and boats:

And whereas it has been made to appear to Her Majesty that it is expedient that the Regulations or Rules as to signals of distress contained in the Schedule to the said Order in Council, dated the 11th day of August 1884, should, on and after the said first day of July 1897, be annulled, and that the rules as to signals of distress contained in Schedule II hereto annexed should, on and after the last-mentioned date, be substituted therefor and come into operation as regards British ships and boats:

C. L. PEEL.

Preliminary.

These Rules shall be followed by all vessels upon the high seas and in all waters connected therewith, navigable by sea-going vessels.

In the following rules every steam vessel which is under sail and not under steam is to be considered a sailing vessel, and every vessel under steam, whether under sail or not, is to be considered a steam vessel.

The word "steam vessel" shall include any vessel propelled by machinery.

A vessel is "under way" within the meaning of these Rules, when she is not at anchor, or made fast to the shore or aground.

Rules concerning Lights, &c.

The word "visible" in these Rules, when applied to lights, shall mean visible on a dark night with clear atmosphere.

Article 1.—The Rules concerning lights shall be complied with in all weathers from sunset to sunrise and during such time no other lights which may be mistaken for the prescribed lights shall be exhibited.

Article 2.—A steam vessel when under way shall carry—

(a) On or in front of the foremast, or if a vessel without a foremast, then in the fore part of the vessel, at a height above the hull of not less than 20 feet, and if the breadth of the vessel exceeds 20 feet, then at a height above the hull not less than such breadth, so, however, that the light need not be carried at a greater height above the hull than 40 feet, a bright white light, so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light 10 points on each side of the vessel, viz., from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on either side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 5 miles.

(b) On the starboard side a green light so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on the starboard side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(c) On the port side a red light so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the port side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles

(d) The said green and red side-lights shall be fitted with inboard screens projecting at least 3 feet forward from the light, so as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

(e) A steam vessel when under way may carry an additional white light similar in construction to the light mentioned in subdivision (a). These two lights shall be so placed in line with the keel that one shall be at least 15 feet higher than the other, and in such a position with reference to each other that the lower light shall be forward of the upper one. The vertical distance between these lights shall be less than the horizontal distance.

Article 3.—A steam vessel when towing another vessel shall, in addition to her side-lights, carry two bright white lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart, and when towing more than one vessel shall carry an additional bright white light 6 feet above or below such lights, if the length of the tow, measuring from the stern of the towing vessel to the stern of the last vessel towed exceeds 600 feet. Each of these lights shall be of the same construction and character, and shall be carried in the same position as the white light mentioned in Article 2 (a), except the additional light, which may be carried at a height of not less than 14 feet above the hull.

Such steam vessel may carry a small white light abaft the funnel or aftermast for the vessel towed to steer by, but such light shall not be visible forward of the beam.

Article 4 (a).—A vessel which from any accident is not under command shall carry at the same height as the white light mentioned in Article 2 (a), where they can best be seen, and, if a steam vessel, in lieu of that light two red lights, in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart, and of such a character as to be visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least 2 miles, and shall by day carry in a vertical line one over the other not less than 6 feet apart, where they can best be seen, two black balls or shapes each 2 feet in diameter.

(b) A vessel employed in laying or in picking up a telegraph cable shall carry in the same position as the white light mentioned in Article 2 (a), and if a steam vessel, in lieu of that light, three lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart. The highest and lowest of these lights shall be red, and the middle light shall be white, and they shall be of such a character as to be visible all round the horizon, at a distance of at least 2 miles. By day she shall carry in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart, where they can best be seen, three shapes not less than 2 feet in diameter, of which the highest and lowest shall be globular in shape and red in colour, and the middle one diamond in shape and white.

(c) The vessels referred to in this Article, when not making way through the water, shall not carry the side lights, but when making way shall carry them.

(d) The lights and shapes required to be shown by this Article are to be taken by other vessels as signal that the vessel showing them is not under command and cannot therefore get out of the way.

These signals are not signals of vessels in distress and requiring assistance. Such signals are contained in Article 31.

Article 5.—A sailing vessel under way, and any vessel being towed, shall carry the same lights as are prescribed by Article 2 for a steam vessel under way, with the exception of the white lights mentioned therein which they shall never carry.

Article 6.—Whenever, as in the case of small vessels under way during bad weather, the green and red side-lights cannot be fixed, these lights shall be kept at hand lighted and ready for use; and shall, on the approach of or to other vessels, be exhibited on their respective sides in sufficient time to prevent collision, in such manner as to make them most visible, and so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side, nor, if practicable, more than 2 points abaft the beam on their respective sides.

To make the use of these portable lights more certain and easy, the lanterns containing them shall each be painted outside with the colour of the light they respectively contain, and shall be provided with proper screens.

Article 7.—Steam vessels of less than 40, and vessels under oars or sails of less than 20, tons gross tonnage, respectively, and rowing boats, when underway, shall not be obliged to carry the lights mentioned in Article 2 (a) (b) and (c), but if they do not carry them, they shall be provided with the following lights:—

1. Steam vessels of less than 40 tons shall carry:

(a) In the fore part of the vessel, or on or in front of the funnel where it can best be seen, and at a height above the gunwale of not less than 9 feet, a bright white light constructed and fixed as prescribed in Article 2 (a), and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(b) Green and red side-lights constructed and fixed as prescribed in Article 2 (b) and (c), and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 1 mile, or a combined lantern showing a green light and a red light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on their respective sides. Such lantern shall be carried not less than 3 feet below the white light.

2. Small steamboats, such as are carried by sea-going vessels, may carry the white light at a less height than 9 feet above the gunwale, but it shall be carried above the combined lantern, mentioned in subdivision 1 (b).

3. Vessels under oars or sails, of less than 20 tons, shall have ready at hand a lantern with a green glass on one side and a red glass on the other, which, on the approach of or two other vessels, shall be exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision, so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side.

4. Rowing boats, whether under oars, or sail, shall have ready at hand a lantern showing a white light, which shall be temporarily exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision.

The vessels referred to in this Article shall not be obliged to carry the lights prescribed by Article 4 (a) and Article 11, last paragraph.

Article 8.—Pilot vessels, when engaged on their station on pilotage duty shall not show the lights required for other vessels, but shall carry a white light at the masthead, visible all round the horizon, and shall also exhibit a flare-up light or flare-up lights at short intervals, which shall never exceed 15 minutes.

On the near approach of or to other vessels they shall have their side-lights lighted, ready for use, and shall flash or show them at short intervals, to indicate the direction in which they are heading, but the green light shall not be shown on the port side, nor the red light on the starboard side.

A pilot-vessel of such a class as to be obliged to go alongside of a vessel to put a pilot on board, may show the white light instead of carrying it at the masthead, and may, instead of the coloured lights above mentioned, have at hand ready for use a lantern with a green glass on the one side and a red glass on the other, to be used as prescribed above.

Pilot vessels, when not engaged on their station on pilotage duty, shall carry lights similar to those of other vessels of their tonnage.

*Article 9.

Article 10.—A vessel which is being overtaken by another shall show from her stern to such last-mentioned vessel a white light or a flare-up light.

The white light required to be shown by this Article may be fixed and carried in a lantern, but in such case the lantern shall be so constructed, fitted, and screened that it shall throw an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 12 points of the compass, viz., for 6 points from right aft on each side of the vessel, so as to be visible at a distance of at least 1 mile. Such light shall be carried as nearly as practicable on the same level as the side-lights.

Article 11.—A vessel under 150 feet in lenght, when at anchor, shall carry forward, where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding 20 feet above the hull, a white light in a lantern as constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least 1 mile.

A vessel of 150 feet or upwards in length, when at anchor, shall carry in the forward part of the vessel, at a height of not less than 20, and not exceeding 40 feet above the hull, one such light and at or near the stern of the vessel, and at such a height that it shall be not less than 15 feet lower than the forward light, another such light.

The length of a vessel shall be deemed to be the length appearing in her certificate of registry.

A vessel aground in or near a fairway shall carry the above light or lights and the two red lights prescribed by Article 4 (a).

Article 12.—Every vessel may, if necessary in order to attract attention, in addition to the lights which she is by these Rules required to carry, show a flare-up light or use any detonating signal that cannot be mistaken for a distress signal.

Article 13.—Nothing in these Rules shall interfere with the operation of any special rules made by the Government of any nation with respect to additional station and signal lights for two or more ships of war or for vessels sailing under convoy, or with the exhibition of recognition signals adopted by shipowners, which have been authorized by their respective Governments and duly registered and published.

* This Article will deal with regulations affecting fishing boats, and will be the subject of another Order, which will be submitted to Her Majesty for approval at a later date.

Article 14.—A steam vessel proceeding under sail only, but having her funnel up, shall carry in daytime, forward, where it can best be seen, one black ball or shape 2 feet in diameter.

Sound-Signals for Fog, etc.

Article 15.—All signals prescribed by this Article for vessels under way shall be given :

1. By "steam vessels" on the whistle or siren.
2. By "sailing vessels and vessels towed" on the fog-horn.

The words "prolonged blast" used in this Article, shall mean a blast of from 4 to 6 seconds' duration.

A steam vessel shall be provided with an efficient whistle or siren, sounded by steam or some substitute for steam, so placed that the sound may not be intercepted by any obstruction, and with an efficient fog-horn,to be sounded by mechanical means, and also with an efficient bell.* A sailing vessel of 20 tons gross tonnage or upwards shall be provided with a similar fog-horn and bell.

In fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain storms, whether by day or night, the signals described in this Article shall be used as follows, viz. :—

(a) A steam vessel having way upon her, shall sound, at intervals of not more than 2 minutes, a prolonged blast.

(b) A steam vessel under way, but stopped and having no way upon her, shall sound at intervals of not more than 2 minutes, 2 prolonged blasts, with an interval of about 1 second between them.

(c) A sailing vessel under way shall sound, at intervals of not more than 1 minute, when on the starboard tack one blast, when on the port tack two blasts in succession, and when with the wind abaft the beam three blasts in succession.

(d) A vessel, when at anchor, shall, at intervals of not more than 1 minute, ring the bell rapidly for about 5 seconds.

(e) A vessel, when towing a vessel employed in laying or in picking up a telegraph cable, and a vessel under way, which is unable to get out of the way of an approaching vessel through being not under command, or unable to manœuvre as required by these Rules, shall, instead of the signals prescribed in sub-divisions (a) and (c) of the Article, at intervals of not more than 2 minutes, sound three blasts in succession, viz., one prolonged blast followed by two short blasts. A vessel towed may give this signal and she shall not give any other.

Sailing-vessels and boats of less than 20 tons gross tonnage shall not be obliged to give the above-mentioned signals, but if they do not, they shall make some other efficient sound-signal at intervals of not more than 1 minute.

Speed of Ships to be Moderate in Fog, etc.

Article 16.—Every vessel shall, in a fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain-storms, go at a moderate speed having careful regard to the existing circumstances and conditions.

A steam vessel hearing, apparently forward of her beam, the fog-signal of a vessel the position of which is not ascertained, shall, so far as the circumstances of the case admit, stop her engines, and then navigate with caution until danger of collision is over.

Steering and Sailing Rules.

Preliminary—Risk of Collision.

Risk of collision can, when circumstances permit, be ascertained by carefully watching the compass bearing of an approaching vessel. If the bearing does not appreciably change, such risk should be deemed to exist.

Article 17.—When two sailing vessels are approching one another, so as to involve risk of collision, one of them shall keep out of the way of the other, as follows, viz :—

(a) A vessel which is running free shall keep out of the way of a vessel which is close-hauled.

(b) A vessel which is close hauled on the port tack shall keep out of the way of a vessel which is close-hauled on the starboard tack.

(c) When both are running free, with the wind on different sides, the vessel which has the wind on the port side shall keep out of the way of the other.

(d) When both are running free, with the wind on the same side, the vessel which is to windward shall keep out of the way of the vessel which is to leeward.

(e) A vessel which has the wind aft shall keep out of the way of the other vessel.

Article 18.—When two steam vessels are meeting end on, or nearly end on, so as to involve risk of collision, each shall alter her course to starboard, so that each may pass on the per side of the other.

This Article only applies to cases where vessels are meeting end on, or nearly end on, in such a manner as to involve risk of collision, and does not apply to two vessels which must, if both keep on their respective courses, pass clear of each other.

* In all cases where the Rules require a bell to be used, a drum may be substituted on board Turkish vessels, or a gong where such articles are used on board shall sea-going vessels.

The only cases to which it does apply are when each of the two vessels is end on, or nearly end on, to the other; in other words to cases in which, by day, each vessel sees the masts of the other in a line, or nearly in a line, with her own; and, by night, to cases in which each vessel is in such a position as to see both the side-lights of the other.

It does not apply, by day, to cases in which a vessel sees another ahead crossing her own course; or by night to cases where the red light of one vessel is opposed to the red light of the other, or where the green light of one vessel is opposed to the green light of the other, or where a red light without a green light, or a green light without a red light, is seen ahead, or where both green and red lights are seen any where but ahead.

Article 19.—When two steam vessels are crossing, so as to involve risk of collision, the vessel which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way of the other.

Article 20.—When a steam vessel and a sailing vessel are proceeding in such directions as to involve risk of collision, the steam vessel shall keep out of the way of the sailing vessel.

Article 21.—Where by any of the Rules one of two vessels is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep her course and speed.

Note.—When, in consequence of thick weather or other causes, such vessel finds herself so close that collision cannot be avoided by the action of the giving-way vessel alone, she also shall take such action as will best aid to avert collision. (See articles 27 and 29.)

Article 22.—Every vessel which is directed by these Rules to keep out of the way of another vessel shall, if the circumstances of the case admit, avoid crossing ahead of the other.

Article 23.—Every steam vessel, which is directed by these Rules to keep out of the way of another vessel shall on approaching her, if necessary, slacken her speed or stop or reverse.

Article 24.—Notwithstanding anything contained in these Rules, every vessel, overtaking any other, shall keep out of the way of the overtaken vessel.

Every vessel coming up with another vessel from any direction more than two points abaft, her beam, i.e., in such a position, with reference to the vessel which she is overtaking, that at night she would be unable to see either of that vessel's side-lights, shall be deemed to be an overtaking vessel; and no subsequent alteration of the bearing between the two vessels shall make the overtaking vessel a crossing vessel within the meaning of these Rules, or relieve her of the duty of keeping clear of the overtaken vessel until she is finally past and clear.

As by day the overtaking vessel cannot always know with certainty whether she is forwarded of or abaft this direction from the other vessel, she should, if in doubt, assume that she is an overtaking vessel and keep out of the way.

Article 25.—In narrow channels every steam vessel shall, when it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of fair-way or mid channel which lies on the starboard side of such vessel.

Article 26.—Sailing vessels under way shall keep out of the way of sailing vessels or boats fishing with nets or lines, or trawls. This Rule shall not give to any vessel or boat engaged in fishing the right of obstructing a fairway used by vessels other than fishing-vessels or boats.

Article 27.—In obeying and construing these Rules, due regard shall be had to all dangers of navigation and collision, and to any special circumstances which may render a departure from the above rules necessary in order to avoid immediate danger.

Sound Signals for Vessels in Sight of one another.

Article 28.—The words "short blast" used in this Article shall mean a blast of about one seconds duration

When vessels are in sight of one another, a steam vessel under way, in taking any course authorized or required by these Rules, shall indicate that course by the following signals on her whistle or siren, viz.:—

One short blast to mean, "I am directing my course to starboard."
Two short blasts to mean, "I am directing my course to port."
Three short blasts to mean, "My engines are going full speed astern."

No Vessel under any Circumstances to neglect proper Precautions.

Article 29.—Nothing in these Rules shall exonerate any vessel, or the owner, or master, or crew, thereof, from the consequences of any neglect to carry lights or signals, or of any neglect to keep a proper look-out, or of the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen, or by the special circumstances of the case.

Reservation of Rules for Harbours and Inland Navigation.

Article 30.—Nothing in these Rules shall interfere with the operation of a special rule, duly made by local authority, relative to the navigation of any harbour, river, or inland waters.

SCHEDULE II.

Distress Signals.

Article 31.—When a vessel is in distress and requires assistance from other vessels or from the shore, the following shall be the signals to be used or displayed by her, either together or separately, viz.:—

In the day time—

1. A gun or other explosive signal fired at intervals of about a minute;
2. The International Code signal of distress indicated by N C;
3. The distance signal, consisting of a square flag, having either above or below it a ball or anything resembling a ball;
4. A continuous sounding with any fog-signal apparatus.

A night—

1. A gun or other explosive signal fired at intervals of about a minute;
2. Flames on the vessel (as from a burning tar-barrel, oil-barrel, etc.);
3. Rockets or shells, throwing stars of any colour or description, fired one at a time, at short intervals;
4. A continuous sounding with any fog-signal apparatus.

AFRICA NORTH-EAST—Red sea, wetern shore.

North Massawa channel approach—Search for certain dangers.

The undermentioned information, relating to a recent search for King Arthur shoal and Akbar rock, and an examination of Gannet bank, has been received from Lieutenant and Commander H. J. Gedge, H.M. Surveying Vessel Stork:—

1. King Arthur shoal.—With reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 205 of 1889, on the steam-vessel King Arthur striking on a shoal with a depth of about 2¼ fathoms on it, reported to be situated in approximately lat. 17° 10′ N., long. 39° 10′ E.

   In the search by the Stork for this danger the least water obtained was 10 fathoms, in approximately lat. 17° 8′ N., long. 39° 8′ E.; it is, however, considered probable that the rock exists and is small. Consequently the the words "Rock reported hereabout" have been retained on Admiralty Chart against the above position of the 10 fathoms.

2. Akbar rock.—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 448 of 1892, on the steam-vessel Akbar (draught 20 feet) touching on a shoal in a position (considered very doutful) in lat. 16° 47′ N., long. 39° 12′ E.

   This rock was not found by the Stork, the least depth obtained being 10 fathoms, in approximately lat. 16° 44′ 30″ N., long. 39° 12′ 45″ E. In this case also it is considered probable that the rock exists and is small. Consequently the words "Rock reported hereabout" have been written on the Admiralty Chart against the above position of the 10 fathoms.

3. Gannet bank.—A coral head, with a least depth of 3¾ fathoms over it, was found on Gannet bank; and the position of this head was determined to be about 1¾ miles, N.W., from its previously charted position, or approximately in lat. 16° 59′ 55″ N., long. 39° 12′ 25″ E.

   This bank is about 6 cables in length north and south, and 3 cables in breadth, within the 5 fathom line; deepening quickly to the westward and southward, and having soundings less than 10 fathoms for some distance from it in other directions.

a. A can buoy, painted black, and surmounted by staff and cage, has been placed on Mujunia reef, in approximately lat. 15° 36½′ N., long. 39° 41¼′ E.

b. A beacon of masonry, coloured white, has been erected on Sheel island, Disei channel, in approximately lat. 15° 27¼′ N., long. 39° 45¾′ E.; and a similar beacon on Ras Hartu, about 4 miles southward of Sheel island.

c. A beacon of masonry, coloured white, has been erected on the western extreme of northern Assarka island, the Narrows, in approximately lat. 15° 32′ N., long. 39° 53¾′ E.

(2) Raweiya Anchorage and Mahommed Ghúl.

a. The plan of Raweiya anchorage should not be relied upon, and should be used with great caution. A note to this effect has been placed on the chat.

b. Vessels should anchor with the fort at Mahommed Ghúl bearing westward of S. 72° W.; northward of that line the ground is foul.

c. The buoy, previously moored about S.E ½ E., distant about 4 cables, from Mahommed Ghúl fort flagstaff has disappeared.

(3) Kamaran bay—Beacons at south entrance.

a. A masonry beacon, square in section, and surmounted by a pole and cage, has been erected close to the cable house at Yemmen, south end of Kamaran island; in approximately, on chart No. 143, lat. 15° 16′ 40″ N., long. 42° 34′ 10″ E.

b. A pole beacon, surmounted by a cage, has been erected on the north-west extreme of Ras el Bayádh, the point on the east side of the entrance, opposite Yemmen.

(4) Okbán—Reef off South point.

A fringing reef extends for some distance from the south end of Okbán island.

This is now shown on the charts to a distance of one mile from the island.

Approximate position, Okbán south point, lat. 15° 27¾′ N., long. 42° 23¼′ E.

Nov. 4th	99	8vo dy	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	0 6 0	Sisir Kumár Ghosh, 2, Ananda Chandra Chatterji's Lane, Bágbázár, Calcutta.	The story of Prakásánanda and his nephew Gopála Bhatta's conversion to Chaitanyaism, with glimpses of their lives before and after the conversion. Prakásánanda, who took the name of Prabodhánanda after the conversion, was a contemporary of Chaitanya, and one of the most learned Vedantists of his day. He came of a Brahman family of Southern India, and early adopted the life of a Sannyási. During his tour in the Deccan, Chaitanya stayed for some time with the family and converted its members, including Gopál, who was Prakása's nephew, to Vaishnavism. Prakásánanda took umbrage at this, and more than once challenged Chaitanya to come to Benares, where he was established as the head of a sect of Sannyásis, to discuss with him the respective merits of Vaishnavism and Vedantism. At last they met together at Benares, where Prakásánanda fell under the influence of Chaitanya and became a convert to his doctrines, and passed the remaining days of his life at Vrindában. The book incidentally treats of the lives of Chaitanya and many of his well-known disciples and followers.	4328
Nov. 14th	78	12mo dy	1st...	1,000	Printed.	0 6 0	The Author, Báli in the district of Howrah.	Is a drama of domestic life, which tries to make out that the integrity of a joint Hindu family often depends on the good sense of its female members. The plot is as follows:—Four brothers, with their mother, wives and a widowed sister, live jointly, and are on the best of terms with one another. This amity among the brothers was due mainly to the good understanding prevailing among their wives. But as the fact was ignored by everybody, and all credit for the success of the family went to the brothers, the wives took it into their heads to vindicate themselves at the expense of their husbands. They accordingly got up a fictitious quarrel among themselves and easily induced the brothers, mutually attached though they were, to ask for a division of the paternal property. The entire stock of family moveables was accordingly brought out before a number of neighbours, who were invited to aid in the division, and the allotment of shares was about to commence. At this juncture, the wife of the second brother told the assembled people that, the whole thing was a joke, pre-arranged with a view to show that it was she and her sisters-in-law and not their husbands, who were the real guardians of the family peace, and that it was in their power to rule their husbands at pleasure, they being in fact their sayyd-guru, or instructresses of the bed-chamber.	4329

The drama ends with the English conquest of Manipur and the flight of Tougal, Tikendrajit and Kulachandra. The queen of Surachandra, who was in Manipur after her husband's expulsion from the place, is represented as having, out of jealousy and vindictiveness, created a disaffection among the people in favour of the English. It is this which led to the collapse of all opposition against them, and induced the principal actors in the drama to seek safety in flight.	4330

Nov. 3rd	79	16mo	1st...	1,000	Printed.	0 6 0	Nimái Charan Basu, 20, Fariápukur Street, Calcutta.	A story of love and adventure dramatised. Mádhaví, a blind girl, who was one of the maids of the princess Vidyut, the reputed daughter of the king of Avanti, captivates the heart of Nakshatra, a prince dearly loved by her mistress. This excites her jealousy, and by her order the offending girl was taken to a wood and there left to die. Her piteous appeals for help move the heart of the goddess Durgá, and she is restored to sight and taken care of by Sudhira, who passed as a gardener's son, but who was really her own brother, both of them being born of the king of Avanti by his legitimate queen. After a time they meet with their father, the king of Avanti, who was believed to have been dead, and were brought back to the palace. There the princess Mádhaví marries her lover Nákshatra, and as her brother Sudhira refuses the throne, it goes to her husband. As regards Vidyut, she turns out to be the natural daughter of the king, and is imprisoned by his order for her inhuman conduct towards her supposed maid. The plot is clumsy and uninteresting.	4338
Dec. 28th	21	12mo dy	1st...	500	ditto ...	0 2 0	Boys of the Chittagong College.	Is an allegory on the subject of the prevailing scarcity, in the form of a dialogue between Bengal and Chittagong personified. In the course of her visit to her daughters (the different provinces), Bengal calls on Chittagong, her youngest daughter, and enquires about her health. The latter confesses to be in a famished condition, and deplores the poverty of her sons and the unwillingness of those that are rich to help her in her distress. In the course of the conversation between the mother and the daughter, the former reads a letter from her mother India, applauding England's charity to relieve her distress. A Chittagong Babu is represented in the play as summarily rejecting a poor man's appeal for help, in order that he may save his money for the purchase of a title. An Englishman next comes to the scene, gives a rupee to the poor man and takes the Babu to task for his unsympathetic conduct towards his countryman. Being asked by Chittagong as to why famine has visited her people, the mother says that happiness and misery are every body's lot by turn, and that famines were not unknown in ancient India. The book is dedicated to Mr. Skrine, lately of the Civil Service.	4339

In the course of the review, the writer comes to the conclusion that Monism or Non-Dualism, although admirable as a starting point of spiritual enquiry, becomes wholly inadequate, when looked upon as a goal of such enquiry He denies that there is real identity between God and individual souls, except in so far as that identity is identity of nature as revealed in consciousness. The book is thoughtfully written, and shows an acquaintance on the part of the author with both Hindu and European systems of thought and philosophy.	4448

1896. 17th Nov.	Pages. 127	8vo dy	1st...	500	Printed.	Rs. A. P. 2 0 0	Sasadhar Ráy, Pleader, Judge's Court, Rájsháhi.	Is an epic poem in eight cantoes, based on the Puranic story of the defeat and death of the demon Táraka by the hand of Kártikeya, son of Siva. Táraka defeated Indra and took possession of heaven. Indra in despair sought the protection of the goddess Durgá and accompanied her to where Siva was engaged in meditation. There the goddess's prayer to Siva disturbed his meditation, and as he was about to open his eyes, Cupid, who was with the goddess to help, if necessary, the cause of Indra, hit Siva with an arrow. Thus hit, Siva glanced at the offending god, who was reduced to ashes. He next heard the goddess, on behalf of Indra and promised her a son by himself, who would rid the heaven of the demons. The goddess then incarnated herself as daughter of Himálaya (Mount Himálaya), and was married in due time to Siva. The son born of the marriage was Kártikeya, who after a period of pupilage passed with the god Visvakarmá, was declared fit to lead the army of the gods against the demon hosts. The war between gods and demons then recommenced, and after a continuous battle for seven days, an armistice was agreed upon. The demons violated the armistice, and in the battle which followed, they were defeated and their leader Táraka was wounded and taken captive. In prison he devoutly prayed to the god Siva to know the cause of his defeat. He was informed that his fall was due to demerit incurred by the violation of the armistice. He then breathed his last, applauded by Kártikeya and other gods for his heroism in battle and his just and enlightened principles as a ruler Kártikeya then touched his dead body with Siva's trident, and purified by the touch, Táraka's astral body entered heaven as one of the gods—a privilege which was vouchsafed to nearly all his followers, who had fallen in battle. It will be seen from the analysis that the poem is a Bengali version of the Kumára-sambhava of Kálidás, on which, as well as on Milton's Paradise Lost, the writer has freely drawn for his ideas, imagery and expression. Táraka is represented as a just and wise ruler, much better in many respects than Indra, and his fall is ascribed to acts of oppression and injustice committed by his followers without his knowledge. Indra's fall is ascribed to his indulgence in sexual pleasures and the neglect of his duties as a ruler. The writer is not without power, and the character of Táraka is well drawn. But the language and versification stand somewhat in need of improvement.	4449
Nov. 9th	29½	16modo	1st...	2,000	ditto ...	1 4 0	Navín Chandra Sen, Calcutta.	Is an epic in thirteen cantoes based on the well-known story of the destruction of the Yádavas at Prabhás, the modern Prabhás Pattan on the Guzerat coast. The poem is a continuation of, and a supplement to, Raivataka and Kurukshetra, the two earlier poems by the writer. According to him, Krishna was the founder of a new religion, opposed to the Brahmanism of the Vedas, which aimed at raising the non-Aryan races of India to the level of the Aryan and uniting them both in a common bond of brotherhood. The battle of Kurukshetra, by breaking the power of the Kshatriyas, removed the only obstacle to the acceptance of the new creed, and there was a grand mustering of Aryans and non-Aryans at Prabhás, thirty-six years after the battle, to do honour to the founder of the new cult, who was regarded as an incarnation of Náráyana. The poem opens with a description of this gathering at Prabhás and a conversation between the two principal wives of Krishna on the eve of the grand festivities to be celebrated next night. The Yádavas, including Krishna's numerous progeny and their descendants, were there, and they were freely indulging themselves in drink—a habit to which they had been converted by the persistent efforts of a secret emissary of the sage Durvásá, who, as an exponent of Brahmanism, was opposed to the new creed, and who mortally hated its founder and meditated an attack on the Yádavas on the night of the Prabhás festivities. This emissary was no other than his own wife Káru, a sister of the great Nága Chief (non-Aryan leader) Vásuki (the thousand-headed serpent of the Hindu mythology). The Nága Chief was commissioned to have an army ready for the night attack. The brother and sister meet the sage at his asram on mount Raivataka on the eve of the eventful night. The sister secretly loved Krishna, but as the love was not requited she swore vengeance on him, and was easily induced to play her part in the coming drama; but the brother, who was touched by the beauty of the new creed and conceived a liking for its founder, had to be cajoled into the enterprise by means of a trick. The sage took him to the brink of a burning crater on the mount, and there the simple savage heard in terror and surprise the words of the great non-Aryan god Bhútanáth commanding him not to swerve from his resolution to found a non-Aryan empire over the destruction of the Yádava supremacy at Prabhás. Thus every thing was ready for the approaching catastrophe. The festivities commenced and millions of throats lustily cheered Krishna and adored and worshipped him as a living god. About midnight the festivities ceased by order of Krishna, and people who came to do him honour retired to a short distance from the place. Shortly afterwards the night attack commenced, and piercing cries were heard on all sides, mixed with the din and confusion of battle. The Yádavas maddened by lust and wine began to fall by each other's weapons, supplemented by the missiles of the Nágas and combustibles let loose from the burning crater above referred to. Krishna hastened to the scene, and meeting his brother Valarám, asked him to take ship with the remnants of Yádavas and Nágas and to cross over to some distant land in the west and there to found a new colony and give the benefit of religion and civilisation to that part of the world. His instruction was carried out, and Valarám immediately started on his voyage. Krishna then sat himself down under a Nim tree, and while there, was pierced to death by an arrow shot by Káru. She was, however, forgiven by him, and she died lamented by her brother Vásuki. Arjuna, his wife Subhadrá and the sage Vyása then met at the Prabhás field where Subhadrá nursed the dying and the wounded and ministered last comforts to the dying sage Durvásá. The death of Sailajá, another sister of Vásuki, who was a devout admirer of Krishna and who loved Arjuna first as a lover and lastly as a daughter, together with a description of the various incarnations of the God in the different parts of the world given by Vyása at her request, bring the poem to an end. The poem is, in fact, the writer's interpretation of the story of Prabhás as told in the Mahábhárat, but it is an interpretation so alien alike to the letter and spirit of that grand epic that, it will perhaps commend itself to very few sensible people. Although labouring under serious defects of style and language the poem is not altogether devoid of passages of beauty and originality.	4450

„ 11th	109	8vo dy	1st ..	500	ditto ...	0 8 0	The Author.	Discusses the question of famine and poverty in Bengal, and suggests remedies, which may, in the opinion of the writer, prevent these evils in future. The remedies fall under three classes, according as they are required to be applied by the Government, the Zemindars and the agricultural and labouring classes. Among those which fall to the share of Government the following deserve mention. Aid in the protection of cattle, lightening the burden of taxation, the abolition of the Arms Act, stopping the exportation of food grains in times of scarcity, the imposition of an export duty, the encouragement of Joint-Stock Companies, the extension of railways and irrigation works and the establishment of agricultural banks in Khásmahals. The tone of the book is excellent.	4477

Jan. 2nd	129	8vo dy	1st...	500	Printed.	1 0 0	The Author, 8-1, Káshi Ghosh's Lane, Calcutta.	A brief autobiography of Babu Kshetra Chandra Ghosh, a respectable and well educated native gentleman of Calcutta. The writer held a responsible post in a Government Office in Calcutta for a number of years and retired from the service on a good pension. The chief interest of the book consists in an account of certain supernatural phenomena which occurred in the author's own house and fully convinced him of the truth of the popular belief in the existence of ghosts and spirits.	3957

Nov. 21st	92	8vo rl	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	1 0 0	Navin Chandra Dás, M.A. Chittágong.	A very interesting note on the ancient geography of Asia, specially India, based on the descriptions found in the Rámá yana. The author attempts to identify, in the light of modern researches, the cities, rivers and mountains mentioned by Válmíki. The work is the outcome of much careful study and patient research, and is furnished with an interesting map of ancient India, shewing the route taken by the army of Ráma in its march to the island of Lanká.	3958

It is perhaps the same disease which raged in that place from 1823 to 1877. Imports.—During the week under report the importation of rice amounted to 282,370 cwts. against only 3,755 cwts. in the corresponding week of 1896. The contribution from Burma aggregated 246,063 cwts. and from the Straits Settlements 32,347 cwts. against nil in the corresponding period of last year. No rice was imported during the week from Balasore, but a small quantity (3,960 cwts. against nil in 1896) was received from Cocanada in Madras. Supplies of paddy and gram and pulses were practically drawn only from the ports of Cocanada and Rangoon. Natal is credited with an export of 2,625 cwts. of miscellaneous food-grains against nothing in the corresponding week of 1896.

Exports.—In the following statement the total quantity of each kind of food-grain exported by sea during the week ending 14th June 1897 is compared with the figures for the corresponding period of 1896:—

Foreign Ports.

The foregoing figures show a decrease of 52·93 per cent. in the exports of rice to foreign ports, viz., from 91,992 cwts. to 43,301 cwts. There were 297 cwts. of rice shipped for Trinidad, but nothing was sent to Demerara, the West Indies, Muscat, Hong-Kong, Straits Settlements, Turkey in Asia, or the United Kingdom, whereas the exports to these places in the second week of June 1896 aggregated 68,710 cwts. On the other hand, Mauritius, Cape Colony and Delagoa Bay received altogether 20,694 cwts. against nil in the same period of last year. The exports to Natal showed an advance of 3,785 cwts., and those to Ceylon a falling off of 5,230 cwts. The decline in the wheat trade was owing to the cessation of exports to the United Kingdom. As to gram and pulses, Mauritius imported 7,841 cwts. against nil in the corresponding week of last year, while the consignments to the United Kingdom fell off from 4,547 cwts. to merely 623 cwts. Mauritius also received a large quantity of miscellaneous food-grains (6,273 cwts.), but in 1896 there were no such imports.

Indian Ports.

As regards Indian ports, the chief fluctuations appear in the exports to Bombay, which is credited with only 997 cwts. of rice against 6,163 cwts. in the second week of June 1896, and which received no exports of gram or pulses during the period under review as against 4,135 cwts. in the corresponding week of last year.

Detailed statements showing the sources of supply and the places of destination, both as regards Foreign and Indian ports, are given below:—

Imports. During the week under review, the increase of 6,376 cwts. shown under imports was owing chiefly to larger supplies of rice sent to Chittagong from Burma, viz., 6,972 cwts. against only 550 cwts. in the corresponding period of 1896. The importation of "Other food-grains" into Balasore from Calcutta amounted to 388 cwts. against nil in the ten days of May 1896; Narayanganj imported no food-grains during the period.

Exports. As regards exports, the falling off amounted to 69·27 per cent., or 87,459 cwts. During the last ten days of May 1896, 42,162 cwts. of rice were exported from Cuttack to Mauritius and Columbo and 7,296 cwts. of rice and 1,025 cwts. of gram and pulses to Madras and Bombay, but during the period under review nothing was exported either to those places or elsewhere. The exports from Balasore showed a considerable falling off of 42,941 cwts., chiefly in the shipments of rice, paddy and gram and pulses to Calcutta. The increase of 6,109 cwts. under Chittagong is accounted for by larger consignments of rice carried to Columbo and Narayanganj.

Detailed statements showing the sources of supply and the places of destination, both as regards Foreign and Indian ports, are given below:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

o, overcast; g, gloomy; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; lr, lightning reflection.
